The BAPSTONIAN 1946

FOREWORD

The first issue of the BAPTSTONIAN comes off the press with two main contentions: namely, that a year book should contain a factual record of the year and its activities, and that such a record should be arranged in as pleasing a manner as possible. Concerning these points, the book must be its own witness.

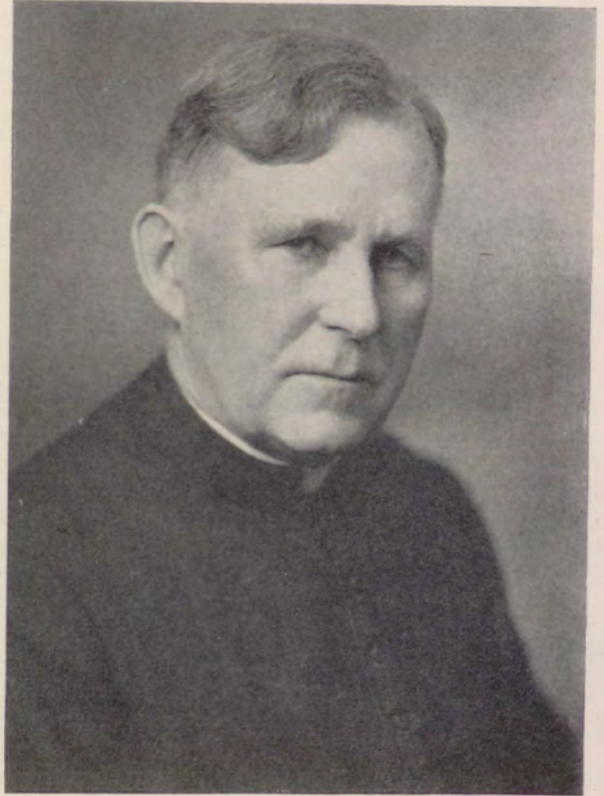

We have deliberately been sparing in our words. We did not want a volume that was a victim of verbosity; but, rather, one that would be concise, compact, and worthy of congratulation.

JOHN BAPST HIGH SCHOOL

RT. REV. MONSIGNOR THOMAS J. NELLIGAN

REV. JOHN F. NELLIGAN

DEDICATION

To the Rt. Rev. Monsignor Thomas J. Nelligan and the Rev. John F. Nelligan whose interest in our undertakings and achievements has ever been kindly and sympathetic, whom we cherish as reverend pastors, prudent counselors, staunch supporters and loyal friends, we, the Class of 1946, respectfully dedicate the "BAPTSTONIAN" as a mark of abiding gratitude for their kindness of the past and as a pledge of our fervent prayers that God may bless them for the future.

GREETINGS

In the eighteen years that John Bapst has been established, there have been five principals in the boys' department and three principals in the girls' department. The past principals were notified of the publishing of the BAPSTONIAN, and we are printing here their messages to the faculty and to the students. Sister Mary Florence, first principal of the girls' department, is now deceased. Sister Mary Callista is ill, and we did not think it wise to contact her at this time. We are thankful to these former heads at Bapst and wish them continued success in their respective occupations.

Dear Friends,

I am glad to know that the students of John Bapst High School are to issue a 1946 annual. Annuals are always commendable for they are reminiscences of pleasant school days and cherished friendships.

John Bapst students have always been loyal and devoted to their alma mater, to her traditions, and to the teachers, who have directed them through high school years.

Some of my fondest friendships have become even more estimable through a continual correspondence with the alumni and friends of John Bapst.

That the 1946 annual may be to the senior class a joyous and pleasant reminder of happy high school days is the sincere wish of

Yours devotedly,

BROTHER ADALBERT, C.F.X.

Dear Students of John Bapst,

It is with great pleasure that I learn of the progress John Bapst is making as a first rate Catholic High School. Your scholastic and athletic achievements have long been widely known. This year you have added journalism to your extra-curricula activities.

Congratulations to you on the success of your paper, THE CRUSADER. Such a publication can noticeably increase the spirit of your school, if you keep the paper honest, interesting, and inspirational.

Also best wishes for success in your new venture, your year book. The hard work you put into it will be amply repaid in later years when you go back over its pages, and relive the joyous days of your high school career.

Congratulations to the class of 1946 and may you ever live up to the ideals set for you at John Bapst!

BROTHER FLAVIAN, C.F.X.

Dear Students,

It is indeed a pleasure to send a message to the 1946 edition of the BAPSTONIAN. It is most natural that a former principal of John Bapst should retain a keen interest in all its activities. Distance from that institution cannot lessen one's affection for the nobility of its ideals; the passing of time cannot dim one's memory of its unique spirit. Any person who has had an intimate share in the life of John Bapst must treasure the happy memory of such an association.

God has indeed blessed John Bapst High during the years of its existence. It is with deep satisfaction that I observe the progress that has been made in the various fields of educational endeavor. It is with just pride that I note a constant strengthening of the spirit that is characteristic of John Bapst. It is with a feeling of gratitude that I see the lofty purposes of the founders of that institution being achieved by a faculty dedicated to the sublime aims of Catholic education.

To the members of the class of 1946, I offer my congratulations. May you be blessed with success in the place God has destined for you in life. May you exemplify in your lives the best traditions of John Bapst.

REV. THOMAS M. NELLIGAN

Greetings! May the yearbook serve to keep fresh the memory of the many happy and fruitful experiences of high school years!

BROTHER PASCAL, C.F.X.

BROTHER SAMUEL'S MESSAGE

The students who volunteered their time in the preparation of this ANNUAL wanted to give you a lasting souvenir of your school days at John Bapst. The pictures of your classmates will remind you of happy, congenial companionships; the group pictures, of school activities maintained and promoted for your social, physical and intellectual welfare. May the memories revived remain forever green; may they rejuvenate your spirit and strengthen your loyalty. We would not have it otherwise.

But more especially, we do want this ANNUAL to keep alive something more tangible and precious than mere scholastic and sporting activities. We want it to remind you in the uncertain years ahead of the Catholic traditions and truths which are your heritage and which you have been called upon to exemplify in your conduct. It was these abiding traditions and truths, so vitally necessary for your temporal and eternal peace and contentment that actuated your parents and coreligionists to build John Bapst High School. All other matters are transitory; the truths of religion are unchangeable and eternal. Unless you are faithful, then, to God and to His Commandments, unless you show and lead the way by virtuous living to men and women in darkness and doubt, you are untrue to your Christian heritage; the sacrifices of your priests and parents, your teachers and benefactors will be, insofar as you are concerned, wasted. Let this ANNUAL remind you of your solemn and sacred duty to win eternal salvation for yourself and to promote, by your example, the kingdom of God in the hearts of your fellowmen.

To the Graduates,

"Your day is here, Catholic women and girls. Public life needs you." These words of Our Holy Father, Pope Pius XII, spoken in an address to the Catholic women of Italy, are a challenge to every American girl. During your four years at John Bapst, you have learned the real meaning of womanhood, and the important part which woman has ever played in the history of mankind. Until recent years, it was generally agreed that the place of woman was in the home and nowhere else. Today, her place is indeed in the home, but circumstances have made it imperative for the modern woman to move into public life as well. It is your duty, then, as Catholic girls, and especially as graduates of a Catholic school, to take your rightful place in the world as it is today. The question is not that woman should abandon the home, but rather that she should be ready to combat the evils which threaten to destroy the sanctity of the home. You must, therefore, be aware of these evils. That is, you must be well-informed, intelligent Catholic women. Far from ending on graduation day, your education is just now beginning. The day is more fittingly called Commencement Day. To use once more the words of Our Holy Father, woman has today an intellectual and doctrinal mission, "to study and expound the place and role of woman in society, her rights and duties." Only after this study will Catholic women be ready to carry out their second mission, that of "direct action."

Your mission is a lofty one, Graduates of 1946. Under the guidance of Mary, the Perfect Woman, may you become real women, the "restorers of home, family and society".

SISTER MARY CARMEL T.

MYLES PHILIP McMANUS

Although Myles McManus was in Bapst but two years, there is a special reason why he should be singled out. Myles, a fine student and athlete, left John Bapst at the end of his sophomore year to study for the Xaverian Brotherhood at Saint Joseph's Juniorate in Peabody, Massachusetts. Since then, he has gone to the Sacred Heart Novitiate at Fortress Monroe, Virginia where he is drawing closer to his desired goal as a Brother of Saint Francis Xavier. We all know that it won't be long now, and we hope that some day he will be back at John Bapst on the other side of the desk!

IN MEMORIAM

Death has claimed the lives of three members of the class of 1946. In these pages we pay tribute to them and to the loved ones they left behind. They may not be with us, but they are not forgotten.

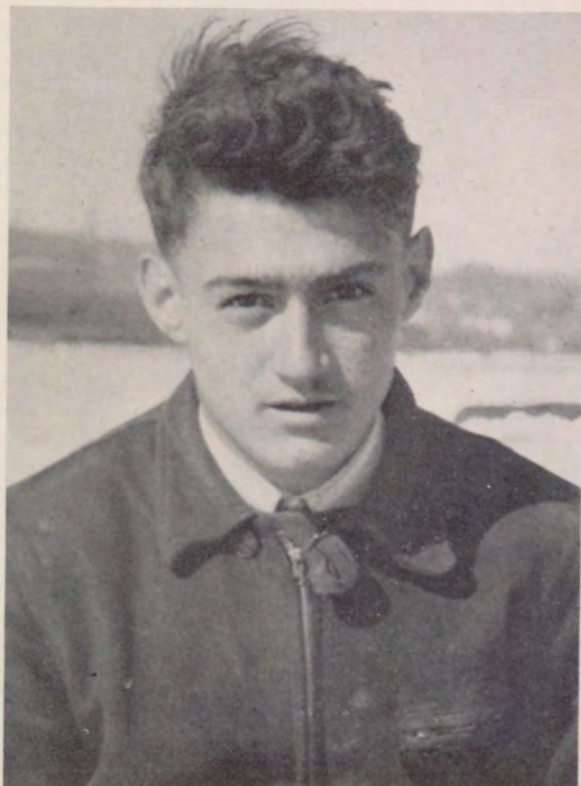

William Hathorne, a member of the academic course for three years, was fatally injured in an automobile crash in November. William was a popular student and a good scholar. Even though we miss him, we cannot help but envy him because he is now enjoying the happiness of Heaven.

Victor Mayo, a member of the academic class, was killed in the autumn of 1944 in a tragic hunting accident. A fine student and a well-liked person, Victor will always be remembered by his classmates who know that he is enjoying his eternal reward and praying for us here.

Eugene Ranks, a student at Bapst only a short time, left school to enter the U. S. Navy. Serving on a warship, he took part in several engagements before being killed in action in the late fall of 1944. Eugene was well-liked by all who knew him, and we know he will not go unrewarded for his courage and bravery.

EDITORIALS

The words contained in this section are the words of our two young editors. This is a literary interchange of lofty ideas, ideas that should be considered and cultivated.

BE TRUE

Now that we are about to leave John Bapst most of us will no longer be under the supervision of the religious teachers, Sisters and Brothers. Instead we shall be on our own, and it is up to us to take up where teachers left off. We have a precious gift in the Catholic religion, and it must not be lost. Our religious duties we must perform without the prompting of our teachers. If we have been instructed well, and we know we have, we will remain true Catholics and good citizens. We shall be tempted many times to deny our faith, but we should remember that the loss of wealth, power, and fortune are but trifling compared to the loss of our souls.

INTO THE SCHOOL OF LIFE

To everyone, everywhere, and at all times, the days of graduation are filled with some feeling of regret and with determination to do well in one's life work whether it be further study or employment. For years, the student has believed that the old life is over and a new life has begun. He thinks that the life of the student and the life in college or at work are widely different. However, the transition is not so abrupt as usual; the new life is but a continuation of what has gone on before. If the student applies himself to his studies and observes the discipline of the school, he will be well equipped to battle the problems of life. All the graduate must remember is that he should do the day's work as well as he can. He should benefit from the instruction he has received; that is, if he has been faithful in his school days.

