Prominent citizens attend the dedication of Bangor High School on November 14, 1964.

The symmetric beauty of Bangor High School is clearly seen through this window in the B Lobby. The insert shows the late Lawrence A. Peakes, Superintendent of Schools, 1956-1962, for whom the auditorium is named.

Modern Environment Inspires Students

The halls of Bangor High School are light and airy, the rooms walled in cheerful colors. Students and faculty alike enjoy a building designed to provide not only superb educational facilities, but also an atmosphere of efficiency and relaxation in which the academic procedure should thrive as never before. We are grateful for the blessings of this modern world.

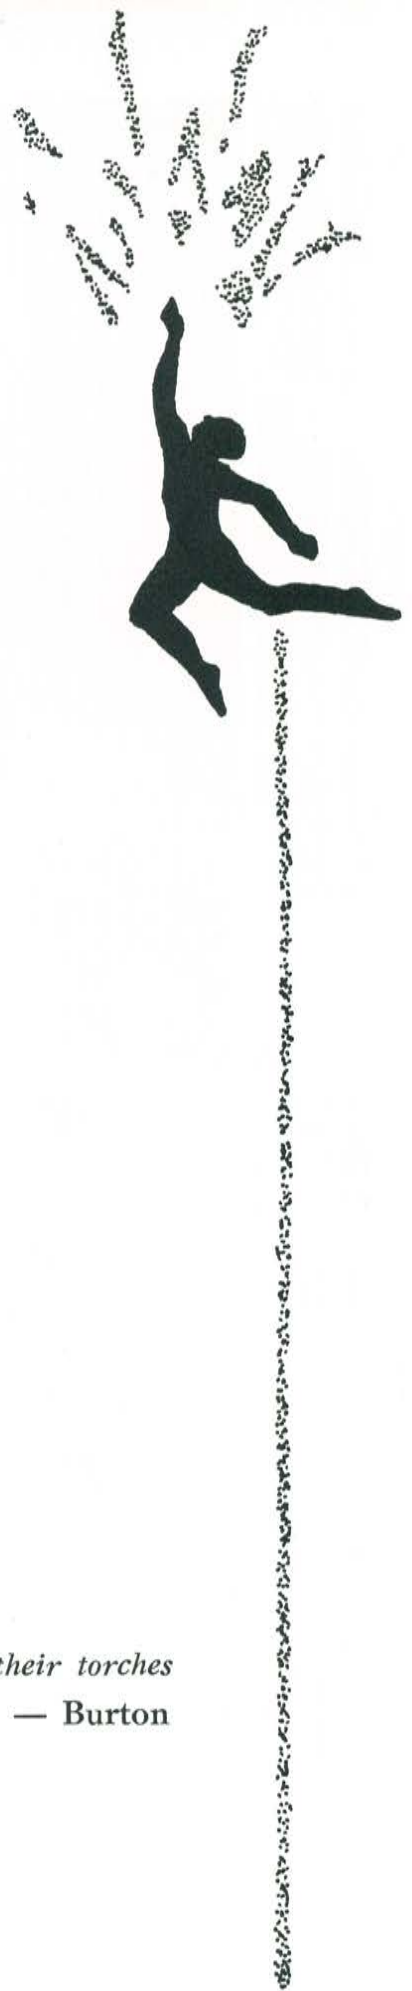

However, we must remember that the building itself does not make the school. Rather it is for us, the students who pass through its halls, to fill it with the memories and traditions that will give it life. It is we who must light the lamps of learning and hope in its halls, it is we who must give it friendship and warmth. Through our efforts, future generations of students may indeed walk "through corridors of light."

Administration Provides For Smooth - Running School

The administration attempts to provide a smooth-running school for the students and teachers of Bangor High. Faced with the task of carrying out the new curriculum, the administration has had a very busy but rewarding year. Many extra-curricular activities have also been added, to make use of the increased facilities.

Principal Dana Simmons, whose aim is to improve the educational facilities for all Bangor students, is known by faculty and students alike for his hard work and congenial way. Along with his staff of assistants, Mr. Simmons is kept very busy making decisions about different activities and events which will be carried on at Bangor High for many years to come.

Mr. Rodney Bartlett, assistant principal, maintains a full-time schedule in assisting Mr. Simmons. The administration is also very fortunate to have four capable secretaries, who assist in the office, as well as aiding the faculty and students in the operation of this fine school. Students also assist in the offices of the administration.

To maintain a well-run school is a difficult task, and made doubly so in the first year in a new school. The administration faces a demanding but satisfying task in the operation of this large and magnificent school.

School Board Leads New England In Educational Concepts

Until September 8, 1964, Bangor High School was an immense monument of concrete and steel; it was the product of years of planning and working; it was the realization of a city's dream—but it was only a building. On September 8, 1964, this building exploded with life—life that entered rooms, and ramps, and halls on the heels of over 1200 enthusiastic students. Now this building had a reason for being.

From the first time that Principal Dana M. Simmons addressed the students in the cafeteria, until lockers were cleaned out on the last day of school, Bangor High School was the center of its students' lives.

More and more varied courses held students' interests and offered them a chance to explore the career fields of their choice. Peakes Auditorium served as the center for many school and civic functions. It provided not only worth-while entertainment, but also programs that complemented classroom education. Students enjoyed a stimulating sense of freedom based on personal acceptance of responsibility.

Sincere appreciation is extended to the School Board which has made it possible for Bangor High School to become an outstanding example of leadership in education and educational facilities for New England.

Guidance Department Is Always Ready To Help Students

If a large school is to function properly and to be beneficial to each student, it must have a well-structured Guidance Department. At Bangor High School, Mr. Richard Klain, Mr. Salvatore Coco, Mr. Gerald Ballanger, and Mrs. Rubena Pressey work daily talking with individual students regarding changes in programs, post high school plans, and personal problems. Each class is divided alphabetically with each counselor receiving a certain percentage for his counseling load. This change in the program allows the counselors to remain with their assigned students through graduation.

The clerical work in the Guidance Department is carried out by Mrs. Eva Inforati. Twelve senior students gave up their study halls during the year to help with certain duties of the office such as answering the telephone and making routine appointments for every student in the school.

These people are always ready to help the students of Bangor High School; their efforts keep the school running smoothly.

Knowledge Of English Found Essential Today

In the modern world, English is the native tongue of millions of people and the second language of millions more. The language serves as a branch of communication between people of different nations and cultures. It is essential, therefore, that a high school have a strong English department in order to equip its students for the changing world.

Under the direction of Mr. Wallace Woodcock, the Bangor High School English Department offers an extensive program fulfilling the needs of every student. The main purpose of the varied curricula is to implant in the student the means whereby he can read, write, speak and think intelligently in the ever changing society.

Among the methods used to accomplish this purpose is the study of literature. With a good foundation gained in the freshman year, students have an excellent base for American literature, studied in the sophomore year. In the junior year a student is introduced to a detailed course in English literature and then is ready to come in contact with literature from all parts of the world during the senior year.

English usage, spelling, and vocabulary are stressed all four years. Good English usage habits reflect a good education. In writing letters, in reading and following directions, and in everyday communications with others, this knowledge of English is essential.

The department tries to give every student at Bangor High School a program that will prepare him for the keen competition he will meet for good positions in business and industry.

Journalism class edits the Ramblings.

Students Develop “Nose For News”

Under the direction of Miss Jessie L. Fraser, the journalism class has kept pace with the ever-changing curriculum at Bangor High School. Offered for the first time this year, Journalism has given enthusiastic members of the class an opportunity to appreciate the “hows and whys” of newspaper management and production. Alien sounding terms such as leading, bleeding, and galley proofs became quite familiar as typical newspaper jargon.

From their first lesson, students of journalism learned to develop a “nose for news.” The realization of this art of finding and reporting the facts quickly, truthfully, and in an interesting manner is one of the primary goals of the course. To demonstrate their progress, the journalism class produced a newspaper called Ramblings for school-wide circulation. Since Ramblings was so well received, Miss Fraser has expressed hopes that future journalism classes will comprise a staff for the production of other such publications.

Journalism also provided the class with worthwhile, practical insight into yearbook production, as well as with valuable experience on the Orascope. As this course becomes more firmly established at Bangor High School, it will undoubtedly afford many students a better understanding of the intriguing field of journalism.

Juniors Profit From Reading Program

Charlotte Haskell

The developmental reading program is proving to be of valuable assistance to the junior students who take the course. This year one hundred and thirty students registered and received instruction from Mrs. Charlotte Haskell.

All of the students in the junior class are tested in September for vocabulary, comprehension, and rate. The results are available to teachers and students.

A diversity of materials are used in order to meet the individual needs of each student so that he may progress at his own rate and achieve success. Listening and study skills are taught as well as advanced reading skills. Next year a course in reading will be offered on an elective basis to all students in grade nine.

Students Learn To Debate

To be able to deliver a debate with clarity, logic, and an analytical point of view is the goal of Fundamentals of Debating. A student is taught to detect fallacies in everyday reasoning and to understand both sides of the question. Mr. Smith trains his students to develop their thinking process. Fundamentals of Debating is recommended for those interested in the Debate Club.

Psychology Class

Explores Man's Personality

Why do people behave as they do? Students taking psychology are given the opportunity to explore the complex personality of man and the many reasons for his behavior. Before venturing into the realm of psychology, it is important to realize that the course is integrated into other fields; such as, anthropology, biology, and sociology.

To define the necessary terms is the first step in studying psychology. A vocabulary in this course consists of such words as maturity, normalcy, and personality. Students in Mr. Robert Robles' class elect topics of interest for their discussion groups. The teen-age attitude toward dating, religion, adults, and marriage have been a few of the interests of group discussions. Through outside reading, research papers, surveys, and panels, students better understand mental health, group behavior, and childhood. Many scientific research projects and experiments have been conducted; such as, teaching a group of students Russian under varied conditions and comparing hamsters, one exposed to a warm environment, the other to a cold, secluded one.

This course is recommended for juniors and seniors. After studying psychology, students better understand the many problems of man, his heritage, and his environment.

Music And Speech Provide A Cultural Atmosphere For B. H. S.

Bangor High School has made two new additions to its Music Department this year. These courses, Choral Lab and Music Theory Class, have been received with much enthusiasm and interest on the part of the students. The Music Theory Class under the direction of Mr. Julius Kostick will long be remembered for its work on the Alma Mater of B.H.S.

