The quality of mercy is not strained,
It droppeth as the gentle rain from heaven
Upon the place beneath. It is twice bless'd:
It blesseth him that gives and him that takes.
'Tis mightiest in the mightiest: it becomes
The throned monarch better than his crown:...
But mercy is above this sceptred sway,
It is enthroned in the hearts of kings,
It is an attribute of God Himself;
And earthly power doth then show likest God's
When mercy seasons justice....
We do pray for mercy,
And that same prayer doth teach us all to render
The deeds of mercy.

SHAKESPEARE:
MERCHANT OF VENICE

Mercy and Truth Are Met Together . . .

The Senior Class of 1966 introduces you, the reader, to the wonderful world of JOHN BAPST HIGH SCHOOL, with a special tribute to some of those who are so devotedly dedicated to making this world such a wonderful one for Catholic men and women.

His Holiness Pope Paul VI

LIFE Magazine comments: "Pope Paul's hugely successful visit to New York, following his earlier pilgrimages to Jerusalem and Bombay, suggest that the world of the spirit may have something it has lacked a long time, an earthly spokesman of nearly universal authority. This authority was first focused in the Papacy for our age by the obvious saintliness of Paul's immediate predecessor, but it is also focused there because of the Catholic Church's titanic effort, begun by John but continuing under Paul, to make ancient certainties more relevant to the anxieties of the modern world, anxieties both ancient and modern...To make this connection has always been the central problem of Christendom. It is the problem of relating God's impossible commandments to his flawed and negligent world, and of making man's impossible behavior worthy of a better one. "How similar this is to the statement that the Church is ever ancient, ever new!" We at John Bapst are part of that Church. We are conscious of our human dignity and we seek to teach all men the truth that "shall make them free."

The Bishop's Office

To The Faithful:

By the grace of God, the year 1965 marks the 100th year of service of the Sisters of Mercy to the people of the State of Maine. I rejoice with these religious on the occasion of their jubilee, and consider it my duty to join them in prayers of gratitude to God. At the same time I cordially invite you all, clergy, Religious and faithful, to add your thanksgiving to ours.

It is difficult to measure in words what the true accomplishments of these Sisters have been. They came to Maine at a time when most eyes in America were tuned to the fruitful lands in the West. The small band of Sisters who traveled with their superior, the intrepid Mother M. Xavier Warde, fixed their gaze on the souls of the neglected Abnaki and Penobscot Indians in the Bangor area. From the small beginning there is hardly a people or an area in the vast span of our state, that has not been touched in some way by these Sisters. Often they have sown and others have reaped. But God, Who has brought them to this jubilee, has in His Own Eternal Now permitted a great harvest to come. Faithful to their vowed service to the poor, the sick, and the ignorant, they have labored in orphanages, homes for the aged, and hospitals, as well as schools on the elementary, high school, and college levels.

But it is not in institutions that their greatest contribution lies. Rather, it is in the innumerable souls they have reached through their dedicated service to God. In the final analysis it is the glory of God that should motivate all who are baptized in Christ so that they, dying, may share His Resurrection.

I am but one of the seven Bishops under whom the Sisters of Mercy have worked and one soul of the thousands these Religious have touched. In my administration I have witnessed their loyal performance of duty and, because of it, have felt strengthened in my burdensome tasks. Therefore, I happily intone my own TE DEUM and again invite you all to add your hymn of thanksgiving, at the same time beseeching God to continue His blessings on His devoted children to Christ Jesus.

Daniel J. Feeney
Bishop of Portland

His Mercy Is From Generation To Generation

The Mother-Foundress of this Congregation, Catherine McAuley, received the impetus for her life's work from the sight of the extreme conditions suffered by the poor, the sick, and the uneducated of Dublin, Ireland, during the early part of the 19th century. Armed with a love for God, love for his poor, and personal experience, she resolved upon "going about doing good."

It was not until 1822, however, that she was able to accomplish things "on a large scale." With the erection of a House of Mercy on Baggott Street in Dublin, it soon became evident that the harvest "was great, but the laborers few." Volunteers came, however, who endeavored to assist Catherine in keeping pace with the multiplicity of her affairs.