The responsibilities of the student in high school are not great. It is afterwards that the graduate realizes the seriousness of life. He has been with those of his own age and not until he goes forth into the world does he meet the various kinds of people. Success will come if preparation has been sufficient. The future, to everyone, is unknown. It is only the present that matters. It is what we actually do that counts; not what we plan to do. One may have hopes and aspirations, but they avail nothing unless they are translated into deeds. The afternoon of graduation lengthens into the eve of life. School days that once seemed so long have become a memory, but the student will always treasure them as the basis for the great school of life.

THE NEW ALUMNI

As we, the class of nineteen hundred forty-six, leave forever the well-known walls of John Bapst, we must remember that we should always be true representatives and products of Catholic education. We are marked in a way that secular education cannot copy. Whatever we do, good or bad, will be but a reflection on our Catholic education. Thus we should not only be careful but proud of this reputation.

With our departure, we seniors are not cut off entirely from John Bapst. We have an Alumni Association which is for us. We should join and take an active part in it as others have. We should always be shining examples for the future Alumni to come.

SAVING

Many of us are planning to work this summer. How many of us, though, intend to save part of our earnings? Perhaps we've never pondered long enough on this thought. A great number of us plan to attend college. Wouldn't it be something to say that we contributed even a little bit toward our education? This is possible by putting away some of our pay each week. Naturally we should have an object in our saving. If we have no plans for college, surely every one of us has dreams of taking a real trip some day. Maybe we have a yen to go to South America, Paris, Italy or any other place which World War II has brought so vividly to our eyes. Remember that maroon convertible that fascinated us when the new cars came out this year? Well, it's ours if we save our money! By saving our money inflation, which is threatening the country, will be curbed. A very fine investment would be buying Victory Bonds. By buying bonds, we would have money in years to come. Let's take our jobs seriously this summer and save our money so that we may better prepare for the future that awaits us.

UNITED NATIONS ORGANIZATION

Formed only four short years ago, the United Nations Organization is today a growing and vital concern whose unknown lies ahead. Will it be a glowing monument to the willing cooperation of the nations of the world or will it, like the League of Nations, be but a broken house of ideals? The United Nations Organization has the advantages which the League lacked. With these encouragements, the UNO seems assured of success.

But even now the members upon whom the success of the Organization depends are fighting and quarreling among themselves, giving forth an air which bides no good. If this bickering among themselves goes too far, there will be little hope for success. The Great Powers and the Little Powers should, therefore, put aside their differences and work together. They must realize that this Organization is man's last chance for peace. They must either take it or leave it. We pray it will be the former!

GRADUATES

Concerning the seniors, and Graduation which they find so startlingly real and near, we can do no better than to quote a word from others who can say it better:

*“All the world’s a stage,
And all the men and women merely players.
They have their exits and their entrances . . .”*

CECILIA ELIZABETH ALBERT
"They that govern most make least noise."

Cecilia came to Bapst from Winn two years ago. Her sweet and unaffected manner has won for her a host of friends. This fact was proven when Cecilia was elected treasurer of the senior class. She has always been too busy to attend social functions because of her weekend excursions to her hometown, Winn. May success always be yours, Cecilia.

RUSSELL LEO BAKER
"In his tongue is the law of kindness."

An eager advocate of the outdoor life, Rusty has nevertheless found plenty of time to keep up in his studies. Rusty has kept us all interested with his hunting experiences and has seldom come from a trip empty-handed. With his pole-vaulting, he gained many points in the P. V. C. track meets. A future banker, he'll probably cash our checks some day.

BARBARA ANNE BARTON
"Silence is golden."

In her quiet and unassuming manner, Barbara has won for herself a host of friends. As Romeo goes with Juliet so Barb and Mary Ryder have been inseparable during their high school career. Barbara was president of the class during her junior year and has consistently been on the honor roll. Good luck, Barb; we know a rosy future awaits you.

ROBERT LOUIS BARRY
"Let thy words be few."

Bobby has been our class golf enthusiast and once started on the subject there has been nothing that could stop him. Despite this great liking for golfing, he has not let it interfere with his scholastic duties. Always eager to help, Bobby has been able to render information on practically any subject. Bobby's plans are for higher education.

CORINNE CHARLENE
 BONNEAU

"Whose little body lodged a mighty mind."

As the saying goes, the best things come in small packages. We think that Connie is one of those "best things". Connie has taken part in school activities and has been interested in all class affairs. Connie has been a member of the school orchestra for three years, displaying her talents on the piano. A prosperous future beckons you, Connie!

ROBERT WILLIAM
 BRANGWYNNE, JR.

"A merry heart makes a cheerful countenance."

Always cheerful and a willing worker, Butch has been active in everything. Although not too tall, his aggressiveness and courage in all sports have gained him the respect and admiration of all. A fine scholar, he is one to whom Bapst can point with pride. Whatever he does, one may be sure he will always live up to John Bapst standards.

CHARLENE LUCIA BROCHU
"Women of few words are the best women."

Charlene took part in the Dramatic Club's production "Shubert Alley" during her junior year, and has served as secretary of the Dramatic Club this year. We wonder if the "cafe" will survive next year without Charlene as its expert cashier. Charlene's future can't help but be rosy with her pleasant manner and even disposition.

WILFRED JOSEPH BROOKS
"Virtue is indeed its own reward."

Brooksie is an easy going fellow but, unlike most of that type, he can always be counted upon to do his share and do it well. His pensive character is emblematic of his whole personality. His name has consistently appeared on our honor roll. It is with complete confidence that we predict his success in the college days ahead of him.

FRANCES MARTHA BROCHU
"And still the wonder grew that one small head could carry all she knew."

Frances measures all of five feet one. Alertness and agility are her trademarks. During her senior year, Frances has been secretary of her class and a zealous worker in the cafeteria. There is never a dull moment with Frances around, and her quickness has had the whole class astounded. We are certain that success will accompany all her endeavors.

HELENE MARIE CAMERON
"From every blush that kindles in thy cheeks to revel in the roses."

Helene has been our bubble of serenity for four years. A diminutive lass of peaceful and ladylike composure, Helene enjoys people as much as they enjoy her. She has been our promotor of good will and is always trying to relieve someone of worries. Her gentle laughter has proved to be her salient point. Helene has always been serious at study and merry at play and is secretary bound.

INEZ LOUISE COMER
"An ounce of mirth is worth a pound of sorrow."

Inez is a born optimist and refuses to worry about the daily problems of life. She has traveled around during her high school career in a casual and easy-going manner. Inez has always been at ease and is the keeper of a placid disposition. At all times she is willing to take a back seat and watch. Inez's goal is the business world.

DORINDA ELIZABETH
 CONNELLY
"The little sweet doth kill much bitterness."

The prefect of St. John's Sodality is symbolic of the greatness of this society. Affability and complacency accompany her every work. Dorinda has been an honor student throughout her four years at Bapst. She has gained many friends through her charming and lady-like ways. Life can't help but be good to one of its best products.

FREDERICK GERARD DAIGLE
"Believe that you have and you have it."

Freddy has spent much of his time in class being quiet. However, when he has said something, it has been worthy of note. Never having very much trouble with scholastic affairs, Freddy has always managed to come through on examinations. Freddy plans to enter business college when he graduates. We are wishing him success there.

ALPHONSE JOSEPH
 DESROSIERS

"Mind moves matter."

Punch has shown football enthusiasts what really can be done with 175 pounds of brawn and determination. A three year varsity man in football, he has proven himself to be an able linesman. Punch possesses that certain something that distinguishes all our Bradley boys and makes them the grand people that they are.

DANIEL FRANCIS
 FLANAGAN, JR.

"Education makes the man."

Dan, as we all know, is the unsung hero who has kept the Bapst athletic equipment together. At every game, one has seen Dan doing his job quickly and efficiently. Every pause was a time for Dan to shine. Always on the go, Dan plans to remain active at the Maine Maritime Academy. Our best wishes go out to this quiet and capable manager.

RICHARD FRANCIS FORD
"Opinion in good men is but knowledge in the making."

Dick can justly be tagged our class jester. Always ready to make classes interesting with his quick wit and good humor, he has won for himself a host of friends at Bapst. Dick has filled a different class office each year, and he has served well in each. He plans to become a veterinarian, and we're wishing him best of luck in his profession.

MARY JOAN CUSHMAN
"Her frowns are fairer far than smiles of other maidens are"

The girl with rippling laughter is our own Mary Joan. Alert at all times, words and laughter come easily to her. Mirth is her constant companion. Aside from her gaiety she lends many minutes to the serious problems of life. When things appear dull, Mary Joan can always furnish pep in large quantities. Our classroom wouldn't have been complete without her.

JOAN GENEVIEVE DAVITT
"Joy rises on her, like a summer's morn."

Joan came to us from Garland Street Junior High and has lived no end room 207 with an account of amusing incidents that could only happen to her. Her interest is all in the school and she has never failed to lend assistance when it has been needed the most. Bapst will certainly miss the spirited personality of Joan.

GERTRUDE MARY DOWE
"Friendship is the chain of gold shaped in God's all perfect mold."

Gertrude has been perhaps one of the most serious girls in the class of 1946. She has attended Bapst for two years and has been a silent but vital addition. Unobtrusive and generous, she has blended in a shy manner with her classmates. Gertrude can always be depended upon to perform the smallest task cheerfully. Good luck is what we are wishing for you, Gertrude.

ELLEN ISABELLE DUDDY
"With the smile that was child-like and bland."

Our own bundle of personality and vitality gave her all as leader of the cheerleading squad this year. Ellen has taken major parts in the Dramatic Club's productions during her junior and senior years. Her cheery disposition and sunny manner have been well in her favor. Ellen's weaknesses are green convertibles and black sedans.

HERBERT FRANCIS HARDY
"Nothing great was ever achieved without enthusiasm."

Sincere in everything he has done, Herby's willingness to learn and his determination to succeed have won him the respect of all his classmates. A varsity football player, he came all the way from Great Pond to attend Bapst. Herby has sailed through all his subjects near the top of the class. He plans to enter college engineering after receiving his diploma.

THOMAS RAYMOND HOGAN
"Speech is great, but silence is greater."

John Bapst won't be the same without Ray's infectious grin. Always with a smile on his face, Ray seldom lets gloom overtake him. Never has he worried except possibly before a test. Ray hopes to enter business college if the Navy doesn't need him. He'll get there even if he is a little late. We of 1946 just know that he will.

JAMES LOUIS JAMESON
"Silence is the prefectest herald of joy."

Now we meet the smallest member of 4A, little Louis. Small maybe, but he's made it work to his advantage. Never letting his size hinder him, Louis has taken active part in intramural basketball with more than mediocre success. After he graduates, Louis plans to enter college. Knowing Louis, we know he'll do his best for John Bapst.

DONALD JOSEPH KING
"A sound mind in a sound body."

Fuzzy is our class valedictorian. He has been tops in all studies during these four long years. A class officer every year, Don also played in the school orchestra. There are two things in particular that we shall remember about Fuzzy, and they are his uncanny ability to solve every type of problem imaginable and his willingness to help those who needed help.

ANN FORD

"Her wit, her mirth, her smile are all beknown."

Brewer's contribution to Bapst is Ann. She has only been with us one year, but during that time she manifested her dramatic ability by taking part in the Dramatic Club's production, "Shiny Nose." Quick and determined in every action, Ann never ponders a subject too long at a spell. Constant anxiety is ever surrounding her, and she definitely is an enthusiast for life and fun.

HERESA VALENTINE
GALLANT

"The soul of man is larger than the sky."

Theresa has been our practical miss with the quiet nature and unruffled poise, an aid in any classroom. She is one of those rare persons who is an ever-willing listener. She has often been caught day-dreaming, dreams of her future which she keeps to herself. Her friendly voice is a welcome part of her and will continue to be so "per saecula".

FRANCES ANTOINETTE
HAMEL

"Faith builds a bridge from this world to the next."

Frances contributes all of her time and energy trying to put Milford on the map. Warm-hearted and charitable at all times, her imperturbable spirit is never moved. Her every effort has been put forth in all her undertakings, aiming always at the highest. Her radiating friendliness is cherished and admired and will be long remembered by all her classmates.

GWENDOLYN MARIE JANSSON

"Her voice was ever soft and low, an excellent thing in a woman."