Twice a week the Choral Lab meets to study the composers of the Classical, Baroque, and Romantic Periods. They also learn music terminology and how to vocalize individually as well as in ensembles. Mrs. Myrle Coffey and Mr. Kostick have spent many hours working to make this music program the success that it is.

The Speech Department also helps to bring culture to the students at B.H.S. Foundations of Speech, Dramatic Arts, and Oral Interpretation, all of which are semester courses provide students with the opportunity to become skilled and poised when speaking before an audience. Mrs. Barbara Browne's classes have been responsible for a wide variety of speeches such as persuasive, informative, demonstrative, and after-dinner speeches. Mrs. Browne provides her students with an informal atmosphere in which to learn.

The race is on and Chip Brooks seems to be the horse in Valerie Wright's demonstration speech.

Enthusiasm Highlights Successful Art Program

Under the direction of J. Palmer Libby, one hundred and fifty students enrolled in the art class. Displaying enthusiasm and originality, these students have worked on paper mache sculptures, wood carvings, and linoleum prints. Japanese bookbinding and tie-dying are only two of the many demonstrations by Mr. Libby. This class is set up to teach anyone interested in the practical aspects of art. The display cases located outside the art room are constant reminders of the originality and creativity of the art students at Bangor High School.

Fine Arts Survey Introduced

With the skirl of bagpipes, the beat of the tom-tom, and the resonant wail of Medea, Fine Arts Survey has followed man's creative struggle. At Bangor High School the Fine Arts Survey course brings together in historical perspective literature, art, music, and drama. This material is presented in a variety of ways. Unusual on a secondary level, Bangor High School is one of the few high schools in the New England States to have such a program.

Five members of the faculty lecture in turn concerning their specific field: Mr. J. Palmer Libby, Mrs. Barbara Browne, Mr. C. Robert Jones, Mr. Julius Kostick, and Mr. Wallace Woodcock. Man's development from primitive times to the twentieth century is studied. Some approaches are lectures, discussions, individual student projects, outside speakers from the community, films, and student-prepared lectures. Some of the unusual presentations this year have been a bagpipe recital by Ned Smith, a lecture and violin presentation by Elizabeth Tibbetts, and a pantomime dance by three members of the Order of the Arrow. Mrs. Margo Hamm of Bangor Civic Theatre gave a reading from the Greek play Medea.

Language Department Offers Variety

As the world becomes smaller by new methods of communication and travel, knowledge of foreign languages is becoming vitally important. To meet the needs of their students, the foreign language teachers at Bangor High have attempted to introduce into the curricula the histories and cultures of other lands as well as the study of basic grammar and vocabulary.

Every other year, many second and third year French students go to the French-speaking province of Quebec, where they apply their knowledge of the language outside of class.

Spanish-speaking students begin conversing almost immediately in the first year. They gradually progress through simple grammar and vocabulary until they are able to read more difficult stories in Spanish literature.

Spanish and French students alike enjoy the excellent facilities of Bangor High's language laboratory. The students improve their speed of conversation as well as their comprehension through the use of tape recorders, microphones, and earphones in the language laboratory.

In order to obtain a basic foundation of modern languages, Latin students study grammar and vocabulary. First year students obtain a basic foundation readying them for a study of Caesar's campaigns in the second year. Third and fourth year students learn to appreciate the writings of Cicero and Virgil.

Classical civilization, a course new this year, requires no training in any foreign language but emphasizes that the period of classical civilization produced many of the world's greatest works in literature, art, sculpture, and architecture.

This year Russian has been offered on an experimental basis to a limited number of students. Mr. G. Craig Abbott of the English department has been instructor.

History Comes To Life In The Classroom

The Social Studies Department, located in a fine suite in the new high school, has its traditional offerings. In addition to classes in United States History, Economics, and Problems of Democracy are two additional one-semester courses—Far Eastern History and Backgrounds of Africa.

Two added teachers joined the Social Studies Department last September. Mr. James Quine came from Caribou, Maine. Although Mr. John Peterson has taught at Bangor High School in the Core Curriculum, he is now in the Social Studies staff.

In November, 1964, Mr. Gonyar represented the state of Maine at a study conference in Washington, D. C. The topic of the conference, which was sponsored by the National Education Association, Department of Classroom Teachers, was "The Local Teachers' Association and Improvement of Curriculum and Instruction." Mr. Gonyar found this a very helpful and worthwhile trip.

History was brought to life through frequent use of the opaque projectors, motion pictures, overhead projectors, and various other types of equipment from the audio-visual department. The new methods in presenting history made classes more interesting to students and teachers alike.

Advances Keynote Science Department

Advancement is the key word to describe the science department at BHS. Three new courses were offered to a limited number of students: BSCS Biology, Advanced Biology, and CBA Chemistry.

BSCS Biology (Biological Science Curriculum Study) was taught to a class of sixteen by Mr. Douglas Stafford. The course is an approach to investigate science and its major concepts.

Advanced Biology was introduced and taught by Mr. Stafford. This program was offered to a certain number of students with the prerequisite being regular lab biology courses.

CBA Chemistry, derived from the Chemical Bond Approach Project, was taught to one class by Mr. Bradley Peters. This study of chemistry introduced new concepts along with a regular lab program.

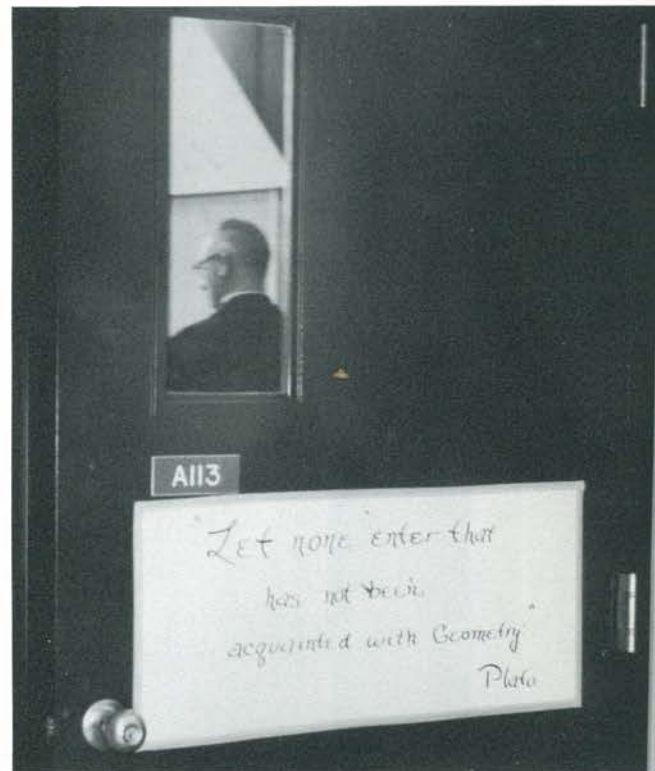

In addition to the many educational opportunities offered to the students of Bangor High School, the science department offered lab experience to non-college students for the first time. There were also qualified students who took science courses at the University of Maine.

Math Department Prepares Students For Tomorrow's World

Bangor High School's curriculum provides a wide variety of mathematics courses to satisfy the needs of both the college and non-college students.

Geometry and algebra are still under the heading of required subjects for all college-bound students. The TEMAC system proves to be a successful system of instruction for the calculus classes. For the first time, a B.H.S. student who plans to major in mathematics has been taking a mathematics course at the University of Maine. The math department is quite pleased to have a student taking this course at the University of Maine.

Plans have been made to separate the general mathematics course into three divisions, General Math I, II, and III. Those students receiving a satisfactory rank in their general math course will be eligible to advance to General Math II and III.

Students taking the non-college preparatory programs have the opportunity to take courses in Consumer Business, as well as General Mathematics.

The math department at B.H.S. has set up a curriculum to prepare its students to meet the challenges of higher education and the business world.

Business Staff Looks Toward The Age Of Automation

The future-minded business staff at Bangor High School is well aware of the fact that automation is replacing many people in today's business world. Naturally, something has to be done to train the business students for skills that will be needed in a few years. The business teachers met in groups to study the idea of automation. The teachers then employed what they learned by providing for the business students a curriculum that is up to date with the modern business world.

The use of the transcribing machine has never been stressed before. Today the senior business students are acquiring wide-spread experience on the transcribing machines. The dictator machine also plays a prominent part in the field of business education. Several different types of dictation, such as legal, medical, and governmental dictation have been provided in order to perfect the students' skills by introducing a broader range of fields.

Income tax is a familiar term to the Bangor High School business students who have been learning about the many facets associated with filing income tax forms.

The business staff has worked hard to provide a well-rounded program of studies for its students. With the help and guidance of their teachers, coupled with the desire to learn today's business, the students will be ready to branch out into tomorrow's ever-changing world.

Two New Shops Are Added In Industrial Arts Department

When Bangor High School moved to its Broadway building, the Industrial Arts Department gained modern, well-equipped shop areas. The added Graphic Arts and Transportation programs have given a well-rounded course that offers something for everyone. Each spacious shop is thoroughly equipped with the most modern machinery and facilities available allowing a progressive program. Every effort has been made in the selecting and setting-up of the furnishings to attain this end.

The response of the students has been fine, both in enrollment and quality of work. During the fall semester 240 boys enrolled in the industrial arts classes. The college preparatory students have been particularly welcome. The pre-engineering experience with machinery, electricity, and drafting will help in college work. Those enrolled in transportation learn how to care for and make repairs on their own automobiles. The printing industry is studied by the graphic arts groups which have printed much material for the high school as well as private printing of their own.

Eighteen class subjects are available because each major field is subdivided into three sections. A basic course is recommended as a prerequisite, with specialized study following. It is possible for a student to gain experience in all six major fields, or to concentrate his study in one or two areas.

