CLASS ODE.

WORDS BY ESTHER M. DIXON

MUSIC BY ADELBERT W. SPRAGUE.

*Ent'ring an ocean no ship sailed before
Climbing a mountain no foot ever trod,
Trav'ling in forest no man wandered o'er,
Searching for treasures where none searched before,
Beginning a century.*

*Writing on page that no pen's written o'er,
Making a record of good deeds or ill,
Heirs of such riches as none knew before,
Giving our little to heap up life's store,
Beginning a century.*

*Crossing the Rubicon—backward no more,
Keeping our course, be it sunshine or storm,
Burning behind us all bridges crossed o'er,
Striving to conquer beyond our own shore,
Beginning a century.*