Next we present the president of the Dramatic Club. Through the capableness and efficiency of Gwen, the club has lived up to its standards of the previous year. Gwen has been an energetic worker on the advertising staff of The Crusader as well as on the yearbook. Her reticent and appealing manner has been a welcome asset to the class of 1946.

GERALD CHARLES KING

"That load becomes light when cheerfully borne."

Our class president for three years, Jerry was sparkling on our football team for the same number of seasons and will always be remembered for the pass he tossed to beat Bangor in the final seconds of the 1944 game. A friend without equal, a classmate beyond compare, and generally a swell guy . . . that's Jerry.

VIRGIL RUSSELL KING

"Ambition is the growth of every climb."

One of the best liked persons in the class, Virgil will always be remembered for the part he played as "Dudley" in the Dramatic Club's presentation of "Pampered Darling." A born actor, Virgil has played a prominent part in school dramas. Virgil is still in the throes of decision concerning his life work.

ALFRED GEORGE LEAVITT

"There is no wisdom like frankness."

Al came to us from New York during our junior year and immediately proved that he was to give the leaders in the class a run for their money. His name has consistently appeared on the honor roll. Al plans to enter college, and we are all hoping that he will gain the top honors for which he is so well prepared.

RICHARD JOSEPH MARTIN

"Great is truth and mighty."

Dick has been a true leader in every activity he undertook. A four year man of varsity football, he captained the 1945 team. Dick has further proved his leadership prowess as chairman of the Student Council, president of the J. B. Club, and treasurer of the class. Dick is a licensed pilot and plans to enter the Air Corps after graduation.

PAULINE LOUISE JOHNSON
"All nature wears one universal grin."

How can we ever forget those starry blue eyes of Pauly? Her merry laughter has been a definite asset to room 207. Pauline has the special knack of being able to see the humorous side of things without losing sight of the serious. She has always been an answer to every teacher's prayer. Pauly's ability to get more than one lesson done during study period has been the envy of all.

GLORIA DELPHINE LUCKEY
"Self-trust is the just secret of success."

Brisk, dashing and cheerful, Gloria always has a lively song in her heart and a pleasing smile on her lips. Her famous truck has been the envy of the entire senior class. Its characteristic rattle has had everybody astounded. She has been fortunate in being gifted with a well-rounded disposition. Her jovial nature will definitely be missed.

SHIRLEY ANN MADORE
"Early to bed and early to rise makes a woman healthy, wealthy and wise."

Shirley is one of our representatives from Bradley and is proud of it. Only words of praise are allowed to be uttered about Bradley in her presence. Not that we would want to speak otherwise! Shirley has been a willing worker during her school career and welcomes the latest enterprises with open arms. She rarely worries or frets and believes in taking things in their stride.

MARY CAROLYN MANN
"Blushing is the colour of virtue."

Carolyn has the remarkable ability to get things done at the last minute. She very seldom worries and has made laughing a perpetual habit which becomes her greatly. She has displayed her vim and vigor by being a cheerleader, and she has never let the team down. Carolyn aspires to a successful business career. May she find happiness along that line.

TERRENCE CHARLES
 McALOON

"Let us be merry."

Now meet Terry, always with a quizzical look on his freckled face. However, don't let this fool you. Behind that look lies a merry personality. Although Terry has been at Bapst only two years, he has participated in varsity football and basketball. After he gets his diploma, Terry plans to enter college. Here's power to you, Terry.

JOHN EDWARD MCCARTHY
"The price of wisdom is above riches."

Johnny has been one of the most talented boys in our class. During his freshman year, he participated in debates and the declamation contest, and as a junior he played an important role in the Dramatic Club play, "The Song of Bernadette." Johnny plans to enter business college next fall, and we are confident of his success in this.

CLIFTON WILFORD MOORS
"All things are in common among friends."

One of the quietest in the class, Clif has been, nevertheless, one of the most friendly of us all. A friend to all, he is the kind of boy that John Bapst is proud to have enrolled. Clif hails from Bradley, and he plans to go to college this fall. We feel certain he'll do as well on the campus as he did here at Bapst.

ROBERT DANIEL MORAN
"Everyone is the architect of his own fortune."

Bob is a person upon whom you can always depend for support. No favor is too small or too large for him to do. His ranks prove that he is a student of rare ability and one of whom Bapst will hear much in the years to come. After completing his studies at Bapst, Bob plans to take courses in business administration.

FLORENCE LORRAINE

"The secret of success is constancy of purpose."

Florence worked on The Crusader as its News Editor and was on the staff of the yearbook. She came to Bapst during her junior year and participated in all school affairs. Consistent in her every endeavor and eager to attempt anything new, Florence can cope with any situation that might arise. We know Florence will find the success she seeks in the business world.

LOUISE EMERLINE McGRATH
"Truth is as impossible to be soiled by any outward touch as the sunbeam"

Louise is a likeable girl probably because of her cute little giggle. Her beautiful bright hair is also a main attraction. We all think that she is swell. She needs no introduction, for everyone knows her for her whimsical jokes. Louise is also one of the fastest typists in her class. Louise has succeeded in keeping her ambition to herself.

ROSE VIRGINIA McNALLY
"Labor conquers all things."

This dark-haired wonder is the envy of all. She always finds time to get her homework done on time, and her hand is the first to go up in most of the classes. Rose is class vice-president, and she was chosen the first of the year as one of the outstanding seniors. Rose has always been willing to help her friends with their short-hand lessons.

BARBARA JANE NELLIGAN
"Content to follow when we lead the way."

Her smile is the essence of vitality. Barb has the ability to accomplish more before school than any other member of the class. Much of her time has been spent at Newberry's jerking sodas. On rare occasions, she treats us with a rendition of popular songs in a voice only Barb could possess. Good luck to you, Barbara, as you travel toward the bright horizon that awaits you.

JAMES EDWARD O'BRIEN, JR.
"A merry heart doeth good like a medicine."

Whenever there is fun or joking, there one can be sure to find Brother. Always with a smile on his face and a quip on his lips, Brother often upsets everyone's equilibrium with his timely remarks. Not slack as a scholar, he plans to study Electrical Engineering. The best of luck is what we wish for you, Brother.

ARTHUR CHARLES PROVOST
"Studies change into habits."

Art has probably been one of the most dependable boys in our class and has always been able to do whatever was assigned him. Never to be counted in the lower half of the class, Art proved himself to be a scholastic leader. A true friend and classmate, we are wishing him the successful future that he undoubtedly deserves.

JOSEPH FRANCIS RICE
"All good things come in small packages."

To Joe goes the undisputed honor of being the smallest boy in the class. The one creed to which he has adhered while at Bapst is that all points above 70 are wasted, and Joe isn't one to be extravagant! His outstanding characteristics are his good nature and his ability to take a joke as well as tell one.

DONALD EDWARD RICHARDS
"Patience is a necessary ingredient of genius."

Our class newsman, Gabby has held an afternoon job with the Bangor Daily Commercial during his four years at Bapst. Although a quiet boy, Gabby is well-liked as evidenced by the fact that he served as class vice-president his sophomore year and president his junior year. Gabby plans to serve with the army after his graduation.

DAISY MAE NICHOLS
"The more I see of other countries, the more I like my own."

New York has lent us Daisy during her high school days only, for she intends to complete her education at a New York college. Daisy's voice is one of the things for which we particularly remember her. She entertains us on certain occasions with interesting tales of her former home. We are confident you will reach your goal, Daisy.

MARY ALICE O'LEARY
"For she is a gem among women."

We give you now Alice, our salutatorian and class president. Alice is one of those rare individuals who can love life to the fullest participate in all school and social activities, and still lead her class scholastically. She is loved and envied by all. Alice has starred in dramatics and speaking and has been assistant editor of The Crusader and co-editor of the Bapstonian.

MADLINE VALERIE PARADY
"Thy soul was like a star, pure as the naked heaven, majestic and free."

Madeline, our little miss from Old Town, came to Bapst during her sophomore year. She is famous for her agile answers and can always be depended upon for some retort. She and Leona made a twosome campaigning for the sale of Victory stamps. Our capable Madeline has leanings toward the nursing career. We know she'll reach the top!

NADINE MARIE PELLETIER
"God's rarest blessing is, after all, a good woman."

Nadine is our black-haired, petite miss who takes life casually and enthusiastically accepts new ideas. She has been capable of adapting herself to any situation and was gifted with a sweet, soothing voice which she employs much too rarely. Nadine has a yen toward the domestic life. Dancing is her choicest manner of relaxation, but Nadine definitely takes time out for serious thoughts.

DONALD IGNATIUS ROGERS
"All the world loves a lover."

When Don came to Bapst, he brought along with him two significant characteristics. The first was his natural love for things nautical and the second his natural love for things feminine. He is always eager to help, even if it means sacrificing a class period! Don has been a true friend, and we know he'll succeed in his various enterprises.

ALFRED EDWARD SHEEHAN
"Knowledge itself is power."

Al, as we all know him, has been the class orator. Always ready for an argument, Al has made his mark in the three D's: debates, declamation, and dramatics. Al has always been a busy chap, and it has been difficult to keep up with him. A good student, Al plans to enter college when he graduates. We all wish him success.

NEIL HAROLD SMITH
"Did not our heart hum within us while he talked with us?"

Now meet one of Bapst's busiest personalities. Smitty was always selling something. Selling tickets for the games has been his chief job, one which he did efficiently and well. Despite his many duties, he has been way up there when the ranks have been passed out. Smitty knows what he wants, and what he wants is mechanical dentistry. We'll be pulling for you!

THOMAS DERMOTT TRAINER
"Consistency, thou art a jewel."

Tommy has been our number two man in academics, and he has found time to play basketball and baseball. Besides being captain of our championship basketball team, he has proved himself to be a true champion on the court, on the diamond, and in the classroom. We are wishing him all the luck in the world in his aspirations towards the medical profession.

ELEANOR THERESE POLYOT

"Oh, you flavor everything; you are the vanilla of society."

Like her inseparable twin, Eleanor has been a member of the cheerleading squad and has been a zealous booster of all sports. Joyful and lively, Eleanor has lived many activities at school, always introducing the humorous side. Of course, she is serious when the time demands it and is cooperative in every respect. Her road will be sunny.

ELLEN-MARIE POLYOT

"She is pretty to walk with and witty to talk to."

Ellen-Marie has been one of our sparkling cheerleaders for two years. She has worked on the advertising staffs of The Crusader and The Bapstonian, and has taken an active part in school programs. Her willingness to help and to ease difficult situations stand out as her principal qualities. The essence of kindness is predominant in Ellen-Marie.

ELIZABETH JANE POOLER

"Actions speak louder than words."

Jane is vice-president of the Dramatic Club and served as stage manager for two of its productions. Madame Currie might have been famous in the nineteenth century, but Jane heads the list of scientists now! Her ambition is to be a laboratory technician. Beyond a doubt, Jane's voyage to success will be a smooth one.

MARGARET DOROTHY RANKIN

"Her heart is true as steel."

Calm and serene, Dot is one of Hampden's finest products. All during the school year, she has faithfully checked the attendance slip in 207. Dot has been conscientious in her every undertaking, from the simplest to the most difficult. The honor roll has never been complete without her name. Success is yours, Dot, no matter what field you choose.

HUGH FRANCIS WHITTY

"Nothing is impossible to a valiant heart."

You can always tell when Hugh is approaching by the pipe in his mouth. Noted for his pleasing personality, Hugh has taken part each year in the entertainment for the reunion. Hugh has been working afternoons in a local confectionery store, and we know he is amassing invaluable experience and knowledge for the business which he hopes to have one day.

EDWARD JULES WILLETT

"The horn of the hunter is heard on the hill."

Ed has traveled from Old Town each morning for the past four years in order to attend John Bapst. A true woodsman, each fall Ed has invited his fellow classmates on weekend hunting trips. Those who have attended all vouch for his excellent hospitality. From what we know of him, Al will have little trouble making his mark in the world.

FRANCIS ALBERT WILLETT, JR.

"Wisdom and goodness are twin born."

A cousin to Ed, Al, too, has come all the way from Old Town each morning. Al started Bapst as an academic, but changed in his sophomore year for the opportunities of the commercial course. Appealing earnestness and sincerity have accompanied Al through his years at Bapst. We are certain that with these noble traits he will bring due honor to John Bapst.