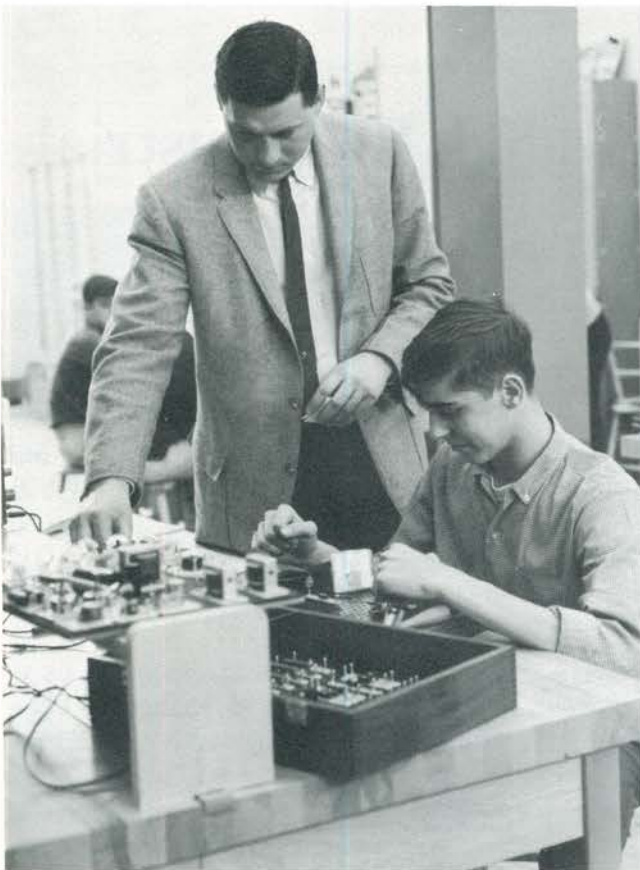

This expanded program is being carried on by six teachers: Mr. Vincent Cuozzo in Mechanical Drawing, Mr. Gerald Covert in Metalworking, Mr. Floyd Folsom in Graphic Arts, Mr. Richard Foster in Transportation, Mr. Charles Landerkin in Woodworking, and Mr. Merle Lounsbury in Electricity. Their teaching experience is valuable as they influence and educate the students of B. H. S.

Practical Art Students Gain Experience

An outgrowth of the core curriculum, the Practical Arts program is designed to provide practical learning experience for students. As sophomores, this year's class studies English, math, current world problems, foods, and art. Pertaining to the foods program, the students study nutrition, food preparation, and care and use of equipment. A chef from the Oronoka Restaurant has lectured about the duties of his profession. Field trips to food plants have also been a part of the program. Actual cooking experience in the foods laboratory of the high school has provided training.

The junior year will consist of on-the-job training in the school. The senior Practical Arts students will be assigned supervised work experience in the community.

Home Economics Stresses Home And Family Living

Home Economics Stresses Home and Family Living. . . On the opening day of school the Bangor High School administration, faculty, and students moved into its Broadway home. What could be more of a challenge to the Home Economics Department than completely different laboratories and surroundings? When the furniture and equipment arrived, the students had first-hand consumer experience as they arranged the kitchens. Each of the four kitchens in the foods laboratory was equipped for a different economic level. The expanded facilities in all areas offered a greater variety of learning for all the girls.

The basis of the Home Economics Department is improvement of home and family living. The program is divided into seven distinct units: personal and family relations, child care and development, housing and home decorating, home management and consumer buying, foods and nutrition, clothing and textiles, and family health and safety. The program offers a three year sequence to all girls majoring in Home Economics.

Senior Special is a comprehensive survey course covering all areas. It is intended for business and college-bound senior girls with no previous study of high school home economics.

Christine Fournier was the winner of the Rural Electrification Quiz Contest from Bangor High School. This award made her eligible to compete in state competition. Winner of the Betty Crocker Homemaker's Award on the local level was Judith A. Allen. She also competed in the state contest.

The department will undergo many changes in the coming year. The curriculum will be set up on a semester basis. Of the six major units offered, one will be covered each semester. This will allow more girls to take advantage of the program, enabling them to choose areas of specific interest. Plans are also being made for a nursery school to be held at the school in connection with the Marriage and Family, and Child Development units. These changes will make the Home Economics Department even more beneficial to the students of Bangor High School.

Distributive Education Students Learn Fundamentals Of Business

Students in the Distributive Education course met at Bangor High School in the morning for classes in English, math, retailing, displaying, and typing. In the afternoons they worked part-time at places of business in the city. Most of the students continue their jobs of selling and servicing after graduation. Some worked at Grant's and Freese's. At Lyford-Woodard, Ray Moran's work consisted of servicing, cleaning, and storing furs. Jerry Whitehouse finished photos at Janel's Studio. To enroll, qualified students must have completed their junior year satisfactorily, be at least sixteen years old, and show definite interest in the program. The twenty students of this year's course are under the direction of Mr. Raymond Thibodeau.

Distributive Education allows students to earn, while they learn the fundamentals of good business. They acquire general knowledge and experience in fields that interest them.

Special Class Becomes An Active Part Of B. H. S.

Bangor High School's special class is in its third year. There are eleven students in the class. They participate in a regular academic program taught by Mr. Ronell Bradbury. New to their course this year is the addition of such classes as art, wood shop, home economics, and R.O.T.C. There is also a work experience program with four students working half a day in certain areas of the building and two working in the community. This program expansion has been due to having better facilities in the new high school. The whole program is designed to make its students contributing citizens in any community.

Library Is Center Of Academic Activity

The pleasant atmosphere, the colorful arrangement of books, and the artistic displays on view in the showcase make the library a favorite place for learning and studying in the school. This year there has been a much greater interest in reading on the part of the students. Circulation figures for both fiction and non-fiction are greatly increased.

Miss Paulene Dunn and Mrs. Isabelle Croxford deserve credit for managing a library of more than 7,000 books and an average daily attendance of between three and four hundred students. Credit should also go to the many library aides who helped in getting things settled last fall and continued their services throughout the year.

Bangor High School is greatly indebted to the Bangor Public Library for the purchase of thousands of new books and many magazines. After years of planning and preparation the new library has become one of the most attractive and well-stocked school libraries in the state.

R O T C Develops Leadership

The Reserve Officers' Training Corps is a program to develop student leadership, teach citizenship ideals, develop an understanding of the opportunities existing in the military services of the United States, and assist the institution in the development of mature, self-disciplined, responsible citizens.

The High School R.O.T.C. program is a complement to the college level R.O.T.C. program, leading to the commissioning of a male college graduate as an officer in the Armed Forces of the United States. The R.O.T.C. department is commanded by Lt. Col. Walter C. Franzen, who has recently served in Viet Nam.

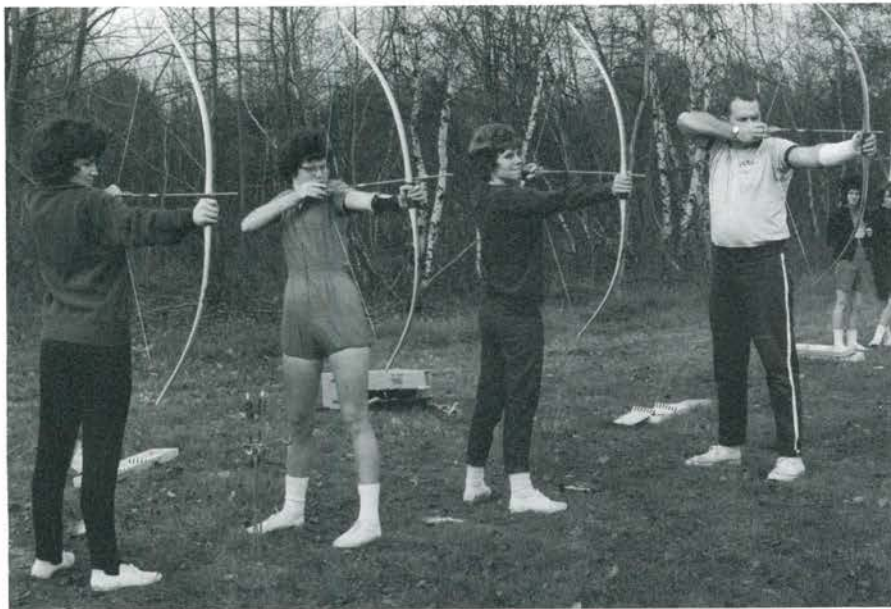

The curriculum is one prescribed by the Department of Army for the more than 400 high schools in the nation that have an R.O.T.C. program. Courses of instruction include military customs and organization, weapons instruction, first aid, map reading, tactics, and methods of instruction.

The program gives any interested cadet the opportunity to learn valuable information and to attain rank. The cadet may exercise authority that he never thought would be possible. A high school student can mature rapidly in this course.

In addition to the regular classroom program, the R.O.T.C. faculty members sponsor and train three extra-curricular student activities. The Stetson Rifles is an all-R.O.T.C. drill unit that represents BHS in an annual drill competition held at Fort Devons, Massachusetts, and performs for parades and school activities. The Stetsonettes is an all-girl drill unit that performs during the BHS basketball season and at parades held in Bangor. The R.O.T.C. Rifle Teams represent BHS in small bore (.22 calibre) rifle matches in the State of Maine and the U. S. Army marksmanship program.

Physical Education Provides Complete Program Of Physical Fitness

A shiny gymnasium, complete with every imaginable piece of modern equipment, sparked enthusiasm from the students in the physical education classes. The boys' and girls' gym classes participated in programs designed to teach such fundamental skills and games as basketball, badminton, volleyball, and gymnastics. Physical fitness tests were administered to the gym classes three times during the year in order to measure the improvement of each individual.

Among the most popular activities of the physical education curriculum were gymnastics, archery, weightlifting, and square dancing. The square dancing program continued approximately three weeks, during which time the B.H.S. gym was a lively spot of activity.

This year the physical education department has been able to sponsor a larger number of intramural sports than ever before. Boys intramural touch football under the direction of Mr. Granville MacMillan was an active program during the fall. Field hockey was conducted last fall for the girls. During the long indoor season an enthusiastic number of boys and girls participated in the volleyball and basketball intramurals. Skiing was a favorite sport at B.H.S. Mr. Ralph Baxter conducted classes in skiing to help the beginners become skilled enough to manage a moderate slope. Mr. MacMillan and Mr. Baxter served in the physical education department in addition to their regular academic duties.

The goal of the physical education staff has been to acquaint the students with basic skills and to encourage physical fitness.

Driver Education Keeps Up With The Times

Bangor High School has the most modern equipment available in the Driver Education Department. It is the only high school in the state of Maine to have simulators (machines used in the classroom to simulate driving).

A student must spend thirty hours in the classroom. There he learns about motor vehicle laws and about the mechanics of a car. He is put in an "on the spot" situation by means of the movie screen and simulators that resemble cars. These give the feeling that the student is really driving and gives him added experience in learning correct driving habits. Twelve hours must be spent working on these machines. Three hours of actual driving experience are achieved by means of two Plymouth cars donated by the Dorr Chrysler-Plymouth Company.

Since the automobile is today the most common method of transportation, it is most important to have safe, qualified drivers. At B.H.S. through the driver education course, taught by Mr. Lloyd Rhodes and Mr. David Rand, the student is instructed in the importance of good driving.