After weathering various crises that beset all infant congregations of religious, the group was no longer on uncertain ground and flourished greatly. The ultimate objective of these devoted women was to win souls for the greater honor and glory of God, but Mother McAuley believed, "It will be well to relieve their distress first, since we are ever more disposed to receive admonition and instruction from those who evince compassion toward us."

Mother Francis Xavier Warde, Foundress of Sisters of Mercy in the United States.

Mother Mary Evangelist Ward, present Mother General of the Sisters of Mercy, Diocese of Portland.

In her long missionary life, Mother Francis Xavier Warde, an early follower of Mother McAuley, endeavored to imitate her patron saint, covering more territory, it is said, than even the great St. Paul himself. The same love of God and neighbor burned in her heart as in his, enabling her to overcome every difficulty that beset her path.

On December 10, 1843, Mother Warde and a small band of seven companions reached New York, from which they traveled to Philadelphia and thence to Pittsburgh. After establishing several foundations in the country, Mother Warde, in 1865, accompanied the first band of missionaries to Bangor, Maine, and on subsequent journeys visited the Indian reservations. They called her their "Great White Mother" and she reciprocated their affection. Mother Xavier Warde brought with her to the New World seven chosen souls and at her death, left thousands in 58 dioceses of the United States. Her faith and confidence in God were unlimited and he never betrayed her trust!

Achieving

Bapst is more than an aggregation of boys and girls. It is an assembly of willing and eager students. Their will to accomplish, to attain academic excellence, as much as any other single factor, creates a fellowship of students at Bapst. Not the fading excitement of the public contest, but the quiet intensity of the study hour, guides and encourages most students. Nearly 65 per cent of Bapst's graduates will enter college. They will be gladly accepted because classes preceding them have built an enviable record of scholastic achievement in many fields. Leaders in many places have come from Bapst and have left behind them the imprints of ready and skilled workers. Their examples bind us together in the comradeship of bold adventures into knowledge.

Bapst Stresses Quality Goals

Formal education has as its chief purpose the nurture of the individual to the point where he can think and act for himself. Bapst abounds with opportunities for its students to grow by every means possible--to which, by and large, they respond exceedingly well.

The goals of quality education have been made known consistently and effectively by the administration and teaching staff for many years. Those goals, by which Bapst is known throughout the state are:

SELF-REALIZATION: the discovery and release of the potential of every student.

INTELLIGENT CITIZENSHIP: an understanding of civic responsibilities and appreciation of our country.

KNOWLEDGE: our cultural heritage and the desire to continue to learn.

FUNDAMENTAL ABILITIES: reading, writing, listening, observing, speaking, discovering, reasoning, and creative thinking.

THE GOOD CHRISTIAN LIFE: wholesome, creative use of leisure time.

FITNESS: mental, physical, emotional, and spiritual stability.

GUIDANCE: assisting students to know their own abilities in relationship to society and a vocation.

MORAL RESPONSIBILITY: individual liberty, intellectual honesty, Christian ethical character.

By the means shown here, Bapst students seek academic excellence and its accompanying goals.

Conning the English classics develops appreciation of our language.

Dirigo Boys' State students develop poise and ingenuity through contact with others.