MARY CECILIA RYDER

"True humility, the highest virtue, mother of them all."

Here we have Mary, the gem of the class of 1946. Mary has been a quiet but appreciative bystander of all school activities. She has astonished all the girls in speech class. Mary and Barbara Barton are noted for their lengthy conversations whenever the time is opportune. Mary is still undecided concerning the path she will follow for the future.

VIOLA BIRDELL
ST. GERMAIN

"There's the humor of it."

Viola, better known as "Shorty" or "Vi", has been one of the little things that add so much to a school. Viola is famous for her sense of humor and dry wit. Instead of taking an active part in school affairs, she has been content to be a quiet and appreciative listener. Her plans for the future are rather indefinite at the present time.

CHARLOTTE ELIZABETH
SMITH

"Often faltery feet come surest to the goal."

Charlotte came to us from Winterport. Every morning the girls scramble to her desk to see how Flash Gordon is making out, for Charlotte always has the Bangor Daily News with her. The paper has certainly been well advertised through her. Charlotte has supported all extra-curricular activities and has always been dependable and helpful.

LEONA MAE SILVER
"Ornament of a meek and quiet spirit."

Simplicity and consistency are her traits. Leona's vivid brown eyes and ever-ready smile are well in her favor. A firm advocate of the Victory Stamp sale, Leona religiously canvassed the classrooms every Tuesday. She is a staunch citizen of Brewer and patron of the bus-line. Leona's leanings are toward a college education.

GERALDINE FRANCES SPROUL
"Her voice was propertied as all the tuned spheres."

Geraldine, the so-called "voice", has added much happiness to the school by entertaining at various socials during the scholastic year. Her renditions of the popular songs can't be beaten. Calm and composed, she has been a shining figure in the classroom, always willing to do her share. She has leanings toward the business world.

BARBARA JEAN STOCKWELL

"Be silent or let thy words be worth more than silence."

This quotation well applies to Jean, one of our quiet seniors of 207. Many of her afternoons have been spent behind the counter at Fowler's Drug Co. Jean has taken an interest in all school affairs, but prefers to be an onlooker than an actual participant. Nursing is the career that Jean is anticipating. We know success is hers.

BOYS' CLASS HISTORY

On Tuesday morning, September 8, 1942, sixty smiling boys dressed in their Sunday clothes entered John Bapst High School for the first time as freshmen. From that day on, we underwent the subtle transformation from just a bunch of kids to high school students under the surveillance of Brother Luke, C.F.X. and Brother Medard, C.F.X. Their most difficult job was to harness us to the routine life of John Bapst, to teach us to account for our actions, and to help us learn self-discipline. The hours of punishment awarded us for late-comings and misdeeds remain one of our most painful memories. But our teachers, though strict at times, were fair. After a month of our new life as freshmen, we were nearly all acquainted and we easily saw a few forging to the front in academics. Being freshmen was fine, but we still longed for the happy day when we would become seniors.

Freshman year went by quickly, and we found ourselves sophomores the following September. As sophomores, under the guidance of Brother Canice, C.F.X. and Brother Martinian, C.F.X., we took a more active part in the school activities and some of us slowed down a little scholastically in order to get full enjoyment of the new social life. Study periods were spent without too much ambition. The many themes required in English kept our literary ambitions to the front as we tried to prove to Brother Medard that we really were literary masters. Some members of our class became prominent on the football and basketball teams, while others mastered the arts of speech and debate.

Many changes took place before we gathered again for our junior year. Many had departed to serve in the armed forces and for various reasons, varying from academic deficiency to physical disability, some left the class of 1946. A few changed courses when they learned they were better suited for the opposite course. Those who were left, however, were guided by Brother Victor, C.F.X. and Brother Leo Francis, C.F.X. as homeroom teachers. Our lessons became more difficult as we delved into the mysteries of chemistry, shorthand, book-keeping, and aeronautics. We learned, too, that we had actors in our midst when several members of our class did so well in that grand Dramatic Club presentation of THE SONG OF BERNADETTE. Social highlights of the year were the Dramatic Club Formal and our own Junior Prom at which time John Mooney was crowned as our king. We selected and received our class rings and before we realized it, our junior year was over and we were about to become the school kings as members of the senior class.

The long awaited moment had arrived. After three years of work and anticipation, we entered school in the fall of 1945 as seniors. The world was at peace, and we no longer had to fear the armed forces whisking away our classmates. Thirty-four boys emerged victorious over the straight and narrow path of freshman, sophomore, and junior years and accepted the exalted position of John Bapst plutocrats with Brother Dennis Joseph, C.F.X. as our adviser. We soon discovered that our responsibilities were great. We formed a Senior Council to instill order in the more than two hundred underclassmen, and we received the praise of the faculty for our efforts. Studies were not over, however, and we found it more difficult than ever to concentrate on our lessons, but we knew they had to be done as we all found different ways to get a passing mark and complete the last lap of the race to receive our diplomas. As the number of days dwindled down, we began to realize that we would soon be leaving John Bapst and entering the world of good Catholics and good Americans. Now June 16, 1946 is almost here, that day toward which we have been moving since the fall of 1942. It will be a new kind of feeling that we shall experience upon graduation, one of our hard-earned achievements, anxious to venture forth to the outside world, yet reluctant about leaving our four-year home. It will be that sort of feeling that brings a lump to the throat, but the lump will be welcome because it will be what we have worked for these years—graduation!

Some of us will leave Bapst to settle down and be married, others will enter the peacetime army, while the rest will strive for a higher education level in the various colleges and universities of the land. But no matter what we choose as our profession in life, we shall all try to fulfill our religious and civic obligations as graduates of John Bapst High School.

GIRLS' CLASS HISTORY

A priceless heritage is being left for the annals of the glorious and immortal pages of the history of John Bapst by those priceless seniors of the class of 1946. The word "priceless" may be interpreted the way the seniors themselves would prefer it or it may, and probably will, be interpreted the way the students who are in the know about the seniors would prefer it. But in order to be just, we shall present the case in a simple, sincere, and upright manner that is so characteristic of each and every senior.

The September of 1942 found a good representation of both commercial and classical students ready to start the high school term by willingly accepting the homework assigned by Sister Mary Dolorosa and Sister Mary Raymond, homeroom teachers. These green freshmen quickly took up the high school tradition so thoughtfully left to them by yesterday's seniors. Scholastically, traditions were upheld by the brain of the class, Mary Alice O'Leary. Shirley Madore turned on her speaking ability during this term. The freshmen outdid the seniors in a war stamp drive, and we were treated to a party by them. It was during this first year that we new students got a taste of the guillotine treatment commonly referred to as midyears.

The next September found our class with a few newly acquired personages most earnestly interested in furthering their education. This was the year that Caesar played such an important part in the lives of Sister Mary Loyola's sophomore classicals while Sister Mary Eulalia's school loyalty and Stearns' visitors left the commercial girls happy.

We now advance to the year '44-'45 where we find the girls busy sewing miniature vestments as a Religion project. Ellen-Marie Polyot represented the junior class on the cheerleading squad while Gwendolyn Jansson became queen of the Junior Prom. The girls' pride was justified when Mary Alice O'Leary was chosen to represent the school in the Constitution contest. During this year our school days were made more illustrious by the arrival of Miss Profita. A Dramatic Club was organized, and its first presentation was the renowned play, THE SONG OF BERNADETTE. The girls worked extra hard during their junior year to satisfy the wants of Sister Mary Raymond and Sister Mary Pius.

The following year was the fulfillment of all dreams. Seniors at last! The first day, Sister Mary Teresita and Sister Mary Monica greeted the eager girls. A new school paper, THE CRUSADER, was issued, and the seniors were represented; in fact, they were practically the brains, but that is for you to judge. The cheerleading squad was led by Ellen Duddy with Carolyn Mann, Eleanor and Ellen-Marie Polyot helping out to the best of their lung capacity. During the month of November, Frances Brochu finally summoned enough courage and spoke at an assembly, while Pauline Johnson made the librarian search every nook and corner trying to decide whether Henry Clay was born in 1777 or 1776. This year also brought to John Bapst Sister Mary Carmel who was named principal of the Girls' Department succeeding Sister Mary Callista who had served faithfully in that post. Sister Carmel proved to be a most progressive and wonderful individual and a delightful disciplinarian. Under the excellent guidance of Sister Carmel a delightful Mother-Daughter tea was held in April.

Leaving these few indelible thoughts on your minds, the class of 1946 bids a fond farewell to the other classes reminding them that the top is not reached by a single bound but via a ladder that is mounted rung by rung.

BOYS' CLASS PROPHECY

As we turn our radar controlled chronometer toward the year 1960, we find many new developments in this atomic age of the future. Our assignment being to locate all John Bapst graduates of the class of 1946, we go immediately to Robert Barry, National Open Golf Champion, who has kept in constant contact with all members of the class. Bob first tells us that his bosom schoolboy friend, Don Rogers, retired from twelve years of sea duty, is spending most of his time in the night club he recently opened in Bangor. Al Sheehan is his doorman and chief bouncer, having gained much valuable experience from his days at the Opera House, while John McCarthy is master of ceremonies at the evening entertainments. Bob tells us that we can seek further information from Don Richards, Managing Editor of the Commercial. Arriving at the Commercial office, we sight Louis Jameson who is the head of the advertising department there. Louis takes us in to see Mr. Richards who tells us that news of three forty-sixers is appearing in the evening edition. Buying the paper, we first read that Dick Martin, world famous test pilot, has just flown the atomic powered jet plane, AJ-46, to a record speed of 1,946 miles per hour. Next we notice that Robert Moran, representative to Congress from the third Maine district, has announced that he will be a candidate for Governor at the next election. Turning to the sport section, we see that Coach Bill Rivers has just piloted his John Bapst Crusader basketball team to its third consecutive New England championship.

Leaving the Commercial, we walk down Main Street where we notice the Smith Dental Laboratories which, we learn, are operated by Neil Smith, noted dental technician. We also pass the Professional Building which houses the offices of Dr. Virgil L. King, DDS; Dr. Thomas D. Trainer, M. D.; and Dr. Richard F. Ford, DVM. We also pass the firm of McAloon, Hardy and O'Brien, contracting engineers who have recently drawn up the plans for the erection of a huge new auditorium for the city of Bangor. We continue on and at the top of State Street hill we see Joe's Fish Market which is operated by Joe Rice. Just next door, we stop in at Whitty's Delicatessen where we can easily see that Hugh Whitty is proprietor of one of the most modern delicatessens in the state.

Returning to John Bapst, we learn that Al Desrosiers is head football coach while he teaches French as a sideline and that Freddy Daigle, Bangor businessman, has just been named president of the Alumni Association. While in the office, Bob Brangwynne, noted sports columnist, enters to interview the basketball champs. Bob tells us that two other members of the class of 1946 are in the world of sports. These are Russ Baker and Ed Willett who have established themselves as two of the best hunting and fishing guides in the state of Maine.

Our next stop is at the University of Maine where we find Clifton Moors is an instructor in French Essay. We also learn that Alfred Leavitt is head of the Language Department and instructor in Latin composition. We find, too, that Donald King has established a fine record for himself as Dean of the College of Technology. Continuing on to Old Town, we are very much surprised to see the newly established Gross and Hogan Trust Company which is operated by George Gross and Raymond Hogan who live in Bangor but run their business in the Canoe City. Coming from the bank, we are stopped by Albert Willett, president of the Penobscot Fibre Company, where asbestos suits are made for rocket ship pilots. Al tells us that Gerald King may resign his post as City Manager and accept an offer from Holy Cross to coach football there.

On the return trip to Bangor, we notice that Wilfred Brooks has opened a huge scientific farm at Veazie, and Arthur Provost operates the Provost Motor Company where all makes of airplanes are sold and repaired. In Bangor we look up Dan Flanagan who is at the present time general manager of the New England offices of the Coca-Cola Bottling Plants. Thus we leave the class of 1946 in its successes and triumphs in this atomic year of 1960.