Meticulous Custodians Keep School Immaculate

Three beeps calling Mr. George Hayes to some area of the school where there is a problem is a familiar sound to the students of B. H. S. Mr. Hayes, head custodian, along with his staff of eight, worked not only during the school year, but also during the time of construction.

Beginning in the early hours of the morning with the raising of the flag, until late hours at night, the average day of the custodians is extremely full. Waxing floors and ramps, fixing jammed lockers, replacing broken desks, and keeping the general appearance of the school neat are only a few of their many tasks. The physical plant of the high school is very large and must be kept in operating condition. The students of B.H.S. owe a great deal to the custodians for all that they do to make the school pleasant and clean.

Mrs. Lois Johnson cuts brownie squares.

Cafeteria Has Latest Equipment

Another show area of Bangor High School is the cafeteria where the total value of the machinery alone is approximately $34,000.

Under the management of Chef Richard McLaughlin and staff, students have a choice of a complete hot lunch or a selection of varied foods in the a la carte line.

Mrs. Rena Bowles, school dietitian, plans the meals. The division of labor follows: Doris Potter, baking; Lois Johnson, baking and cashier; Perneal Leighton, main course; Natalie Mansell, vegetable cook; Marie Harris, a la carte line.

Student Council Boasts Banner Year

With rallies, dances, and a "blazing" controversy, the BHS Student Council started a year that was to be characterized by greatly increased school spirit and a new camaraderie between administration, faculty, and the student body. Intercity relationships were also strengthened with a medley relay and joint ram and witch hunts and burning held in Brewer and Bangor respectively, before the traditional Veterans' day football game.

With the beautiful building, it was only natural that the student-teacher relationship should become as up-to-date and exhilarating as the modern educational facilities. Through such innovations as apple day and "chit-chat" sessions, the Student Council brought the students and teachers closer together. Teachers and students participated in the new surge of school spirit, buying pins and porkies, and turning out "en masse" to cheer the Rams to victory.

The tradition of welcoming the A.F.S. exchange students was carried on with added vigor. The Student Council financed telephone calls home and the purchase of BHS rings for Raquel and Chris. The Student Council, as well as the student body, took great pleasure in the deep and heart-felt appreciation demonstrated by Chris and Raquel.

Peter Gautschi, an energetic sophomore, brought distinction to the Bangor High School Student Council when he was elected State Student Council President at the convention held in Calais. Peter has proved worthy of this high position which he will fulfill until fall of 1965.

National Honor Society Sets Example

Lifting high its twin standards of academic excellence and school citizenship, the Bangor High School National Honor Society set an example for the student body. The members were elected from among those students who had maintained averages of 85 or better academically while participating in diverse extra-curricular activities. The elect were inducted in an impressive ceremony at the May recognition assembly.

Under the able leadership of Frederick Emery, president; Joan Jordan, secretary; and Mrs. Viola Woodward, adviser, the chapter functioned efficiently. Members ushered at school events and sponsored a booth and talent show for All Bangor Night. The traditional Valentine's Day received a great response from enthusiastic BHS cupids. Harbingers of Valentine greetings, the NHS delivered songs as well as cards. The club has given apt expression to its ideals of scholarship, leadership, character, and service.

"Oh my darling, Oh my darling Valentine . . .," reverberated through the halls of B.H.S.

Debate Club Takes Honors In Major Events

Resolved: That nuclear weapons should be controlled by an international organization! Inspired by this proposition, the BHS debaters achieved an illustrious season. Three teams emerged undefeated from the Stearns High School tournament, setting the mood early for victory.

Under the supervision of Mr. Rex Smith, the Debate Club entered three teams in the Seventeenth Annual University of Maine High School Debate Tournament. Donald Goodridge and David Gautschi received Certificates of Achievement in the varsity division, while Diane Johnson and Diane Harris received the same for the novice division.

Coming in second in the Penobscot Valley Debate Conference held in March, the BHS debate team then prepared for its trip to Columbia University. David Gautschi, Donald Goodridge, Peter McEvoy, and Marc Owen represented BHS at the Columbia University event. The Bangor team made a fine showing; David Gautschi was rated tenth outstanding speaker out of nearly 400 participants.

Bangor played host to the Qualifying Rounds for the Bates League State Tournament in April. Sixteen schools participated; BHS was one of the five schools chosen to compete in the final rounds that were held at Bates College. Awards were given to each of the four Bangor High School participants: Esa-Jane Rapaport, Marc Owen, Donald Goodridge, and Peter McEvoy.

Mr. Smith gives Mark Maynard and Esa-Jane Rapaport some helpful hints.

BOYS' STATE—John McKernan, Joshua Cutler, Steven Dorsky, Richard Klain, Peter McEvoy, Bruce Moore.

Girls' State And Boys' State Apply Americanism

Girls' State and Boys' State are practical applications of Americanism and good citizenship. They are non-partisan, non-political attempts to teach and inculcate in the youth of America a love of God and country. The purpose is to afford girls and boys a chance to participate as self-governing citizens of an imaginary state. The state of Dirigo is run the same way as the state of Maine; delegates are divided into political parties, and live in mythical towns. Any delegate may run for an office in the local, county, or state level, by obtaining the required number of signatures on a petition. Primaries are held for each party; then the vigorous campaigning for the office begins. Just before the election, a rally is held for each party with the candidates giving impressive campaign speeches. After the election, the newly-elected officials serve in their offices for a day, attending committee meetings and voting on legislation.

Any girl or boy in his junior year of high school is eligible who meets the following qualifications: leadership, character, courage, honesty, scholarship, (upper half of class), cooperativeness, and physical fitness. The delegates to Boys' State are Joshua Cutler, Peter McEvoy, John McKernan. The alternates are Steven Dorsky, Richard Klain, and Bruce Moore. Mary Hillman, Evelyn Merrick, Marilyn Ornstein and Patricia Webster are the delegates to Girls' State. Their alternates are Martha Eaton, Pamela Harris, Christina Pressey, and Sue Shapero.

Orascope Sets Vibrant Pace

To keep pace with the massive facility which is now Bangor High School, the Orascope carried an unprecedented number of both sophomores and juniors, on its staff this year. The staff, however, proved as active as it was large, as the school newspaper enjoyed new standards of editorial excellence; and the reporters successfully covered every story from all corners of the building.

Among the unique activities given prime coverage during the year was Bangor High's first Winter Carnival. The Orascope also published a commemorative issue for the New England Drama Festival held in April. The final issue contained a supplement prepared by the faculty to inform the reader concerning new academic programs. In addition to these, the retention of the paper's familiar features added appeal to the format.

Working out of the publications office, Editors Josh Cutler, Jock McKernan, and Sharon Gass, together with the entire staff working under adviser Miss Jessie L. Fraser, have devoted much time in making the Orascope the well-written, unbiased journal it is.

Orascope editors busily prepare for their final issue.

AFS OFFICERS—First row: C. Crabtree, D. Rathbun, B. Hess, N. Moulaison, A. Mayo, Mrs. Louise Hammons. Second row: S. Broder, W. Cohen, W. Marsh, R. Downes, D. Jackson, V. Farwell.

France And Brazil Come To B. H. S.

Raquel Alessandri of Brazil and Christianne Brunet of France, two charming young girls, have spent the academic year in Bangor under the auspices of the AFS chapter. Raquel, who resided with Dr. and Mrs. Edward Porter, and Chris, who resided with General and Mrs. Philip Tukey, were able to attend school, participate in many activities, and become acquainted with American life. The American Field Service's goal of promoting international good-will has certainly been achieved this year.

Fund raising projects were continually being instituted by the AFS Board. The traditional penny day was carried out while a bake sale and dance were innovated. The success of these two events has encouraged the Board to traditionalize them, also.

The AFS meetings were particularly diversified and interesting this year. Talks were given not only by Raquel, Chris, and Richard Downes who spent the summer in Ecuador but also by Dr. R. O. Kellogg, chairman of the adult AFS committee. The AFS Board even furthered their ideals of understanding, tolerance, and good-will through their assembly. The five exchange students in the Bangor area spoke briefly of their stay in America.

Under the guidance of Mrs. Louise Hammons, Wesley Marsh and Richard Downes, co-chairmen of the Board, supervised an energetic and able group. All members cooperatively worked for better foreign relations, as well as school unity.

AFS SENIOR MEMBERS—First row: Mrs. Louise Hammons, Adviser, L. Keyser, D. Jackson, S. Sederquist, B. Coulton, E. Rapaport, E. Cohen. Second row: S. Smith, G. Michelson, M. Gopan, A. McCloskey, C. F. H. A. Is Re-established

Bangor High School's re-established Future Homemakers' Club is one of the most practical and rewarding organizations in the school. Under the guidance of Mrs. Elizabeth Calkins and Miss Patricia Austin, the club instructs its members in several areas of home living: personal and family relationships, child care and development, housing and home furnishings, home management and consumer buying, foods and nutrition, clothing and textiles, and family health and safety. The only pre-requisite for membership is one year of high school home economics.

The officers for the 1964-1965 year were Cheryl Patten, president; Jane Roberts, vice-president; Terry Nado, secretary; Francine Dauphinee, treasurer; and Judy Locke, parliamentarian.

Teaching Is Their Goal

During monthly meetings of the Marion A. DuBourdieu Chapter of the Future Teachers of America, the members learned about careers in the field of teaching. Under the guidance of Mrs. Charlotte Haskell and Mrs. Anne Brann, the club has enjoyed many interesting and informative programs. Among the highlights of the year have been the talks by Miss Marion A. DuBourdieu, a former Bangor High School mathematics teacher for whom the club was named; Mr. Lawrence Bagley of the Maine Teachers' Association, who spoke on "Why Teach?"; and a panel discussion on "The Qualities of a Good Teacher" by Mrs. Marjorie Bunker, Mrs. Jeanne Whitten, Mr. Philip Gonyar, and Dr. James MacCampbell. Mr. Robert Robles, a psychology teacher at Bangor High School, spoke on "Psychology and Teaching."

Mrs. Anne Brann explained the Student Tutoring Program, which was initiated at Bangor High School; tutoring gives the prospective teachers experience in teaching.

The officers for the 1964-65 year were Suzanne Averill, president; Jacequeline Sereyko, vice-president; Judy Downes, secretary; Carol Brown, treasurer; Connie Cross, historian; Betsy Gotlieb, librarian; Paula Toothaker, parliamentarian; and Deborah Stockson, songleader.