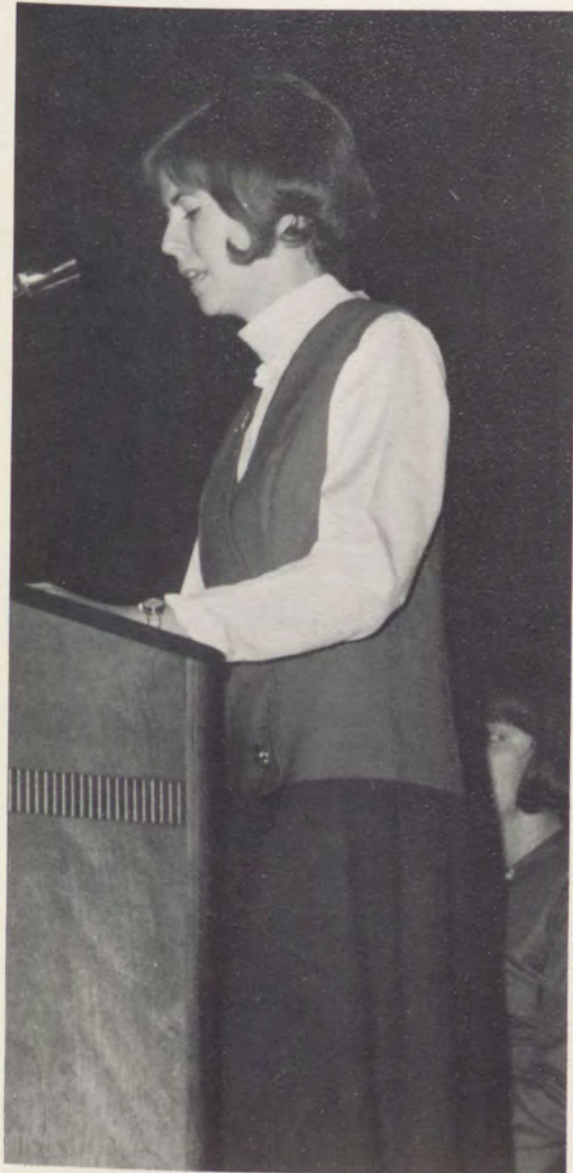

Recipients of ribbons of recognition for work done in the "Apple Art Contest" of the Maine Pomological Society are: Tim Rittal, Bill Houlihan, Jim Robinson, Tom Tennett, Tim Shannon, Harry Ewen, Mike Gould, Tom Hardy.

Self-Expression

Heraclitus once said: "If we are to surmount the obstacles which life has placed in the path of man, we must work and study with an open mind. It is only through continued searching and true learning that we realize how little we really know. Man must often humble himself in the eyes of his fellow man in order to apply wisely the knowledge he finds. We sometimes overlook the true meaning of knowledge, failing to realize that, 'Much learning does not teach men to think.'"

Daily Stimulated

Girls' State representative, Maureen Cochrane, exhibits vivacity which keynotes Bapst.

Bapst's true center of learning is its well stocked library.

Intelligent Inquiry

What is a school? A school is people, people learning, people thinking, people growing, people being people, people, young people, becoming adults.

How does a school? Through science, through the arts, through fitness in every facet, physical, mental, moral.

Bob Field and Al Bernier explore that "cemetery of dead ideas," science. The joining of those wires may produce a "shocking" new discovery, eh whot??

"Cinderella", Latin style, is just another means of expression developed in our student life.

Oral communication is something Lynn Chute realizes the value of in her training as a young citizen of the United States.

The Fountain Of Truth

Through seeing, observing, inquiring, learning, understanding, knowing, giving, receiving, working, succeeding, failing, striving, we become. We become, and we are daily becoming; we are, but we are more than just being; we are becoming. Becoming what? Adults? Yes, but it is more than just becoming adults; we are becoming young adults. Yes, but is that all? To be sure, we are becoming young Christian adults, prepared to face what the world offers and to offer the world what Christ has to offer it through us.

Mice don't seem to be bothering these stalwart young ladies! Onward science!

School time gives us time to think about ourselves too. Where are we going?

It is through the counsel of our friends, our teachers, that we grow in our sense of becoming, that we grow in our awareness of reality. And we grow and grow and grow. We are nourished on all sides, by moral food, physical food, mental food, the food of charity, the food of inventiveness. On all sides, and in all activities we become--we become aware of the world in which we live, of the world in which we are.

The Child Is Father Of The Man

The world in which we live is so varied in its activity. So are we. The world is not science, it is not reading books, it is not traveling, it is not conversation--but it is all of these things together, and then some, that make this composite, man, to be just that. We study, we read, we travel, we converse, we become, in short, complete persons through a broad perspective of life's realities.

As We Grow And Grow And Grow

Brother Gordon, C.F.X.