GIRLS' PROPHECY

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Ten years have elapsed since the graduation of the class of 1946. The boys and girls, now matured men and women, have ascended the road of life and have chosen definite paths to follow. Frances Brochu, class secretary, has compiled a few notes and has made startling discoveries regarding the whereabouts of the members of the class.)

Barbara Barton whose compositions had the class spellbound is now writing professionally for the Ladies' Home Journal. Ellen-Marie Polyot, the first lady referee, has opened a gymnasium for women in Brewer. She also gives boxing lessons. The beauty parlor operated by Charlene Brochu and Leona Silver is doing famously under their expert guidance. Helene Cameron, once employed at Woolworth's, is the present owner and has enlarged the store as far as Liggett's Drug Co. Ellen Duddy, former dazzling cheerleader, is superintendent of the Rest Home in Brewer. We all remember Pauline Johnson's aspirations toward the world of science; she is now laboratory technician at her alma mater, the University of Maine. Garland Street Pharmacy, one of the most interesting places in Bangor as far as Mary Joan Cushman and Carolyn Mann are concerned, has been renovated into the Cushman-Mann Cut-Rate for men only. Eleanor Polyot has finally graduated from ticket sales girl to secretary of the M.&P. Theatres, Inc. Joan Davitt has been transferred from the Bangor telephone office to the office at Castine and is very much interested in her work. Barbara Nelligan is employed by the Northeast Airlines as a hostess and entertains the passengers frequently by singing in that mellow voice of hers. The telephone company has just received a new addition, Frances Hamel. She completely sways the listener when she utters the word, "hello". Alice O'Leary, the brain of 1946 and a graduate of Regis College, is teaching Dramatics in Hollywood, California. Jean Stockwell, R. N., is taking temperatures at the Eastern Maine General Hospital. In a few weeks, she will advance to the supervisor's position. A new old-age home has been opened in Bradley under the guidance of Teresa Gallant. The enchanting voice of Daisy Nichols is being heard bi-weekly over the national network of the United States.

Louise McGrath, famed opera singer, is booked for a year to give recitals in Carnegie Hall, New York. Dinah Shore, who has retired from her career, has been succeeded by Geraldine Sproul. Florence Martin has been voted the best hat designer of the year and because of her artistic ability, she has been offered a position in Paris contriving the latest models of hats. The telephone company is doing a great business. Corinne Bonneau and Gwendolyn Jansson are operators there. If you get a wrong number, you know where the trouble is. Charlotte Smith, a graduate of Farmington State Normal School, is teaching mathematics at the University of Maine and still carries the Bangor Daily News with her. Ann Ford and Gertrude Dowe are employing their talents by teaching shorthand and typing at the Maine School of Commerce. The Chamber of Commerce has a most efficient young lady as its secretary. It is none other than Cecilia Albert. Rose McNally displayed her debating ability in high school and is the first affirmative speaker in the International Forum. The question of the month is: RESOLVED: SHOULD BANGOR REMOVE ITS CAR TRACKS? Through extensive research, it has been discovered that Jane Pooler is a laboratory technician. That makes two from the class of 1946. More power to them. Nursing seemed to be the predominant profession for the class. Madeline Parady is nursing at St. Mary's Hospital in Lewiston, while Mary Ryder and Dorinda Connelly are imparting their talents at the Mercy Hospital in Portland. Shirley Madore has opened a dress salon on 5th Avenue, New York, after graduating from the National School of Design. Inez Comer and Viola St. Germain are hair dressers and in time intend to set up a business all their own. With their ambition they can't help but get ahead. Nadine Pelletier has settled in Paris with Bill and with only vague thoughts of the Queen City of the East. Paris Must Be Paris Once Again, as the song goes. Dorothy Rankin is enthusiastically teaching chemistry at Hampden Academy. Gloria Luckey, after many years of study, has finally attained her objective; she is a child psychologist. Elaine Cummings' ambition to settle on a farm is here at last, as she is cultivating the soil in Missouri.

Thus ends our glimpse into these private lives. We wish all well and promise that we shall come again before another decade is over.

BOYS' CLASS WILL

BE IT REMEMBERED that we, the class of 1946 of the Boys' Department of John Bapst High School in the city of Bangor in the county of Penobscot in the state of Maine being of sound and disposing mind and memory, but mindful of the uncertainty of this life do make, publish and declare this our LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT, hereby revoking all former wills by us made. After the payment of our just debts, graduation charges and expenses of administration, we dispose of our estate as follows:

Billy Rivers' height to Lolly Comer; Clifton Moors' old Bradley bus tickets to Kenneth Shorette; Bob Barry's golf clubs to Joey Davis; Alfred Sheehan's debating ability to Bill Ryan; Bob Brangwynne's bi-weekly trips to Brewer to Jack Perry; Ed Willett's fall hunting trips to John Cox; Don Rogers' way with the opposite sex to Bill Meucci; Gerry King's "Pat" to John Carney and Bob Polyot on alternate weekends; Virgil King's acting ability to Bill Landers; Hugh Whitty's pipe to Charlie Bryant; Neil Smith's job as errand boy to Alfred Violette; Al Willett's neatness to John Rogan; Rusty Baker's athletic ability to Tom McNeil; Will Brocks' way with Brother Stanislaus to Arthur Perry; Dick Ford's cue stick at Corey's to John Elliott; Arthur Provost's collection box to Don Clement; Freddy Daigle's pessimism to Jim Givren; George Gross' handwriting proficiency to Paul Snodgrass; Ray Hogan's excess weight to Don McCann; John McCarthy's Irish tenor voice to John O'Brien; Joe Rice and Don Richards' friendship to Dave Goggin and Edward Talbot; Donald King's Palmer method to Bernard Tesseo; Herb Hardy's out-of-town trips to Willie Cormier; Louis Jameson's enchanting grin to Walter Crawford; Bob Moran's baseball batting average to Billy Rice; Dick Martin's center position in football to Al Parent; Al Leavitt's bashful charm to Rock Pooler; Terry McAloon's seat at the Garland Street Pharmacy to Dick Drinon; Al Desrosiers' football ability to Block Hickson; Tommy Trainer's errorless basketball playing to John Mooney; Jimmy O'Brien's "library" to any junior who wants to make use of it. Danny Flanagan's all-around charm and intelligence to certain juniors for use on special occasions only.

IN TESTIMONY WHEREOF, we hereunto set our hands and seal, and declare this to be our last WILL AND TESTAMENT, this fifth day of June in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and forty-six.

Class of 1946,

Boys' Department, John Bapst High School.

Signed, sealed, published and declared by the above-named as and for their last WILL AND TESTAMENT in the presence of us who, at their request, in their presence and in the presence of each other, hereto subscribe our names as witnesses thereto, on this fifth day of June A. D. 1946.

GIRLS' CLASS WILL

BE IT REMEMBERED that we, the class of 1946 of the Girls' Department of John Bapst High School in the city of Bangor in the county of Penobscot in the state of Maine being of sound and disposing mind and memory, but mindful of the uncertainty of this life do make, publish and declare this our LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT, hereby revoking all former wills by us made. After the payment of our just debts, graduation charges and expenses of administration, we dispose of our estate as follows:

To Helen Quinn, Joan Davitt leaves in a melancholy manner, her long list of male friends. Ellen Duddy gives her bottle of hydrogen peroxide to Joanne O'Connor. Let's hope she makes good use of it. Very fittingly, Geraldine Sproul leaves her soothing voice to Theresa Petrie. Cecelia Albert wills her keen mind to Joan Keenan. To Alice Perry goes the honor of taking Jane Pooler's place in the laboratory. You have stiff competition there, Alice. Dorinda Connelly's position as Prefect of the Sodality is graciously bestowed on Mary Lou Pooler. The Old Town bus ticket is given to Constance Thibodeau with kindest regards from Frances Hamel. To Patricia Loftus, Jacqueline Cochrane, and Patricia Flanagan, goes the tremendous task of patronizing the Garland Street Pharmacy in accordance with the wishes of Carolyn Mann. Gloria Luckey sorrowfully leaves her famous truck to Mary O'Connor and Jane Thibreau. It will take the two of them to handle it. Charlene Brochu bestows upon Patricia Farwell and Eileen Ambrose her job in the cafeteria. "What'll you have, and what do you want on it?" Charlotte Smith leaves her newspaper to Betty Leard and Joanne McDonough so they can be well informed on the latest sports. Mary Joan Cushman's technique for gum chewing goes to Patricia Fortier. Seriousness is a rare quality, but Teresa Gallant possesses it and fondly leaves it to Barbara Thibreau. Eleanor Polyot bequeaths her Ipana smile to Betty Buckley. Ellen-Marie Polyot gives to Connie Kane the job of cheering at all boxing bouts. Frances Brochu leaves her position in Brother Samuel's office to Marjorie Allen. To Theresa McGuff goes the journalism ability of Alice O'Leary. Mary Ryder's dry humor is willed to Marion Stanley. The calmness and complacency of Barbara Barton is left for Louise Sweeney to enjoy. Leona Silver wills her address book to Patricia McClay and Joan Duddy. We are quite confident they will make perfect use of it. Gertrude Dowe's typing skill is bequeathed to Rita Russell and Vivian Gallant. Shirley Madore's rides to Old Town are given to Agnes LeClair, Eleanor Jackson, and Edwina Lavoie. To Rose Albert, Jean Stockwell gladly yields her bashfulness. Daisy Nichols' accomplishments in chemistry are willingly submitted to Helen Marie Silsby. Gwendolyn Jansson bequeaths her height to Sylvia Comer. Dorothy Rankin wills her job in the library to Helen Moran. Helene Cameron leaves her giggles to Joan O'Brien and Margaret McKenzie. To Agnes Pelletier and Kathleen Cushing, Rose McNally bequeaths her dark lipstick. Viola St. Germain wills two inches of her height to Betty McCann. May she make good use of them. Madeline Parady's French book is gladly willed to Mary Katherine Flanagan. Barbara Nelligan's bus trips to Castine are bestowed upon Dorothy McGee. Florence Martin's friends in Old Town are given to Mary O'Leary inasmuch as she frequents the Old Town busses so often. Nadine Pelletier's knack of getting a "rock" is left to Pauline Trainer and Paula Valentine. To June Cochrane, Cecilia Pyzynski, and Pauline Sproul, Louise McGrath imparts all skill in typing and shorthand.

IN TESTIMONY WHEREOF, we hereunto set our hands and seal, and declare this to be our LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT, this fifth day of June in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and forty-six.

UNDERCLASSMEN

These are the students who live in the shadow of the graduates, the Juniors, Sophomores and Freshmen. Their day has not yet come, but in their high school days they are building toward that eventual goal, graduation!

JUNIORS

This group has reached the half-way mark. With assurance and confidence, these Juniors have performed the small tasks and duties assigned them. They have willingly assumed the little obligations and responsibilities that are expected of Juniors. Preparing themselves to live up to the standards every senior should have, in the past years they have been equipping themselves with the necessary qualifications.

BOYS' JUNIOR CLASS

These boys and girls have made minor progress on the road of life. Ideas, maintained while they were Freshmen, have faded somewhat. They are no longer timid and fearful but aggressive and helpful. They have grown to be of vital importance. They are no longer the proverbial "babies" but an important part of the school.

FRESHMEN

The Freshman Class has ventured into the portals of John Bapst High School unaware and a bit doubtful of what would await it.

With doubt in their eyes and courage in their hearts, the Freshmen have gone forth with vim and vigor endeavoring to practice the principles which have been rooted in their young minds.

ORGANIZATIONS AND ACTIVITIES

High School, without extra-classroom phases, is just school, where one learns the book, but none of the meaning.

An essential part of complete education is training in the use of spare time and in the ability to adjust one's self to his fellow men.

Absent when the picture was taken—Gwendolyn Jansson and Hugh Whitty.

Although getting out a yearbook is rather a difficult task, this, our first issue of the BAPSTONIAN, can proudly compare with other yearbooks. For this Donald King and Mary Alice O'Leary were co-editors while Robert Moran was associate editor. Sports were handled by Edward Hughes, and the artistry was under the direction of John Cassidy. The advertising staff was headed by Hugh Whitty and his assistants included Corinne Bonneau, Gwendolyn Jansson, Terrence McAloon, Ellen-Marie Polyot and John Quirk. The BAPSTONIAN faculty advisers were Brother Dennis Joseph, C.F.X. and Miss Josephine M. Profita.