Miss Marion A. DuBourdieu, for whom the Bangor Chapter of F.T.A. is named, receives a corsage from Suzanne Averill, president.

Bangor Welcomes New England Thespians

Welcoming over two hundred guests, Bangor High School hosted the 1965 New England Drama Festival. A total of 151 students arrived in Bangor, along with several New England Council members, judges, and guests from various drama associations; also on hand to work were about seventy-five Bangor High School students and faculty members. The two-day affair was the result of much preliminary planning and work. Special credit should be given to Mrs. Barbara Browne and Mr. Herbert Billett, General Co-Chairmen and Hosts, for the outstanding job they did in planning and carrying out the Festival.

Each New England state was represented by two plays, chosen from the state finals after various preliminary contests. The program consisted entirely of either one-act dramas or cuttings, ranging from light humor to intense drama.

The culmination of the entire contest was the presentation of awards and ratings. Each play was judged separately with a possible rating of "excellent," "very good," or "good." At this time also, the coveted awards of All New England Actors and Actresses were announced; this honor was bestowed on fifteen outstanding young thespians.

Judging the plays were three critics recognized as experts in the field of drama: Mr. Stephen D. Gilbert, Professor Frederick C. Pacord, Jr., and Miss Marion Sawyer.

These two N. E. thespians certainly don't travel light.

All Bangor Night Features Follies Of '65

Under the general chairmanship of Sharyn Torbert, the Student Council presented the "Follies of '65!" Sponsoring both booths and talents, B. H. S. club members enthusiastically worked to carry out a most successful evening of fun and games. Joan Laliberte was chairman of booths, while John Haskell was chairman of stage, assisted by Josh Cutler and Kenneth Winship.

The first part of the All Bangor event featured booths ranging from miniature golf to slap happy, soaking sponges. Many eating places furnished refreshments for the evening.

After participating in diverse activities, the audience was ushered into the Peakes Auditorium where the stage show was presented. The skillful direction and the added facilities of the stage made this show a particularly polished production. As its name indicated, assorted acts were presented including dances and songs by the Crickets, the Barracudes, the Talismen, the J. C. B. 3, and a large chorus. The show culminated with "Put 'em Back the Way They Was" from Lil' Abner, featuring the swimteam. With the finale, the new cheerleaders and Student Council officers were introduced.

J. Haskell, stage chairman, S. Torbert, general chairman, and P. Shapero, president of Student Council, plan for ALL BANGOR NIGHT.

HAM RADIO CLUB—First row: J. Barry, T. Cleveland, J. Mann, M. Day, C. Wilbur, Mr. Herbert Bridges, advisor.

Ham Radio Club Is Founded

Roger, wilco, and ten-four are rather foreign sounding expressions which are now being heard throughout Bangor High School. These expressions are used by the recently established Ham Radio Club, which is advised by Mr. Herbert Bridges and led by president Curtis Wilbur, and James Mann, secretary, trustee, and treasurer. The members have established their own station and have built parts of the transmitting equipment themselves. The Ham Radio Club is fulfilling its purpose, which is "to introduce people to an understanding of the fields of electronics," and also to help its members learn the value of operating a ham radio. This club promotes better relations among people of the United States and throughout the world.

Mike Day demonstrates to John Barry and Tom Cleveland how he operates his ham radio.

ART CLUB—First row: S. Stearns, J. Averill, S. Melvin, B. Dyer, E. Shapero. Second row: D. Shepard, C. Smith, K. Rankin, E. Eaton, V. Gustafson, C. Nye, K. Carlisle, F. Martin, S. Berman, C. Steeves, K. Rich, P. Raymond.

Art Club Fosters Creativity

A splash of paint, a smudge of charcoal—September sees the birth of a new club at Bangor High School. Advised by the art teacher, J. Palmer Libby, the Art Club attracted creative members from all classes. Mark Pooler, Vicki Gustafson, and Karen Rich were elected to form a governing triumvirate.

The club has had numerous uses for its talents. Members have provided decorations for school dances and created sign and poster work for the New England Drama Festival. At the Junior Winter Carnival, their rendition of a squat Eskimo won the snow sculpture contest; at All Bangor Night they sold their own hand made products, such as origami paper figures and water colors.

In between projects, the members have pursued their own artistic interests of painting, sculpting, and drawing. Perhaps it is here that the club has made its greatest contribution, in helping its members see things with new and wider eyes.

ART CLUB—First row: D. Freese, V. Manzer, R. Bartlett, D. Nightingale, J. Craig, D. Harris, G. Wilson, M. Pooler, L. Smith, M. Pearson, R. Gramlich.

Library Trains Assistants

Library assistants are students who are trained to aid not only the Bangor High School librarians, but also the students. The library assistants, under the guidance of Miss Paulene Dunn and Mrs. Isabelle Croxford, help with the shelving, slipping, and checking out of library books, checking of library permits, and also caring for the library itself.

The library assistants also designed and prepared the monthly library exhibits. Some of these exhibits have included displays of Alaska and deep sea life; "Happiness is Your School Library Open at Last" was one of the most memorable displays.

While serving as a library assistant, the student learns to respect the privileges that the library offers and to care for library books and magazines.

The officers for the 1964-1965 year were Barbara Stoffel, president; Tom Bostock, vice-president; Brenda Dyer, treasurer; and Jane O'Loughlin, secretary.

Students Serve School

Recently founded by responsible students and teachers of Bangor High School, the Student Organization for Service has been accepted by the administration as one of the most trustworthy, responsible, and helpful organizations existing at Bangor High School. Each student was assigned by the guidance department a specific duty for which the student was held responsible.

These duties included collecting attendance slips, working in the general office, making out tardy and admittance slips, collecting variation slips, doing corridor duty, answering the telephone, and performing odd jobs in the guidance office. Advised by Mrs. Arline Peakes and Mr. John Peterson, the S. O. S. consists of approximately sixty members.

The officers for the 1964-1965 year were Linda Hardy, president; Delores Ribero, vice-president; Kathie Salter, secretary; and Sherri Simpson, treasurer.

Band Enjoys Popularity

With the advent of Mr. Julius Kostick, the Bangor High School Band has enjoyed increasing popularity. In order to add music to the lives of all interested students, he has urged beginners to join the band on a "play-as-you-learn" basis. Already the membership has grown from twenty-six to seventy-five.

Musical enthusiasm spread from the school to the community as the band made over forty appearances at home games, rallies, assemblies, concerts, and parades. The band was a half-time attraction on both WABI and WLBZ Radio Stations during the basketball season and, in cooperation with the cheerleaders, inaugurated the musical cheers.

The band's repertoire ranged widely, including serious music, show tunes, classical music, jazz, and rock 'n roll. Students thrilled to the rhythms of "Michael," "Swinging Safari," and "South Pacific"; the bleachers shook beneath their enthusiastic response to "Shake, Rattle and Roll."

Surely the talent and hard work of the members was rewarded. They have been among the most successful promoters of school spirit; better still, they have added new rhythms to the daily tempo of school and community. He who has ears to hear, let him hear the Bangor High School Band "say it with a song."

Orchestra Provides Entertainment

Under the direction of Miss Marion McKenney, the Bangor High School orchestra presented numerous programs of entertainment throughout the year. At Junior Exhibition, the group played the "March from Scipio," which has become a tradition of that event. Other performances included the Christmas Concert and the Pops Concert.

Plans for improving the quality and performance of the orchestra were formulated last fall and were carried out throughout the season. Full orchestra rehearsals were conducted every Wednesday evening. Eighteen B.H.S. orchestra members found the reward for their practice in being selected to take part in the All-State Music Festival.

Festival Welcomes Musicians

Doors to a new world of music were opened for 450 students from all parts of Maine early in April as they took part in the annual All State Music Festival, held in Dover-Foxcroft. The three groups represented at the festival—band, orchestra, and chorus—presented an afternoon and an evening concert in which both light and classical music were played.

Well known directors led the state's finest instrumentalists and singers in numerous selections. Mr. Donald Mattran of the University of New Hampshire conducted the band, while Mr. Harold Weaver of Schenectady, N.Y., directed the orchestra. The chorus was in the capable hands of Dr. Louis Picheeri of Providence, R.I.

The top musicians throughout the state were selected for All-State in November by a panel of experienced judges. The festival provided the students participating with an opportunity to nourish their musical knowledge by working under accomplished guest conductors.

Mixed Chorus Finds Pleasure In Song

Taking full advantage of the new choral facilities, the Mixed Chorus performed on many occasions. The group, made up of over ninety boys and girls, presented three selections at the Christmas Concert: "Soon-Ah Will Be Done," a spiritual sung a cappella arranged by Dawson; "And the Glory of the Lord," from the "Messiah" by Handel; and the "Hallelujah Chorus," a traditional work also from the "Messiah." A Christmas Concert was held for the students, also.

The Pops Concert, this year entitled "A little Bit O' Ireland," was held in March in the Peakes Auditorium with a dance following in the Senior Lounge. For this annual event the Mixed Chorus sang, "When You And I Were Young Maggie Blues," a "raggie" tune, a melody of songs from "The Sound of Music" by Rodgers and Hammerstein, and the popular folk-song, "If I Had A Hammer." The chorus was accompanied throughout the year by Susan Sederquist and John Haskell.

Ensemble music was provided during the year by the Double Mixed Quartet. This group consisted of four boys and four girls, auditioning from the Mixed Chorus and chosen and directed by Mrs. Myrle Coffey.

Several local groups heard them sing "Sourwood Mountain," "Lavender Blue," "My Lord, What A Morning," "Within My Heart Breathes Music," and the ever popular "We Wish You A Merry Christmas." These groups included the Salvation Army, the Dow Officers' Wives, the Retired Teachers' Association, and the Pops Concert audience. The Quartet was accompanied by John Haskell.

IN APPRECIATION

The ORACLE Board joins with the administration, faculty, and students in expressing a grateful "thank you" to Mrs. Myrle Coffey for all that she has done in choral work at Bangor High School. Mrs. Coffey is to retire after 10 years of dedicated work in the Bangor music department.

Mixed Chorus members participate in outside groups.

Girls' Chorus Entertains

The Girls' Chorus has taken an active part in the music activities this year. Under the direction of Mrs. Myrle Coffey the chorus performed at the Christmas Concert. At this event the girls entertained the audience with three selections, "Wake with the Dawn" by

Leoncavello-Deis, "Lullaby of the Christ Child" by Bircsak, and "Shepherd's Awake" by Hallstron. At the Pops Concert the chorus presented two numbers: "Strange Music," and selections from "The King and I."