Sister Mary Luke

Administration

The "safari" to Bangor is a new one for Brother Gordon, and judging from his fine work and enthusiasm the future will be a true example of the "Church in change." The class of 1966 is proud to have worked under Brother Gordon and wish him all success in his many projects.

Throughout the years, Sister Luke has remained the steady beacon light for storm-weary students. Just as we, the Seniors of 1966 have weathered many a tempest through her generous assistance, so, with God's help, will many more young women find in her the faith and ideals we will cherish so much in the years to come.

Mr. McIntyre knows what it means to keep the class buzzing with new ideas.

SISTER CHRISTINE MARIE
A teacher affects eternity; she can never tell where her influence stops. RELIGION, GENERAL SCIENCE.

BROTHER ANDREW JOSEPH
Trees and fields tell me nothing; men are my teachers. ALGEBRA, GEOMETRY. Senior activities, Bowling, Bookstore.

SISTER MARGARET MARY
Dreams, books, are each a world; and books, we know, are a substantial world, both pure and good.
LIBRARIAN, RELIGION.

BROTHER RALPH
The French combine the greatest simplicity with the best results. FRENCH, RELIGION, ALGEBRA.

SISTER MARY FLAVIA
I have but one lamp by which my feet are guided,
and that is the lamp of experience. GUIDANCE.

BROTHER LUANUS
The true teacher defends his pupils against his own personal influence. He guides their eyes from himself to the spirit that quickens him. RELIGION, ENGLISH.

SISTER MARY FLAVIAN
The whole art of teaching is only the art of awakening the natural curiosity of young minds for the purpose of satisfying it afterwards. MATHEMATICS, BIOLOGY, HEALTH. Art Club.

SISTER MARY LUANUS
No bubble is so iridescent or floats longer than that blown by the successful teacher. LATIN, RELIGION, Latin Club.

MR. RONALD POOLER
The Great Master said, "...I gave a various gift to each, to charm, to strengthen, and to teach."
BIOLOGY, PHYSICAL SCIENCE, RELIGION.

Faculty-A-Go-Go

The "agony and the ecstasy" of learning is not a one-way street. Teaching has its moments of anguish, its fleeting glimpses of humor, its frustrating hours of defeat, its years, nay, its eternity of delight and satisfaction in knowing that after all we are preparing souls for heaven.

SISTER MARY VINCENT

I came to see if I could not learn what she had to teach, and not, when I came to die, discover that I had not lived. ENGLISH, CHEMISTRY, RELIGION.

SISTER MARY PIUS

Music is well said to be the speech of angels. ENGLISH, STENOGRAPHY, Glee Club.

MR. HARLOW FLOYD

True history is an everlasting possession, not a prize composition which is heard and forgotten. HISTORY, ECONOMICS.

MRS. BERNARDETTE DAIGLE

Delightful task! To rear the tender thought, to teach the young idea how to speak. FRENCH, French Club.

MR. JOHN O'BRIEN

The mathematician has reached the highest rung on the ladder of human thought. MATHEMATICS, Ski team.

SISTER MARY MCAULEY

So work these woman long and true to teach the act of order to a peopled kingdom. GEOGRAPHY, OFFICE PRACTICE, BOOKKEEPING, STENOGRAPHY.

BROTHER JEREMIAS

People say that life is the thing, but I prefer reading a good author, not for what he says, but for what he whispers. ENGLISH, Key Club Advisor, Newspaper.

SISTER MARY JEANNE

The world is better and brighter because our teachers dwell on the Duty of Happiness as well as on the Happiness of Duty. ENGLISH, BUSINESS MATH, Sodality.

MR. ROLAND NADEAU

A teacher who can arouse a feeling for one single good action... accomplishes more than one who fills our memory with rows on rows of natural objects. FRENCH, RELIGION, GOVERNMENT.

MR. ROBERT GABOURY

Education is the instruction of the intellect in the laws of Nature. EARTH SCIENCE, ENGLISH, WORLD HISTORY. Assistant Football Coach, Junior Varsity Basketball Coach, Varsity Baseball.

SISTER MARY EVANGELINE
Education has for its object the formation of character. ENGLISH, WORLD HISTORY.