CHEERLEADERS

When Bapst's athletes are doing their bit on the gridiron, the court and the diamond but that bit seems not quite adequate and the Bapst students in the stands begin to feel the blues, it is the cheerleaders who come to the rescue and draw out a lusty, rousing cheer, that sets the team up, and very often sends a flashy back or end over the goal, or a speedy forward across the court for a startling basket, or a snappy diamond king sliding to the home plate. Or when all is going well for the various teams, it is those same cheerleaders who line up and bring from the Bapst followers those yells and cheers that tell the players that they are supported and applauded one hundred per cent.

This season's cheerleading captain is Ellen Duddy '46, and her staff includes Patricia Farwell '47, Betty Leard '47, Carolyn Mann '46, Eleanor Polyot '46, and Ellen-Marie Polyot '46.

THE CRUSADER

Absent when the picture was taken—Gwendolyn Jansson and John Quirk.

Formed early this school year, THE CRUSADER has become an integral part of school life. With but five issues to its credit THE CRUSADER, despite errors and blunders, turned out a paper which if continued can become a very fine literary publication. For the first year of its existence Donald King, a senior, was editor-in-chief while M. Alice O'Leary, also a senior, was the associate editor. Florence Martin, a senior, was news editor and Edward Hughes, a sophomore, was sports editor. John Cassidy, a sophomore, handled the art department. The advertising staff was capably headed by Ellen-Marie Polyot, and her assistants included Corinne Bonneau, Gwendolyn Jansson, and John Quirk. Those on the advertising staff are seniors with the exception of John Quirk who is a freshman.

The faculty advisers for this fine journalistic production were Brother Dennis Joseph, C.F.X. and Miss Josephine M. Profita.

DEBATES

Seated (left to right)—Theresa Petrie, Brother Samuel, C. F. X., Mary-Ellen Kelley.
Ivan Lancaster.

Under the tutelage of Brother Samuel, C.F.X., the debating team concluded its participation in the Penobscot Valley Conference with four victories and five defeats. The affirmative group won over Bucksport, and lost to Brewer, Ellsworth, Old Town and Orono. The negative contingent defeated Bucksport, Old Town and Orono and lost to Brewer and Ellsworth. The question debated this past season had to do with compulsory military education.

Brother Samuel, C.F.X. feels that the experience gained this year by the debaters augurs well for a winning combination next year since all of this year's team but one will be back.

DRAMATIC CLUB

Second row (left to right)—Comer, Bonneau, Barton, Abbott, Richards, Brashier, Cameron, R. M. Therriault, Quirk, D. Therriault, M. K. Flanagan A. Perry, Kelleher.
Third row (left to right)—P. Flanagan, E. Polyot, Farwell, St. Peter, Rooney, McGillicuddy, Lander, J. Flanagan, J. A. O'Connor, McCann, Ryder, Martin.
Fifth row (left to right)—Stockwell, Ambrose, Buckley, Hughes, Trainer, Grant, Anderson, LeClair, Trainor, Sweeney, Plourde.

Perhaps the most active organization at John Bapst, the purpose of the Dramatic Club is to further interest in the theatre and its allied arts.

Organized in September, 1944, the club has progressed so rapidly and so successfully that its fame has spread far and wide as being synonymous with rare and almost professional entertainment.

Under the direction of the director of dramatics, Miss Josephine M. Profita, the club presented during its first season that unforgettable drama, THE SONG OF BERNADETTE, and that powerful saga of a girl's ambition, SHUBERT ALLEY. This year, the club produced the light comedy, SHINY NOSE, and the short comedy, THE PAMPERED DARLING, which were tremendous successes. More recently, the club with thirty-three other schools in Maine entered the state one-act play contest with the psychological drama, MOONCALF MUGFORD. Although it was Bapst's first entry in a play contest, the group was victorious in both the preliminaries and the semi-finals, and was one of the five in the state selected to take part in the finals at Bowdoin College in Brunswick.

Nor have the activities of this club been restricted to things dramatic. The group sponsors an annual formal dance and banquet, and this year held a highly successful Mother-Daughter Tea. Meetings are held semi-monthly, and after each business meeting a student director presents a one-act play with different members taking part each time. There have been two guest speakers this year. Miss Margaret Matson, fashion expert at Freese's, spoke to the girls on "Teen-Age Fashions", and the Reverend John E. Carlson spoke on "Teen-Age Ethics".

There are seventy-five active Dramatic Club members who are a bit sorrowful to see the year draw to a close. It has been a wonderful time, and the John Bapst High School Dramatic Club has been a grand organization.

DRAMATIC CLUB OFFICERS

THE J. B. CLUB

The J. B. Club was organized in November 1945. Winners of the varsity "J. B." are automatically admitted to membership.

Organized purely as a gesture toward leaders in athletics, it functions less like a club than a certification of prowess in the field of athletics.

The officers of the J. B. Club are: president, Richard Martin; vice-president, John Elliot; secretary-treasurer, Alphonse Desrosiers. Present club members are as follows: Edward Black, Robert Brangwynne, James Cahill, Joseph Cushing, George Drinon, Richard Drinon, Thomas Geaghan, Francis Flanagan, Herbert Hardy, John Hickson, Gerald King, John McAloon, Terrence McAloon, Donald McCann, James Murray, John Perry, Ronald Pooler, William Rivers, William Rice and Thomas Trainer.

Brother Canice, C.F.X. is the faculty adviser for the group.

SAINT MARY'S SODALITY

Front row (left to right)—Inez Comer, Corinne Bonneau, Viola St. Germain, Jean Stockwell Nadine Pelletier, Daisy Nichols.

Second row (left to right)—Ellen Duddy, M. Alice O'Leary, Gertrude Dowe, Elaine Cummings, Dorothy Rankin.

St. Mary's Sodality, besides following the general principles of the organization, was actively identified with parish work. Members helped in making the annual reunion a success and contributed to the fund for the rebuilding of St. Mary's Grammar School by having a novelty party. A tridium took care of the religious side. This was held during the month of December for the intentions of the Holy Father. Monthly meetings of the society were held and new members were received into the sodality.

SAINT JOHN'S SODALITY

OUTGOING OFFICERS

The members of Saint John's Sodality are closing a year of varied and successful activities. The first meeting held in October brought the news of a change for our director, the Reverend Father McFarlane, was to leave Saint John's to take up his duties as pastor at North Whitefield. A few weeks later, the Reverend Father Butler was appointed as our director. Under his guidance, the sodalists have learned to appreciate more and more the real meaning of a true companion of Mary.

At the spiritual meetings held on the second Sunday of each month, the Office of the Immaculate Conception is recited. Following this, there is a short and instructive talk from the director. Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament follows. The business meetings are held at school once a month. These consist of the reports of the various officers and committee chairmen, the discussion of new business, and sometimes the presentation of a skit. One of the outstanding programs was the one held in observance of Vocation Week.

The month of May fittingly contained many activities. Besides the regular meetings, the sodalists sponsored a Stag Dance. On Mother's Day, they entertained their mothers at a Communion Breakfast in the school auditorium. On the last Sunday, there was a Living Rosary and Crowning of Our Lady's statue, and the new council was formally installed. The program for this school year closed with a picnic at Green Lake on Memorial Day.

SCENE FROM VOCATION WEEK PROGRAM

INCOMING OFFICERS

Left to right—Mary Lou Pooler, prefect; Doris O'Leary, vice-prefect; Helen Quinn, secretary. Patricia Perry, treasurer, was absent when the picture was taken.

STUDENT COUNCIL

The Student Council is a co-ordinating body between men students of John Bapst and the administration. Its duty is to consider problems with which the student body is concerned, and it has the privilege of judicial authority and making suggestions to the administration.

It has for its purpose the promotion of harmonious relationships between the classes and the fostering of a feeling of responsibility in the men students of Bapst.

This year student councilmen have been: Robert Brangwynne, Wilfred Brooks, Alphonse Desrosiers, Herbert Hardy, Donald King, Gerald King, Virgil King, Terrence McAloon, Robert Moran, James O'Brien, Neil Smith, Thomas Trainer, Albert Willett and Edward Willett. Students who have been named associate members during the year are John Carney, Richard Ford, John Mooney, William Rivers, and William Rice.

Mr. Nathaniel Crowley is the able faculty adviser of the Student Council.

MOTHER - DAUGHTER TEA

Standing (left to right)—Doris O'Leary, Adelaide Grant, Frances Gonya, Margo Callinan, Mary O'Connor, Margaret Brangwynne, M. Alice O'Leary.

One of the most attractive functions at John Bapst High School this season was the Mother-Daughter Tea which was held in the school auditorium on Sunday, April 28. Sponsored by the officers of the various classes, the girls were hostesses to their mothers at this function which was attended by over one hundred people.

As president of the senior class, M. Alice O'Leary was chairman for the affair. Her assistants included: Frances Brochu, Doris O'Leary, Adelaide Grant, Frances Gonya, Margo Callinan, Mary O'Connor, Margaret Brangwynne, and Bernadine Binnette.

ATHLETICS

"A Strong Mind in a Healthy Body"

Cheering, excited crowds; sweating, hard playing athletes; elusive, fast halfbacks; slugging batters; dribbling, sharp-shooting forwards—all are included in John Bapst's athletic life.

COACH NATHANIEL CROWLEY

The spirit of this year's varsity teams was inspired by Coach "Nat" Crowley who worked day in and day out with the teams. He was born in Chelsea, Massachusetts and moved to Winthrop where he lived for twenty-one years. He attended Winthrop High School from 1930-1934. In 1938, he started college at the University of Maine and graduated in 1942. He studied Business Administration and Economics in the College of Arts and Sciences, and he minored in Education. He played football, basketball, and baseball on the varsity teams in his sophomore, junior and senior years. In 1942, he was captain of the varsity basketball squad.

In 1942 and 1943, he was the Physical Education Director of Foxcroft Academy in Dover-Foxcroft and coached varsity athletics. The team won the Piscataquis County Championship in baseball and basketball. The basketball team made the finals for the Eastern Maine Tourney.

In January, 1944, he enlisted in the Army Air Forces and was aerial gunner for the 459th Bomb Group, 758th Squadron and the 304th Bomb Wing, 15th A.A.F. He flew in B-24 Liberators, better known as the "flying boxcars". In the last three months of the war he was in the European Theater and was put in charge of the athletic program for the 304th Bomb Wing. While in Rome, Italy, he studied at the Central Sports School.

On August 3, 1945 he sailed for the United States on the liberty ship, "Jashua Hendy". He arrived at Hampton Roads, Virginia and left the army on August 27, 1945. He became affiliated with John Baptist High School on September 2, 1945 where we all know he has done a marvelous job coaching the varsity football, basketball, and baseball teams.

FOOTBALL

Second row (left to right)—Geagan, Mooney, R. Brennan, Cahill, McCann, Shorette, Geaghan, Viola, Webb.

When Coach Nat Crowley asked for candidates for the football team, more than fifty answered the call. After many days of practice, the number was reduced to twenty-five. The team was light and was constantly hampered by injuries, but out of the seven games played there were four victories.

Edward Black, John Hickson, Gerald King and Ronald Pooler were the regular backfield men, and it was a sure win when they were all on the field. Due to numerous injuries, however, such an occasion was indeed rare. Captain Richard Martin's position was at center where he proved himself to be outstanding. Alphonse Desrosiers and Herbert Hardy starred in the guard positions. Donald McCann and Terrence McAloon proved to be brilliant at the tackling position, and the opponents really fell when they were hit by them. William Rice and John McAloon were evenly matched on the offense and defense. Joseph Cushing, John Geaghan, Basil Murray and Hubert Lamb certainly proved themselves to be star substitutes. They and many others received plenty of excellent training making next year's football prospects mighty interesting.

BAPST - OLD TOWN

Our first game of the season was played with the Old Town Indians at Garland Street where we took an easy 25-6 victory. The game went off to a slow start, but we opened a power drive in the second quarter when Pooler scored a touchdown. In the opening of the third quarter, Hickson received the ball on our 35 yard line and romped back 15 yards. In the next two plays, Eddie Black zigzagged through the tacklers and raced 38 yards for the second touchdown.