All sophomore and junior girls are eligible for membership in this group. Miss Kathleen Hewes accompanied the chorus throughout the year.

Groups Prove A Success

A group of thirteen dedicated singers, the Boys' Chorus, formed one of the main attractions of every musical event. Under the direction of Mrs. Myrle Coffey, the boys regularly attended rehearsals.

This unique group performed at the traditional Pops Concert, a program sponsored by the music groups of Bangor High School. The chorus entertained the audience with three numbers, "Yellow Bird," a calypso folk song; "Oklahoma," a favorite show tune; and "Aura Lee," an old European folk song. John Haskell accompanied them throughout the year.

Accenting the Boys' Chorus, six girls were chosen from the Girls' Chorus to form an Ensemble. The Ensemble rehearsed, in addition to their participation in the Girls' Chorus, for appearances at various civic organizations.

R. O. T. C. Offers Varied Program

The Reserve Officers' Training Corps at Bangor High School is the oldest in the nation. It has always established a precedent of quality instruction and wide curriculum. The interested cadet will study military organization and customs, first aid, modern weapons, small unit tactics, map and aerial photograph reading, methods of instruction, and many other areas of practical value. The rifle teams, drill teams, and familiarization programs offer further experiences to the cadet.

The program emphasis is on leadership training. Each cadet leader has an opportunity to exercise and demonstrate his sound judgment, traits of a leader, and proficiency in his R.O.T.C. subjects. As each student achieves greater capabilities, he is promoted to a higher cadet rank in recognition of his knowledge and skills. Young men in business executive training must wait years to exercise this type of authority.

It is the combination of a competent teaching staff, enthusiastic and experienced cadet officers, and an interested cadet corps which make the R.O.T.C. program a source of pride for the high school and the community.

Rifle Teams Earn Top Honors

Both the A and B Rifle Teams of Bangor High enjoyed successful seasons during the past school year. The A team competed in a total of 19 matches, compiling a fine record of 14 wins, 4 second places, and 1 third place. The B team competed in a total of 10 matches and completed the year with a perfect 10-0 slate.

Among the more notable accomplishments of the A team were the winning of the State Championship and the XIII U.S. Army Corps Match, competing against teams from the six New England states. The A team also won seven team trophies and thirty individual trophies and medals. The B team, not to be outdone, received two first place trophies for their fine showing.

Top shooters during the year were Carl Sanborn (team Captain), Bernie Geaghan, Bob Wheeler, John Dugan, and Mark Bastey. With the loss of only three members of the A team, coupled with the excellent record of the B team, next year should be another fine year for BHS's rifle teams.

The officers of the A team were Pres. Mark Bastey, Vice-Pres. John Dugan, Sec.-Treas. Carl Sanborn. The captain of the B team was Greg Benson.

Stetsons And Stetsonettes Have Busy Year

During the past year, the Stetson Rifles have performed at numerous public occasions. For the Veterans' Day Parade the Stetsons marched as a unit and also supplied a firing squad. At the dedication of the Bangor High School last fall, some of the members served as a firing squad and an honor guard. Four of the Stetsons have done a fine job as a color guard at all of Bangor's home basketball games. In February the entire unit performed as part of the half-time activities for the Bangor-Presque Isle game. They also performed for Armed Forces Day at Fort Devens, Massachusetts. The Stetson Rifles have been under the command of 2nd Lt. Rodney Tenny and advised by Sgt. Alfred Sudsbury.

The Stetsonettes, twenty-six snappy lassies dressed in red plaid skirts, blue vests, and red berets, have brought honors to BHS. They marched in the Halloween Parade, on Veterans' Day, and again on Memorial Day. Five times this group of trained precision drillers went through intricate routines during half-time activities at Bangor High's basketball games. The unit also rode by chartered bus to Fort Devens, Massachusetts, to represent the school on Armed Forces Day Weekend. They put on a very showy demonstration which was well accepted. The girls who have earned the name of Stetsonettes are very proud of their group and of being able to represent Bangor High School. The officers were as follows: Anna McCloskey, president; Mary Gooding, vice-pres.; Carolyn Mills, secretary-treasurer. The adviser was Lt. Col. Walter C. Franzen.

The Completion Of Bangor High School Flag Dedication Signatures

On November 14, 1964, the new Bangor High School was presented with an American Flag. Making the presentation to the school was Mr. John O'Brien, Jr., the commander of the James W. Williams Post of the American Legion. Mr. Milford Cohen, representing the School board of Bangor, accepted with appreciation the flag for the school. Cadet Corporal Ramsey, a member of the Stetson Rifles, accepted the flag to be flown from the school's flag pole. The Stetson Rifles were present to perform their duties as a color guard and a firing squad.

The flying of the new flag has helped to complete Bangor High School. Many Bangorites and students of Bangor High were present for the Dedication.

Officers' Club Has Active Year

The Officers' Club this year again played an important role in R.O.T.C. activities. Under the leadership of Wes Marsh as president, Glen Goss as vice president, and Ronald Small as secretary-treasurer, the club held its Forty-sixth Annual Military Ball at the Senior Lounge of Bangor High School. The club, as a group, also ushered at the New England Drama Festival held in Bangor this year. Throughout the school year the officers have lived up to the Officers' Code and have received respect from the other cadets.

Bangor Captures State Football Co-championship

Bangor Captures State Football Co-championship

With spirit, determination, and hard work, the 1964 fighting Rams captured the co-championship of the Maine Class A Conference. A final record of nine wins and one loss proved to be one of the best grid records in the last twenty years. Coaches Gerry Hodge, Art Miles, and Norris Nickerson deserve a great deal of credit for their tireless efforts. Led by tri-captains Rob Newman, Jim Nelson, and Dick Downes, the team started the season with a 34-12 win over Rumford. Waterville fell as the next battered victim in a 12-7 contest. A powerful Thornton Academy squad succumbed to the Rams' state title designs in a hard-fought 7-0 grid duel. The lightning speed of half-back Jim Nelson led Bangor to a 21-7 victory. A trip to Biddeford netted a 21-0 shutout victory for B.H.S. The Rams then ran their record to 6-0 with a 7-0 endurance win over highly-ranked Deering. The only loss of the year was incurred at the hands of Lewiston by a 35-0 decision. The Rams proceeded to shut out Sanford 17-0 and Cony 33-0. In the traditional game with Brewer, the Maroon and White ground out a 7-0 victory in a thrilling finale to a superb season.

Jim Nelson breaks away for a long gain.

Cross Country Number Two In State Competition

Bangor High School's Cross Country team under the able leadership of their captain, Michael Bassi, manager Robert Bartlett, and Coach G. V. Cuozzo, defeated fourteen area teams during their regular season of two four-way, two triangular, and four dual meets.

After successfully trouncing five worthy opponents in two dual meets and one big four-way contest, Bangor slid past last year's Class L state champions, the Indians of Old Town, by a score of 27 to 28 while the Jayvee team took their second of three perfect scores for the season. A perfect score is fifteen points, which is the minimum of points possible. The lowest score determines the winner. Bangor rolled over five more opponents before encountering Brewer, the Ram's traditional rival. The Bangor boys were determined to prove themselves against the seven highly rated Brewer harriers. In that gruelling tri-team meet at Rockland, the Rams posted thirty-three points to Brewer's thirty-four and Rockland's sixty-five. Another varsity victory helped the junior dalers wind up their season with a 7-0 record.

In the annual regional competition at the University of Maine, Bangor maintained its record of continuous leadership by placing second among the six teams entered in the fiercely fought contest. Bangor then went on to qualify for the state championship by beating Old Town and Crosby High of Belfast.

Only one team in the entire state was able to hold off Bangor's Rams at the state meet. Deering High of Portland posted ninety-seven points compared to Bangor's one hundred eleven, as the Rams of Deering and the Rams of Bangor led the way around the two and one half mile course at Orono.

Swim Team Takes Second In State

In their fourth year of competition, the Bangor mermen posted an 8-1 season record and went on to score a second place victory in the state championship meet. Under the leadership of Coach William McCalmon, the Rams kicked off the season with co-captains Fred McAlary and Joe Constantine showing the way to a 55-40 win over Brunswick High School. The mighty mermen seemed well on their way to their second state crown as they chalked up eight consecutive dual meet wins, losing only to Hebron Academy in their final contest of the scheduled season. The state meet saw the Rams narrowly edged by Brunswick in a contest which was not decided until the final minutes. In New England competition the Rams turned on a fine preformance defeating twenty teams to stand eighth on the six state region.

Three Bangor individuals qualified for the all New England Meet—Steve Dorsky and Joe Constantine in the backstroke, and Barry Goldsmith in the breaststroke. The team of Joe Constantine, Robby Speirs, Dick Klain, and Barry Goldsmith also qualified in the 200-yard medley relay. This same relay team set a new Maine Interscholastic record in the 200-yard event as they bettered the school record they had set earlier in the season. Other record breakers for the aquamen were Joe Constantine in the backstroke; Barry Goldsmith, breaststroke; and Fred McAlary in the 100-yard freestyle. Diver Steve Abbott brought honor to the school by becoming the number one diver in the state.

Other Bangor men who contributed to the Rams fine season were Rick Dorsky, Rick Brown, Steve Emery, Ronnie Watkins, Ken Grossman, Steve McDougall, Carl Merrill, Charles Sias, Tom Emery, Barry Cohen, Phil Perkins, and Rick O'Brien. The manager was Lenny Smith.

Tourney Thrills Highlight Ram Basketball Season

Starting slowly but finishing with spectacular excitement, Bangor High School's varsity basketball team chalked up another successful season. The Rams were less than impressive at the start of the campaign, losing six games while winning but one. However, added experience coupled with a boost in spirit enabled Coach "Red" Barry's Rams to win eleven of their last twelve games.

Junior guard Jock McKernan led the team in scoring with a fantastic 25 point per game average. Terry Rowe was an iron man on the backboards and in one game alone pulled down twenty-six rebounds. Tom Lynch and Bob Magee contributed greatly to the season's success with their dependable performances. Rob Newman, Fred Melvin, Dick Downes, and Dick Cole reinforced the Ram strength with their clutch performances throughout the season.