MRS. THELMA VINING
Perhaps the most valuable result of all education is the ability to make yourself do the thing you have to do. TYPING, BUSINESS.

SISTER MARY JEROME
She who enters her class walks on hallowed ground. ENGLISH.

MISS CATHERINE A. LAVIN
The primary concern of American education today is...to cultivate in the largest number an appreciation of both the responsibilities and the benefits which come to them because they are Americans. SOCIOLOGY, HISTORY, Civics Club, Literary Club.

MR. KENNETH PERRONE
The world belongs to the enthusiast who keeps cool. PHYSICAL EDUCATION, Varsity Football.

BROTHER HART
Man's task is to learn first WHAT IS, and then WHY things are as they are or whence they came. ENGLISH, LATIN, RELIGION, FRENCH, Sodality, Yearbook, Dramatics, Guidance.

MR. RONALD GEAGAN
Those who spend their lives directing the intellects of the young are guideposts to happiness. BUSINESS MATH, TYPING, BOOKKEEPING, Assistant football Coach, Varsity Basketball
Coach, Golf.

BROTHER STANISLAUS
Without the knowledge of what he is a man remains ignorant of the best intellectual and moral achievements of his own race. ENGLISH, RELIGION, Athletic Director, Debating, Speech, Guidance, Track.

MR. MICHAEL CASSILY
Mathematics possesses not only truth, but supreme beauty, sublimely pure, and capable of a stern perfection such as only the greatest art can show. MATHEMATICS, PHYSICS, Science Club, Student Council.

MR. THOMAS MCINTYRE
Disinterested intellectual curiosity is the life blood of real civilization. CHEMISTRY, RELIGION, LATIN, Debating, Dramatics.

MRS. RUTH WHITEMORE
Those who bring sunshine to the lives of others cannot keep it from themselves. SCHOOL SECRETARY.

MRS. CAROLINE RYAN
Her way is peaceful, generous, just--a way which, if followed,
the world will forever applaud, and God must forever bless.
SCHOOL SECRETARY.

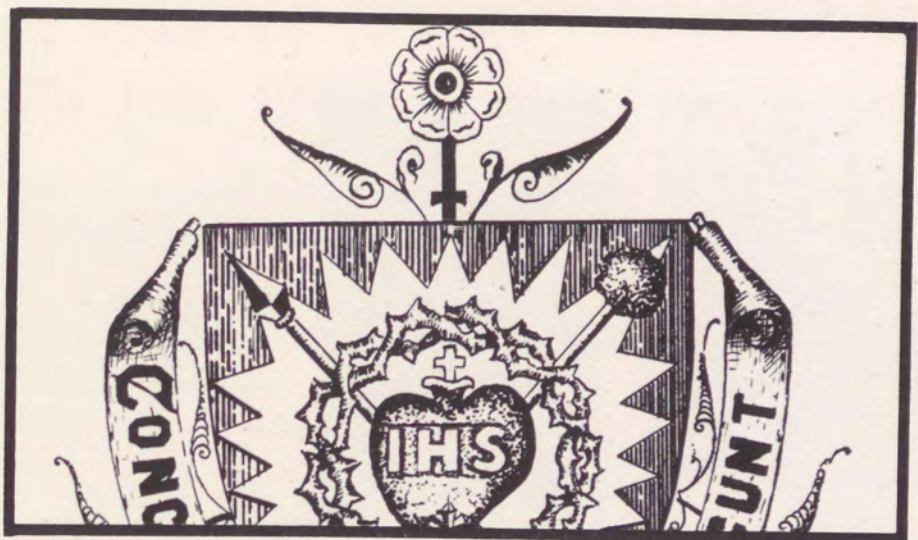

Seniors

Ordered to a love of God and "the immutable truths and values which admit of no change in the heart and mind of man," the "new youth must breathe catholicity"; they must "feel the spell of universal charity"; they must have "a knowledge of their own personality," and thus also of the greater treasures of freedom"; they must be trained to "sound criticism" and imbued "with a sense of Christian humility"; their minds must "be directed to a more effective sense of justice"; the "innate tendency to regard themselves as a privileged caste and shunning the life of labor" should be eradicated; and they should be taught that the citizen should not stand "apart from the life led in his own country today."