In the final quarter Hickson and Pooler both scored touchdowns, and Hickson made the point on Pooler's touchdown. Old Town then came in for a goal making the final score 25-6.

BAPST - ORONO

The second game of the season was played at Orono with the Red Riots. With Hickson and Pooler setting the pace, we marked up our second win scoring two touchdowns and two points. No scoring was made until the second quarter when Pooler plunged through the line for the first touchdown. Hickson rushed the extra point. In the third quarter, Hickson went through the line for a touchdown and also for the point again. There was no scoring in the final quarter. This left the score 14-0 at the end of the game.

BAPST - STEARNS

The Stearns Minutemen played us at the Garland Street field in our third game. We were victorious over them with a score of 20-0. There was no scoring in the first stanza, but we got off to an early start in the second frame when Rock Pooler made a touchdown. The point was missed. In the final quarters, Pooler made two more touchdowns, and Hickson rushed both extra points. The score at the end of the game was 20-0.

BAPST - BANGOR

In our annual game with the Rams, we lost by a single touchdown. There was no scoring in the first quarter, but it was very exciting. Both teams scored in the second quarter. The touchdown on our side was made when we landed on the 10 yard stripe, and Gerry King plowed through the center. The third quarter was a repetition of the first for there was no scoring although both teams came close to the goal line. The final quarter saw King scoring another touchdown while our opponents scored two. All the extra points were halted. This left the final score 18-12 in Bangor's favor.

BAPST - FAIRFIELD

We collected our fourth victory of the season in our fifth game with the Lawrence Bulldogs here at Garland Street. In the first quarter, Pooler scored the first touchdown while in the second quarter we scored nothing. Fairfield did score one touchdown and one point making the score at the half 7-6 in favor of Fairfield. In the third stanza, King plowed over the line for a touchdown, and Brangwynne went over for the point. In the final quarter, Pooler made a beautiful 75 yard run for a touchdown. The point was missed. This left the final score 19-7 in our favor.

BAPST - BREWER

Our game with the Witches was played at Brewer. Eddie Black, one of our ace backs, was injured and had to leave the game. In the first quarter, after a difficult struggle, the Witches plunged through our line to score a touchdown. We opened up a drive in the second quarter and bulldozed through our opponents' line to score a touchdown. Neither team got the point which made the score 6-6 at halftime. With both teams making a fumble in the third quarter, neither did any scoring. In the final quarter, a beautiful pass received by Brewer gave them a touchdown. The attempted point was stopped, leaving the final score 12-6. Up until this time, Bapst and Brewer were tied for the Penobscot Valley Conference title. This win put them at the top.

BAPST - M. C. I.

Our third defeat of the season was handed to us by Maine Central Institute. It was a hard game and our team fought all the way. The Mules scored two touchdowns, but both the points were stopped. The final score was 12-0.

BANGOR-BAPST GAME

BASKETBALL

The Crusader Basketball Team of 1945-1946 had a successful season. With only a few lettermen back, Mr. Crowley trained the team so well that it was entered in the Eastern Maine Tournament where it lost to Guilford in the semi-finals.

Tucker McAloon was the center man on the first string, and Joe Cushing was the substitute for that position. They both showed their skill in all the games. Dick Drinon and Bill Rivers were first string forwards. They were both noted for their one hand shots. Once they got going, no one could stop them. Tommy Geaghan and Robert Nelligan were the substitute forwards who were regarded as expert ball handlers. Block Hickson and Captain Tommy Trainer were the regular guards. They could be counted on for an outstanding performance in every game. Robert Brangwynne, George Drinon, James Cahill, and Eddy Black were all substitute guards for the '45-'46 hoop squad. They really kept the opponents on the go when they were in there. Next year we shall not have Tommy Trainer, Robert Brangwynne, or Bill Rivers because they will be lost to us through graduation.

BAPST - ALUMNI

The first game of the season was played with the Alumni, a team representing John Bapst students of earlier years. It was composed of B. McKenna, J. Mahaney, F. Coughlin, R. Elliott, C. Kelly, G. Lovett, I. Marquis, V. Trowell, J. Crowley, and G. Gunn.

Coming from behind after trailing by ten points at the halfway mark, the Alumni spurted to nose out the 1946 edition of the Crusaders by taking a 45-43 decision. The Crusaders jumped to an early lead, and sparked by Dick Drinon and Bill Rivers, kept the game under control during the first half. The teams battled it out until the end when the ex-Bapstmen were out in front by a single basket. Those who scored were: McAloon 14, Coughlin 10, Hickson 9, Drinon 8, Kelly 8, Gunn 8, Nelligan 7, McKenna 6, Marquis 6, Trowell 4, Trainer 3, Mahaney 2, Perry 2, Crowley 1.

BAPST - BAR HARBOR

Our first game with the Bar Harbor Seaside was played in our own gymnasium. Nelligan opened the scoring with a well placed shot from out front. Rivers followed up with a free throw, while Trainer popped in one more point, to put the Purple and White ahead by a few points. The score at the end of the quarter was 6-2. Dick Drinon, substituting at left forward, opened the attack in the second frame. The Seaside gained six points but the Bapstmen came back strong, and sparked by Rivers and Drinon, went on to add twelve points. Rivers took high honors on our side with 14 points and Drinon took second honors with 12 points. Trainer made 3 points, Walsh 3, Hickson 2, and Nelligan 2.

BAPST - FAIRFIELD

For the next game the team traveled to Fairfield where the Crusaders downed Lawrence with a score of 61-40. In the opening quarter, the Purple and White cagers lost little time in piling up a lead, and they barraged the host team net, to pour in 20 points in the opening period to take a 13-point lead. With Coach Nat Crowley using his entire squad, the Bapstmen added six more tallies in the second frame, as the Bulldogs shaved down the lead by dumping in eight markers. The quartet of Drinon, Trainer, McAloon, and Rivers combined the fast pace as the second half got underway and added 17 points to their total, while the Bulldogs held a rally to chalk up 14. The final period was a repetition of the third, as the visitors kept the game in full swing by continuing to pepper the enemy hoop to the horn. Rivers took high honors on the Crusader side with a score of 16 points, while Trainer marked up 14. Drinon added 7 points, McAloon added 4, and the rest of the scoring was divided up among Nelligan 4, Cushing 2, G. Drinon 2, Walsh 2, and Hickson 1.

BAPST - WATERVILLE

On December 21, our Crusaders romped over the Waterville Panthers in Waterville. The Panthers were looking for their 66th consecutive victory but were defeated. Sparked by guardsmen Dick Drinon and Bill Rivers, the Bapstmen set a sizzling pace in the first and second quarters, taking a six point lead in the first and poured on twelve more in the second canto. John Hickson turned in a brilliant job in the guard berth as he broke up the Panthers' charges time after time and accounted for 11 points himself. In the third quarter, the Panthers made a comeback and came within three points of the Crusaders' score. In the final canto, our men started off the attack and opened another drive, ending the game with a score of 60-49. Drinon took high honors with 20 points, and Rivers took second honors with 15 points. Hickson made 11 points, Trainer 9, McAloon 4, and Nelligan 1.

BAPST - CHEVERUS

Before 3,700 wild-eyed fans, the Crusaders won over Cheverus High School at Portland 36-34. Nat Crowley's invading Crusaders held a 13-8 lead at the end of the first period, saw it shortened to 24-20 at the halftime and narrowed to a scant 32-30 going into the final eight minutes. In the fourth chapter came a basket for Cheverus which made the score 32 all. Hickson got a foul shot and Cheverus made another basket giving them a one-point lead. McAloon dropped a foul to again tie the score. The crowd was in a frenzy as Drinon pushed through the telling basket, and we managed to control the ball until the final whistle. On our side the high scorer was Dick Drinon with 16 points and Rivers came in second with 10 points. Others who scored were: Trainer 4, Hickson 3, and McAloon 3.

BAPST - OLD TOWN

The Crusaders defeated the Old Town Indians on New Year's night. Paced by Bill Rivers, the Crusaders took a ten point margin in the first quarter, 16-6. In the second quarter, the Old Towners tried to stop the Bapstmen, but in vain. The score at the half was 33-16. With John Hickson and Dick Drinon spearing most of the rebounds, the Crowleymen added 15 points in the third quarter making the score 48-27. In the final quarter, the Indians scored 8 points and the Crusaders 4 points, making the final score 52-35 with the Crusaders the victors. Bill Rivers was high scorer for the night scoring 17 points. Hickson and McAloon tied with 8 points each for second scoring honors. The others who scored were Dick Drinon 5, George Drinon 4, Brangwynne 3, Trainer 3, Perry 2, and Cahill 1.

BAPST - STEARNS

On January 4, the Crusaders squeezed out a 51-49 win over the Stearns Minutemen. The Minutemen opened up a powerful attack to take the lead and were out in front 15-11 at the end of the first quarter. In the second quarter, sparked by Drinon and Rivers, the Bapstmen bounced back to hold a 25-24 margin at the half. Both teams opened up as the third canto got under way, and the two evenly matched quintets battled for possession of the ball. The teams were not separated by more than three points during the period which ended in a 33 point deadlock. This same fast pace was continued in the final quarter, and the squads were on even terms when Drinon chalked up the winning basket. Dick Drinon was high scorer with a total of 23 points, while Rivers worked up 15 points for the second honors. Trainer made 7 points, Nelligan 3, Hickson 1, Cushing 1, and McAloon 1.

BAPST - BANGOR

On January 11, our team suffered a loss to the Bangor High Rams in the Bangor Municipal Auditorium with a score of 49-33. The Crusaders controlled the tip as the game opened but missed the shot. Bangor got a foul shot to start the scoring, putting the Rams ahead. The Rams ran up ten more points in three minutes. Finally after two foul shots for Bangor, Tommy Trainer sank a nice shot to score our first tally in seven minutes. Dick Drinon tossed in two baskets while Bangor made a free throw good and also another basket making the score at the quarter 17-6. In the second period, the Rams piled up a better lead as every man scored once or twice, while the Crusaders made three baskets and three foul shots to make the score at the half 29-15. With Dick Drinon setting the pace, our team began to look better in the third quarter as we secured 12 points to the Rams' 7, making the score 36-26. In the final quarter Nelligan got two fouls, Dick Drinon a foul shot, Rivers 2 points, and Hickson a foul shot, while Bangor got 13 points to make the score at the final horn Bangor 49, Bapst 33. On our team Drinon made 19 points, Trainer 7, Rivers 4, Nelligan 2, and Hickson 1.

BAPST - ORONO

Our easiest win was taken from the Orono Red Riots with a score of 77-17. Our team was so powerful that the visitors were limited to only one basket and two free throws in the opening quarter. Two seconds after the opening quarter, Dick Drinon popped in the first tally, and from there on our entire team powdered leather through the mesh, to take a 26-4 lead at the end of the first period. The second period proved to be a repetition of the first as our team continued to pepper the Riots hoop, to go out front 32-7 at the half. The first string men, who played most of the third frame, continued to show superiority over the visitors, and romped nearly at will to lead 61-9 at the three quarter mark. In the last quarter, the Bapstmen rolled on to clinch the verdict by a margin of 60 points. Bill Rivers took high scoring honors with 19 points, and Dick Drinon accounted for 17 for the second scoring honors. Hickson made 8, G. Drinon 6, Perry 6, Cushing 5, Trainer 5, McAloon 4, Geaghan 4, Brangwynne 2, and Black 1.

BAPST - BREWER

The next win of the season was taken from the Brewer Witches. In the first quarter, Brewer made a free shot but Dick Drinon came back to toss in seven points before the Witches made a two-pointer. We peppered the invaders' hoop to gain a 22-10 lead at the quarter. The same fast pace was continued in the second frame. We held a 33-21 margin at halftime. The subs began to trickle in as the third stanza got underway, and the fans were treated to a lively battle. The score at the end of the quarter was 49-31. Brewer tried to drive in the final quarter but received a set-back as one of their best men was fouled out. We went on to collect a 71-36 verdict. Dick Drinon was high scorer with 18 points while Trainer marked up 17. Others who scored were Hickson 9, Cushing 6, George Drinon 6, Rivers 5, Geaghan 4, McAloon 4, and Perry 2.