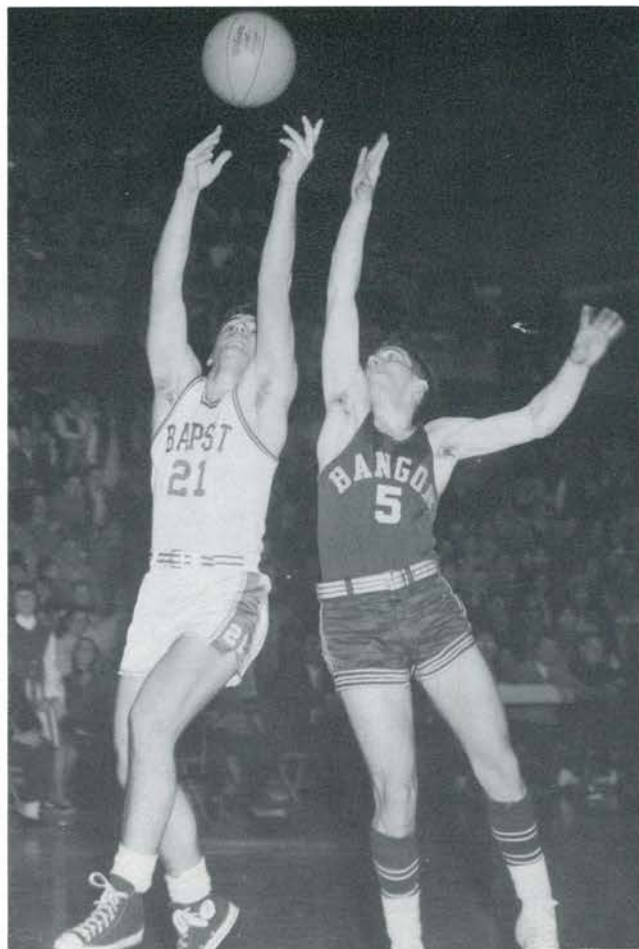

Early in the year the Rams were virtually out of the Tournament contention, but the Maroon and White fought a successful uphill battle. The end of the season found the Rams in fourth place in Eastern Maine. After crushing MCI in the opening round, the Rams faced Stearns. One half of flawless basketball saw the score knotted at 32 all. In the spectacular final seconds of the game, Bangor came so close to making up the one point deficit but lost 63-62 in one of the most exciting tournament games ever played. The Rams' performance was a tribute to high school basketball and the highlight of a highly successful season.

Jayvee's Register Successful Season

With a record of nine wins and four losses, the 1964-65 Junior Varsity basketball team achieved one of its finest seasons in years. Coach Arthur Miles, in his third year as Jayvee mentor, was well pleased with the team's outstanding performance. The Jayvees were in contention in every game, winning by as much as twenty-three, but never losing by more than six.

The junior Rams registered twin killings over Brewer J.V.'s, Old Town J.V.'s, Waterville J.V.'s, and the Bangor Freshmen. An earlier loss to the Stearn's J.V.'s was later avenged by an overwhelming margin. The Jayvees lost but once to Old Town J.V.'s and twice to John Bapst J.V.'s in closely fought contests.

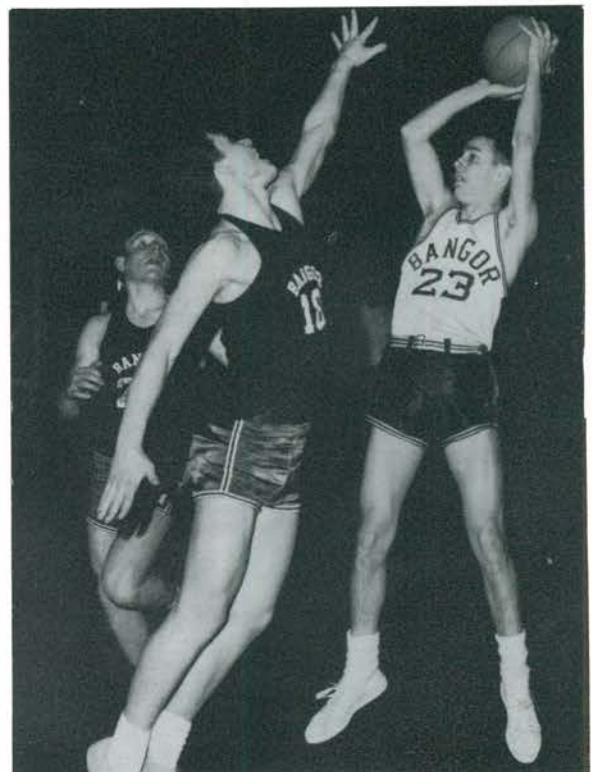

Jerry Mangawang was an individual standout, leading the team in all departments. His efforts, the play-making of Danny Ames, and the hustle of Jerry Wellington, John Stubbs, Jim Russell, and Joe Duffy combined to provide formidable competition for all opponents. Andy McClellan, Gary Cole, Dave MacCloud, Mike McNamara, Mike Nelson, and Tom Sawyer were dependable strength in reserve, contributing much to the season's success. With the help of managers Robie Robichaud and Dick Grant, the Jayvee basketball team provided BHS fans with another exciting season of well-played basketball.

B-Club Betters School

Each Friday many of the outstanding athletes of Bangor High can be seen wearing their maroon and white "B" sweaters which indicate membership in the Bangor "B" Club. The "B" Club is the goal of every sports-minded boy at Bangor High School. The Club is an honorary group composed of boys who have fulfilled the requirements of their respective varsity sports and have received varsity letters. The six varsity sports are football, cross country, swimming, basketball, track, and baseball.

With Mr. Frederick Barry as adviser, the B-Club has undertaken several projects. Members of the B-Club ushered at the football and basketball games. One of the highlights of the year was the basketball game between members of the B-Club and a Girls' All-Star team. The boys were handicapped by wearing boots tied together and boxing gloves.

The officers for the year were Robert Newman, president; Richard Downes, vice-president; and David Gautschi, secretary-treasurer.

Block That Ball

The thrill of victory and the agony of defeat have filled the Girls' Intramural Sports of 1965. Led by Coach Norris Nickerson and Miss Clarice Colwell, the girls have engaged in varied sports.

Basketball had the largest turnout with over one hundred girls dribbling, scoring, and sometimes fouling. The captains for the year were Georgette Barrows, Bonnie Booth, Kendall Carlisle, Vicki Daigle, Susan Everett, Linda Keyser, Joan Laliberte, Sally Manning, Nina Miragliano, Peggy Robinson, and Pamela Small. After an exciting season and a playoff, the "Sneakers" emerged as the conquering heroines.

There were also large turnouts for archery, field hockey, volleyball, and gymnastics. In archery, Coach Nickerson relied upon his agility to carry himself out of the path of stray arrows. Field hockey, unfortunately, was discontinued because of poor weather. Volleyball received large participation, and the enthusiasm was contagious. In gymnastics the girls have perfected their skills on the uneven parallel bars, horse, balance beam, and rings. In the regional gymnastics finals, the finalists from B.H.S. were Vicki Daigle, Kathy Garthaus, Margaret Hightower, Kitty LaBree, and Pat Towle.

Girls Triumph In Court Comedy

One of the highlights of the year was the basketball game between the Girls' All-Stars and the "B" Club. This game was the event that started the Winter Carnival. The girls beat the boys 27-24 in an exciting game which was played under normal conditions, except for a few "peculiar" rules. There were foul shots for hugging, flirting, and being too close to a member of the opposite sex. To the advantage of the girls, the boys played under the handicap of boxing gloves and heavy boots with the laces tied together.

Members of the "B" Club who participated in the game were Mike Clark, Nick Collins, Ronny Conners, John Dugan, Wayne Mosher, Marc Owen, Carl Sanborn, and Dennis Shubert.

Miss Clarice Colwell was the coach for the girls' team and Coach Gerry Hodge was the coach for the "B" Club. Officials for the game were Coach Norris Nickerson and Mr. Joel Weldon.

G. A. H. C. Promotes Interest In Girls' Athletics

The symbol for the Girls' Athletic Honor Council is the familiar red armband worn every Wednesday by members of the Council. Members of G. A. H. C. strive to promote interest in athletics for girls at B.H.S. Members must possess qualities of scholarship, leadership, dependability, and good sportsmanship. Membership in the Council is the highest athletic honor any girl can receive at Bangor High School.

The Council is in the planning stage of a Leader Corps for the girls. The 1964-65 Corps consisted of senior members of G. A. H. C. These girls helped Mr. Norris Nickerson in classes and intramurals.

Awards were provided by the Council for the girls who played hockey, basketball, and volleyball. These awards were presented at various parties during the year.

Officers for the 1965 Council were Joan Jordan, president; Linda Keyser, Vice-president; Dee Wood, secretary; and Eleanor Mason, treasurer. Miss Clarice Colwell and Mr. Norris Nickerson served as advisers for the club.

BAN-GOR

BANGOR, BANGOR, BANGOR!

This is one of the favorite cheers of the Jayvee Cheerleaders, who were a familiar sight in their maroon and white jumpered uniforms. The Jayvee Cheering Squad is the spark behind the Jayvee team and their enthusiasm spurred the team to a successful season.

The Jayvee Cheerleaders traveled to Old Town, Brewer, and Waterville during the basketball season. The group also joined the Varsity Cheerleaders in sponsoring and supporting a school dance following a basketball game.

The Jayvees led by Captain Peggy Sawyer and Adviser Miss Clarice Colwell started cheering at all the home games throughout the basketball season and then joined the Varsity Cheerleaders in pre-game cheers. Just as the Jayvee basketball team trains to become future Varsity players, the Jayvee Cheerleaders gain experience to become future Varsity Cheerleaders.

Varsity Cheerleaders Spark School Spirit

Dressed in new white sweaters and maroon and white culottes, the Varsity Cheering Squad enthusiastically cheered the football team on to a state championship. Promoting better school spirit, the cheerleaders attended many of the away games and helped spur the team to a nine and one season.

The cheerleaders, under the leadership of Captain Joan Laliberte, sparked school spirit at B.H.S. Working closely with the band and student body, the cheerleaders were successful in obtaining the support of the students, teachers, and adults at the games and rallies. With the beginning of the basketball season, the Bangor Auditorium echoed with "Shake, Rattle and Roll" and "Rams Great."

During the basketball season, many cheers were introduced. Sue Sederquist, co-captain, also led the cheerleaders at one of the games. Miss Clarice Colwell, adviser, supervised the squad.