Classes

Of essential importance is the inculcation of the art of distinguishing the true from the false, of awakening an appreciation of political and economic realities in conformity with the Christian concept of life, which, rejecting equally materialism and egotistic individualism, considers man in his total reality, composed at the same time of body and soul, an individual person and member of society, a citizen of this earth, and one chosen for heaven. Only one with this composite outlook can provide a right interpretation of particular problems.

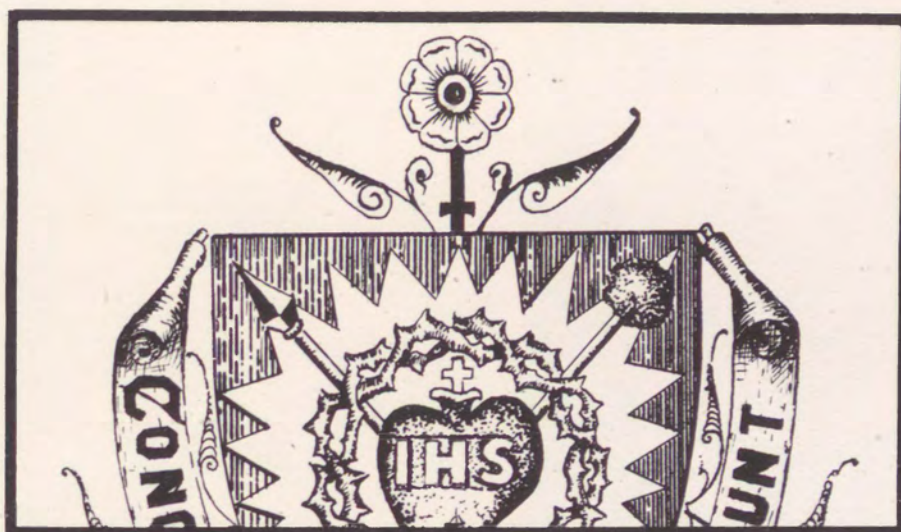

POPE PIUS XII.

Teach me to feel another's woe, To hide the faults I see;
 That mercy I to others show, That mercy, show to me.

'Tis a common proof,
That lowliness is young ambition's ladder,
Whereto the climber upward turns his face;
But when he once attains the upmost round,
He then unto the ladder turns his back,
Looks in the clouds, scorning the base degrees
By which he did ascend.

Of all the funny things that live,

 That creep the ground or fly the air,
 the funniest thing's a frog.

Youth is the only season for enjoyment,
 and the first twenty-five years of one's life are worth all the rest of the longest life of man, even though those five-and-twenty be spent in penury and contempt, and the rest in the possession of wealth, honors, respectability.

There is a feeling of Eternity in youth, which makes us amends for everything. To be young is to be as one of the immortal Gods.

As we advance in life, we acquire a keener sense of the value of time. Nothing else, indeed, seems of any consequence; and we become misers in this respect.