BAPST - ELLSWORTH

Our next win was taken from the Ellsworth Eagles. Dick Drinon made the first tally and Hickson the second. Then the Eagles scored, but we continued making more tallies and the first quarter ended in a 20-6 score. The Eagles looked better in the second frame, but we continued to lead down to the halfway horn with a 38-21 margin. This same fast pace went on in the third quarter as we pulled ahead to 53 to the opponents' 29. It was 60-40 at the final horn. Rivers took high honors with 20 points, and Dick Drinon made 17 points for second honors. McAloon made 12, Hickson 6, Geaghan 3, and Trainer 1.

BAPST - BAR HARBOR

We went to Bar Harbor January 25 and won 56-34. Our high-scoring boys wasted little time in piling up a lead as the combination of Dick Drinon and Rivers peppered the Seaside hoop, ringing up 8 baskets each. We held a 26-16 lead at half-time, and we opened up in the third and final quarters to take a commanding margin over the host team. Trainer and Hickson turned in a remarkable performance in the back court and kept the Bar Harbor five from reaching scoring territory on many of their dashes.

BAPST - OLD TOWN

The second game with the Indians was played January 29 in our gymnasium, and we romped to an easy 72-24 victory. We led at the first quarter 14-5, 25-12 at the half, and 48-14 at the third canto. Rivers chalked up 14 points, Nelligan 13, Dick Drinon 10, George Drinon 8, McAloon 8, Brangwynne 7, Cushing 5, Hickson 3, Black 2, and Cahill 2.

BAPST - WATERVILLE

We defeated the Panthers in our first encounter with them on their court, but they returned the compliment here in the Bangor Auditorium on February 1, coming out ahead 62-45. Waterville led at the first quarter 19-12, 32-17 at the half, and 40-30 at the third frame. Rivers made 13 points, Trainer 12, McAloon 12, Dick Drinon 3, Nelligan 3, and George Drinon 2.

BAPST - BUCKSPORT

The home game with Bucksport was played on February 5, and we amassed 63 points to the opposition's 23. Dick Drinon and McAloon were ill and unable to be present. In the opening quarter we were kept busy, but in the second frame the Seaboarders died down and the score was 34-17 in our favor. The second half proved to be a repetition of the first as we peppered the Bucksport basket at a furious rate. Trainer racked up 17 points, Rivers 14, George Drinon 8, Cushing 7, Geaghan 5, Hickson 5, Brangwynne 4, Cahill 2, and Webb 1.

BAPST - BANGOR

Our second game with the Bangor Rams was played February 8 in the Bangor Auditorium with our city rivals coming out ahead 41-33. Tommy Trainer opened the scoring for us with a free throw after almost four minutes of play. Two baskets and two foul shots gave the Rams a five point lead. Rivers tallied four and Trainer one which left the score at 6-6 at the end of the first quarter. We were leading 17-16 at the half. Bangor went ahead in the third canto which ended 24-22 in favor of the Rams. Trainer made 15 points, Rivers 8, Drinon 4, Cushing 4, and Brangwynne 2.

BAPST - BREWER

Our second game with the Brewer Witches was played in their gymnasium on February 12. We were ahead at the first quarter 18-9 and 29-16 at the half. Coach Crowley used his second stringers for much of the game. The third quarter finished with us in the lead 45-20. The final score was 54-31. Rivers hit the hoop for 16 points. Dick Drinon got 11, Trainer 10, McAloon 5, Geaghan 3, Nelligan 2, Cushing 2, Black 2, George Drinon 2, and Brangwynne 1.

BAPST - LAWRENCE

Mr. Daniel J. Barrett, former teacher and coach here, brought his Fairfield team up on February 15. We won 84-46. Our first-stringers played parts of the first and third quarters. Billy Rivers accounted for 24 points in the short time he was in the game. McAloon got 10, Nelligan 9, Dick Drinon 7, Hickson 7, George Drinon 7, Cahill 6, Trainer 6, Geaghan 4, Cushing 3, and Brangwynne 1.

BAPST - ORONO

Our second game with Orono on February 19 was not as easy a victory as the first. Throughout the entire game the Red Riots were seldom behind more than 4 points. The final score was 57-52 in our favor. Rivers and Dick Drinon were tops with 13 points each. Cushing got 12 points, Nelligan 5, Trainer 4, McAloon 4, Hickson 2, George Drinon 2, and Geaghan 2.

BAPST - STEARNS

One of our most exciting games was played with the Stearns Minutemen on February 22 in the Bangor Auditorium. In the first quarter, Dick Drinon and Billy Rivers racked up 11 points for us while Stearns was scoring 12. The second quarter was just as fast, and at half-time we were leading 27-26. The end of the third canto found us ahead 43-42. In the fourth quarter, the Minutemen forged ahead to win 57-54. Dick Drinon scored 23 points, Rivers 20, Hickson 5, McAloon 4, and Cushing 2.

BAPST - FORT FAIRFIELD

In the Eastern Maine tournament which was played at the University of Maine Memorial Gymnasium on February 28, we met the Tigers from Fort Fairfield in the second game at night and won a 49-46 decision in a game which left the 3,100 fans breathless. In the very beginning, the Tigers showed their prowess by piling up a 6-0 lead. We took time out and came back with 7 quick points. At the end of the first quarter, Fort Fairfield was out in front 15-14. We stepped up the pace in the second frame, and at half time we had a 28-22 advantage. Late in the third period, the Tigers sliced the score to 33-31, but we were still leading at the end of that canto 38-31. In the final quarter with about two minutes to play, it was a 44-44 count. Tommy Trainer popped one in, and Rivers made a free throw and followed with a crisp shot that clinched the game. Fort Fairfield sank another marker before the buzzer sounded. Dick Drinon made 15 points, Rivers 13, Trainer 10, Hickson 5, McAloon 3, Cushing 2, and Brangwynne 1.

BAPST - GUILFORD

Our second game in the tournament on March 1 found us opposing Guilford who had defeated Waterville the night before. The Golden Panthers eliminated us by a 51-44 score. Trainer was unable to play because of illness. The Piscataquis boys raced to a 12-7 lead in the first quarter. We rallied and tied the count at 15-15 on Hickson's shot from the side, and the second quarter ended with us in the lead 25-24. The third frame was strictly ours, and we were ahead 39-30 at its conclusion. Guilford went to town in the fourth canto and while we tried hard, the Golden Panthers chalked up another victory. McAloon garnered 15 points, Drinon 13, Brangwynne 5, Hickson 5, Rivers 3, Cushing 2, and Geaghan 1.

BAPST - ELLSWORTH

Our play-off game with Ellsworth for the Penobscot V. C. Championship resulted in a 36-34 victory for us. The game was played in the Brewer Auditorium before a capacity crowd. The Eagles came up fast in the last period and really gave us a scare, but we had the necessary push and retained a slim lead as the buzzer sounded. We are very proud of Coach Crowley and his squad which has a season's record of 18 wins and 5 losses and 1 victory and 1 defeat in the Eastern Maine tournament. We salute Coach Crowley and his club which played good ball consistently, despite injuries, illness and some rugged slings and arrows of outrageous fortune.

An exciting moment in the Bapst-Bangor game at the Bangor Municipal Auditorium

Coach "Nat" Crowley congratulates John McAloon, who was named captain of next year's basketball team, while Thomas Trainer, this year's honorary captain, looks on.

BASEBALL

The pleasant weather gave the candidates for the 1946 Baseball Team an early start for practice. When Mr. Crowley asked for candidates more than fifty answered the call. After a few days of practicing, the team was reduced to the following: William Meucci, Francis Herbert, and Robert Paschal, catchers; Joseph Cushing, Arthur Perry, William Rivers, Robert Baldacci, James O'Brien, pitchers; John McAloon, first base; Thomas Trainer and Vincent Viola, second base; Robert Violette, Gerald McLellan, and William Clarke, third base; Ronald Pooler and Edward Matson, short-stop; John Perry, Robert Brangwynne, William Rice, Alfred Veilleux, and Robert Moran, outfield. The managers were Donald McCann and James Lynch.

Because of a printer's deadline, it will be impossible for the BAPSTONIAN to await decisions on the baseball games. However, we extend to Coach Crowley and his team best wishes for success in the following schedule of games:

April 30	Bucksport	away
May 3	Bar Harbor	home
May 7	Ellsworth	home
May 10	Bangor	away
May 14	Old Town	home
May 17	Brewer	away
May 21	Orono	away
May 24	Bangor	home

JAYVEE SPORTS

The Jayvees were under the capable guidance of Brother Michael Joseph, C.F.X. who worked very hard with the boys and was directly responsible for their success. Brother Michael Joseph, before coming here, had coached baseball and football in Brooklyn and these same sports plus basketball and swimming in Leonardtown, Maryland. He came here from Leonard Hall School. Brother Michael Joseph said it was a pleasure to work with the team because the members had a cooperative spirit. We quote him, "If the team received half the pleasure that I did from the experience, the time was well spent."

The football team was very light, averaging about 120 pounds. Every day the boys practiced and every once in a while, they would have a scrimmage with the varsity seconds. The squad included: Robert Trainer, captain; Leroy McKenna, Robert Williams, Roland King, Robert Paschal, Hubert Lamb, Robert Jameson, Robert Violette, Robert Quinn, Joseph McCarthy, James Gallagher, John Rooney, Donald Cammack, and Edgar Picard. They played games with the Bangor Jayvees and the Old Town High Jayvees. The Little Rams won the first one, 24-0, and the Junior Indians eked out a 6-0 win.

The basketball team consisted of William Webb, Thomas Gallant, Thomas Drinon, Frederick Brennan, Robert Williams, James Abbott, Leroy McKenna, Ivan Lancaster, John Lynch, Reginald McManus, Robert Violette, John Mooney, Robert Paschal, and Robert Quinn. The team played eighteen games and lost only seven. Many members of the Junior Varsity are sure to be on the varsity team next year.

Our congratulations go to Brother Michael Joseph, C.F.X. and his teams for their marvelous work.

In the past, there have been several unsuccessful attempts to form an alliance of all graduates of John Bapst High School and the Bangor Catholic High School. These attempts have been unsuccessful not through any personal deficiency of the organizers, but because there was a lack of cooperation on the part of the graduates and because the war intervened to scatter our people and make any sizeable gatherings an impossibility.

Now we have peace and order, and the alumni have organized once more. Officers have been elected, plans have been formulated, meetings are held on the first Monday of each month, a successful informal Easter dance has already been sponsored, and everything tends to a progressive and ambitious organization. No matter how ambitious the plans or how numerous the activities, however, the John Bapst Alumni Association cannot survive without the wholehearted support of each and every alumnus and alumna. The days to come will tell the story of the faithfulness and progressiveness of the graduates of the Bangor Catholic High School and of John Bapst High School.

ALUMNI NOTES

The BAPSTONIAN sent out seven hundred letters inviting graduates to order a copy of the yearbook and to send in information for this column. We are listing the names submitted before our printing deadline.

MAXIMS

TO GUIDE A YOUTH

by

One of your Neighbors

Keep good company or none. Never be idle; if your hands cannot be usefully employed, attend to the cultivation of your mind. Always speak the truth; make few promises; live up to your engagements; when you speak to anyone, look him straight in the face.

Good company and good conversation are the very sinews of virtue. Good character is above all things else in life. Never listen to loose or idle conversation; you had better be poisoned in your blood than in your principles. Your character cannot be essentially injured except by your own acts. If anyone should speak evil of you, let your life be so virtuous that none will believe him.

Always speak the truth and act as if in the presence of your MAKER; drink no intoxicating liquors; ever live, misfortune excepted, within your income. When you retire to bed at night think of what you have done during the day. Never speak lightly of anyone; make no haste to be rich if you should prosper; small and steady gains give competency with tranquillity of mind.

Never play any game of chance; avoid the temptation through fear that may not withstand it. Earn your money before you spend it, and never run in debt unless you can see a way to get out of it.

Never borrow, if you can avoid it. Save when you are young to save when you are old. Never think what you do to alleviate the sufferings of fellow beings is time and money lost. Be kind and generous, for the whole human family is depending one upon the other.