Sophomores Have Bright Future

After five years of division under the double session program, the sophomore class has been reunited. The varied talents and interests of the class led to both academic and social achievements, as a good percentage of the class of 1967 was listed on the first semester honor roll. Mary Speirs, the pretty sophomore class queen candidate for the March of Dimes, was chosen to represent the school in the area judging at the Brewer Auditorium in February; and Peter Gautschi was elected to the office of President of the Maine Association of Student Councils. The Student Council had many enthusiastic sophomore members who worked on various committees throughout the year. Guided by its officers and its council, the sophomore class sponsored a Hoot-a-baloo and several other projects. The Class of 1967 has already demonstrated its ability, spirit, and promise in many fields.

JUNIOR CLASS OFFICERS—Thomas Knowles, vice-president; Brenda Hess, secretary; Patricia Webster, treasurer; Evelyn Merrick, president.

Class Of 1966 Sets Valuable Traditions

Bangor High's Class of '66 has taken full advantage of the excellent facilities available to the student body. Led by its council, the junior class devoted the week-end of February 5 to a successful winter carnival. The week-end's activities were off to a good start with the "All-Stars" vs. the "B" Club basketball game and an evening skating party. The following day's plans included a Tug-O-War, toboggan races, and the judging of creative snow sculptures. The Carnival ended appropriately with a semi-formal dance at which Robby Speirs and Evelyn Merrick were chosen king and queen of Bangor High School's first Winter Carnival.

Individual juniors have distinguished themselves by their participation in various extra-curricular activities. Barry Goldsmith contributed by breaking a state record in the 100 yd. breaststroke, and John McKernan was named among the members of the All-Maine basketball team. Junior Josh Cutler served as editor of the Orascope.

JUNIOR COUNCIL—First row: Mr. Nathan Diamond, P. Webster, E. Merrick, T. Knowles, B. Hess, Mrs. Rubena Pressey, Mrs. Lesa Comeau. Second row: M. Hillman, C. McGown, P. Sawyer, N. Stevens, N. Junior Exhibition Highlights The Academic Year

Ten outstanding speakers, the Junior chorus, and the Bangor High School orchestra presented the traditional Junior Exhibition for the Class of 1966 in the Peakes Auditorium.

Patricia Webster's delightful selection was a cutting from Charles Tazewell's "The Small One."

Bruce Shaw presented an interpretation of "Androcles and the Lion" by George Bernard Shaw.

Maxwell Anderson's "Joan of Lorraine" was artfully delivered by Brenda Hess, who personified Joan of Arc.

"I can't get away with anything," lamented Seth Gordon in a selection of the same name by Corey Ford.

Suzanne Shapero played the jilted teen-ager in a cutting from "Sixteen" by Maureen Daley.

John McKernan, Jr., related the moving story of "Sea of Glory" by Francis B. Thornton.

Louise Shindler presented a cutting from Cornelia Otis Skinner's "The Ape in Me."

Marc Owen characterized SaKini, the narrator of "Teahouse of the August Moon" by John Patrick.

Judy L. Howard delivered various interpretations from Edgar Lee Master's "Spoon River Anthology."

The last selection was a cutting from Robert Benchley's lecture, "A Talk to Young Men" presented by Peter B. McEvoy.

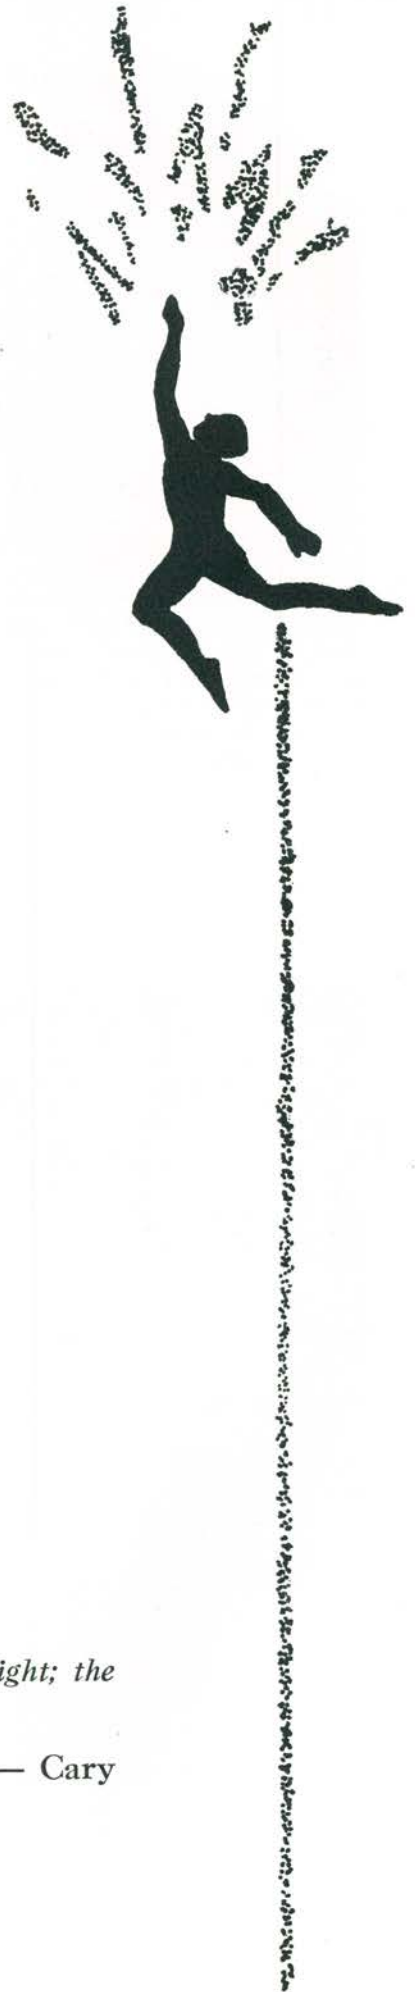

Mrs. Barbara Browne directed the speakers.

her junior year as an early admission student. Elaine attends Newcomb College, the woman's division of Tulane University at New Orleans, Louisiana.

Dennis Stubbs Is 1965 Graduate

Dennis Stubbs, a member of the Class of 1965, residing in Kenduskeag, was afflicted with poliomyelitis in 1953. Bed-ridden since that time, he has been taking courses through Bangor High School since his freshman year.

Spurred on by the fact that his mother was graduated from Bangor High School, Dennis has shown a great interest in his subjects and has been a consistent honor roll student. Dennis regards himself as very fortunate to have had such a fine teacher as Mrs. William McDevitt for the past nine years.

The visits made by various members of the class to his home have given Dennis a feeling of comradeship and real membership in the class. Mr. Gerald Ballanger, the class adviser, has made frequent visits also.

The ORACLE congratulates Dennis for his achievements and is proud to have him as a member of the Class of 1965.

Outstanding Seniors Recognized

At the annual Scholarship Recognition Assembly held on May 20, Bangor High School Scholars were announced. This award for high academic achievement is earned by only a small percent of the senior class. To be named a B.H.S. Scholar, a student must have attained a rank of 85 or above in each major subject for five consecutive semesters.

Other talented seniors have won honors in various fields. Joan Laliberte received the D.A.R. award in good citizenship for Bangor High School. National Merit Scholarship finalists were Donald Goodridge and Ronald Small. Betty Gale Eaton, Connie Coffin, and Earle Downes were awarded highest honors for achievement in National Standardized Tests by the Maine Teachers' Association. Robert Newman was elected by the student body as Athlete of the Year. The Betty Crocker Future Homemaker of Tomorrow award was presented to Judith A. Allen. The American Legion State Oratorical Contest was won by David Gautschi. In addition to these distinguished students praise was also extended to the other members of the senior class for their leadership and service of the school during the past year.

Oracle Captures School Spirit

Realizing in the fall that with the beautiful, modernistic building, a novel attitude and spirit developed also, the Oracle staff determined to utilize this particular feeling as the basis for the 1965 yearbook. "Light" was chosen as a theme. Under the guidance of adviser, Miss Jessie Fraser, the staff became coordinated and transposed its enthusiastic plans into pictures and meaningful copy.

Conducting a successful campaign week, selling ads to local businesses, and learning the finer points of journalism were all a part of the busy agenda. With a successful subscription campaign highlighted by the singing of The Harmony Six and augmented with the efficient and energetic business staff, the Oracle got off to a fine start. As the year advanced, the many pages, pictures, captions and copies gradually became organized. With the successful publication of the 1965 Oracle, Bangor High School's new year proudly came to a fitting close.

Seniors Reflect Future Of B. H. S.

Inspired by the unique atmosphere and the revitalized surroundings of the school, the class of 1965 attempted to convert its youthful enthusiasm into the most memorable year in the history of Bangor High School. Officers and council members, who were elected in the fall, directed the class in such activities as Senior assemblies, Winter Carnival, class projects, Senior week activities, and especially the presentation of the school alma mater which was composed by class president David Gautschi. Privileges granted to seniors this year were far above those ever awarded students in the past, and it is a credit to the individuals and the class as a whole that the same opportunities will be available next year for the class of 1966.

To the seniors, leaving their stimulating environment will be hard, yet theirs will be the memory of an incomparably exciting and rewarding year. They cannot stay to see changes and growth and aging. They will only remember the new Bangor High School, and they are proud to have been the basis for her future.

B.H.S. Cheerleaders Pose Before Going For a Ride in the

WE'RE HEADQUARTERS FOR THE SCOUT

America's new work or play wonder! The Scout is a whole new idea in low-cost transportation. It's a hardtop pickup that hauls good-sized loads one minute—the next, it's an open-air runabout that carries three passengers in the front and more in the rear. Optional all-wheel drive makes it an off-road workhorse, too. An optional Travel-Top converts it into a town delivery. But no matter where the Scout goes, a thrifty new INTERNATIONAL four-cylinder Comanche engine saves on gas and oil.

Before you accept that first job . . .

Look over your employer
as carefully
as he does
you

What's the Company like anyway? Would I be proud to work there? Reputation for square dealing with employees? Pleasant surroundings?

Will I be working with others my own age? Are they friendly? Do they socialize after hours?

Will the boss be reasonable? Appreciate good, hard work, but won't explode if I make a mistake?

Will I make a decent week's pay? Have a chance for raises, advancement, more responsibility? How about fringe benefits?

Is the work challenging? I had what it takes to get through high school. Will they give me a chance to use my brains?

Note: Many young men and women in this area can answer "Yes" to these questions. They work for New England Telephone Company . . . New England's largest employer.

Why not talk with our employment interviewer soon . . . before you graduate? Ask your Guidance Counselor to tell you when and where to apply.