Sports

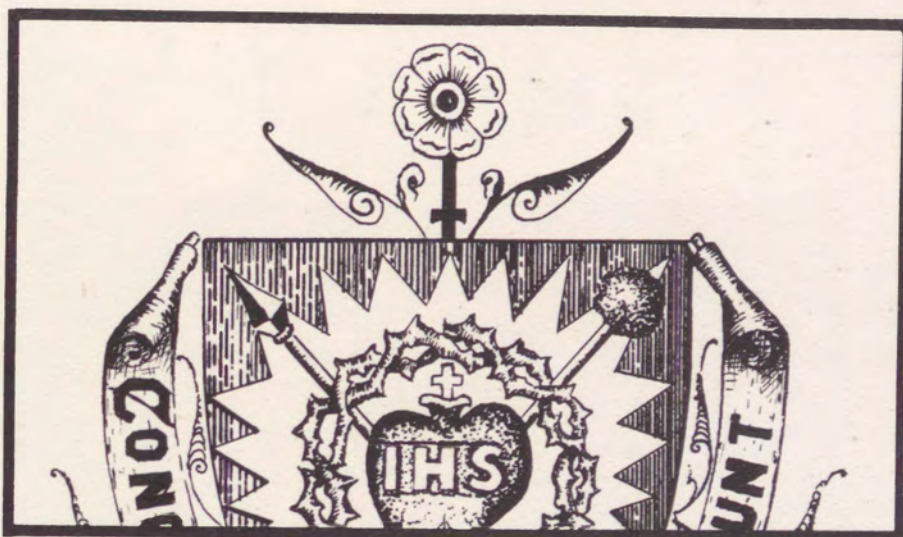

Gymnastic and sports activity answer without doubt to a necessity of the present time, which is well aware of what sport and gymnastics signify especially for modern people: of how diffused is their practice in all classes; of how lively an interest they arouse every where; and of the important and manifold effect that they have both upon the individual and society...What end do men pursue with so vast and diffused an activity? It is the use, the development, the control--by means of man and for the service of man--of the energies enclosed within the body; the joy that comes from this power and action, not unlike that which the artist experiences when he is using, and is master of, his instrument.

Loyal To Our School Forever In Defeat Or Victory

Ron Soucie has been one of the finest athletes ever to wear the purple and white of John Bapst High School. The 5'11", 170 pounder, shattered all scoring and passing records in football, averaged 24 points a game in basketball for the past few seasons and completely rewrote the pitching record book in baseball.

In football, Soucie was named all Eastern Maine and All Conference. He holds 16 records, chief among which are:

- 22 TD passes in a career
- 51 pass completions in one season
- 134 pass completions in a career
- 204 yds passing in one game
- 849 yds passing in one season
- 2107 yds passing in a career
- 10 touchdowns scored in one season
- 21 touchdowns scored in a career
- 69 points scored in one season
- 144 points scored in a career

He was a key in leading the Crusaders to two straight State Championships.

In basketball, Soucie has been the heart of the team for the past three years during which he hit in the middle 30's in points in over a dozen times.

In baseball, for the past three years Soucie has struck out over 200 batters a season, posted 8 no-hitters, and won over 40 ball games, while leading the Crusaders to one of the finest high school records, not only in the state of Maine, but in the country as well.

Though it is ordinarily not the task of a high school annual to single out a particular student in this manner, we, the coaches at John Bapst, feel such recognition is well earned and would hope that such devotion and enthusiasm as Ron has shown will be emulated by all present and future Crusaders.

JOHN BAPST BLANKS BREWER, 7-0; SHARES TITLE
UNBEATEN, UNTIED AGAIN

The John Bapst Crusaders won a share of the State Class B. Football championship for the second straight year and posted their second straight undefeated, untied season Friday night, November 5, by taking a 7-0 decision from Brewer before over 5,000 fans at Doyle field.

Ken Perrone's Crusaders scored in the opening quarter and held off several serious Brewer threats in the second half to run their consecutive games won to 18. The last Bapst loss was in the final game of 1963 to Brewer.

A powerful Crusader defense stopped Brewer's ground game and, although the Witches moved well via the air route in the last two periods, Bapst held inside the ten twice, posting their 7th shutout in nine games this fall.

THIRD ANNUAL P.T.C. TEAM

John Bapst placed five players on the third annual All Pine Tree Conference Football team. League champion John Bapst placed Ron Soucie, Gus Ciano, and John Heuer on the offensive team, and Marsh Soldati and Ed Thorne on the defensive team.

SOUKIE, according to coach Ken Perrone: "Is one of the most outstanding athletes in the history of John Bapst. He averaged 24 points a game in basketball, pitched 6 no-hitters and set 11 school records in football."

CIANO, 175-pound halfback, was the leading ground gainer for John Bapst, and scored 8 touchdowns in 7 league games. He was a record-breaking pass receiver, "and he was the boy the ball went to when the going got rough," says Perrone.

The annual school rally for the crucial Brewer proved its stuff again this year with the cheery cheerleaders leading (for what else are they supposed to do?) the cheers, while a Crusader of another cloth shows us how to really "brew" a witch's BREWer.

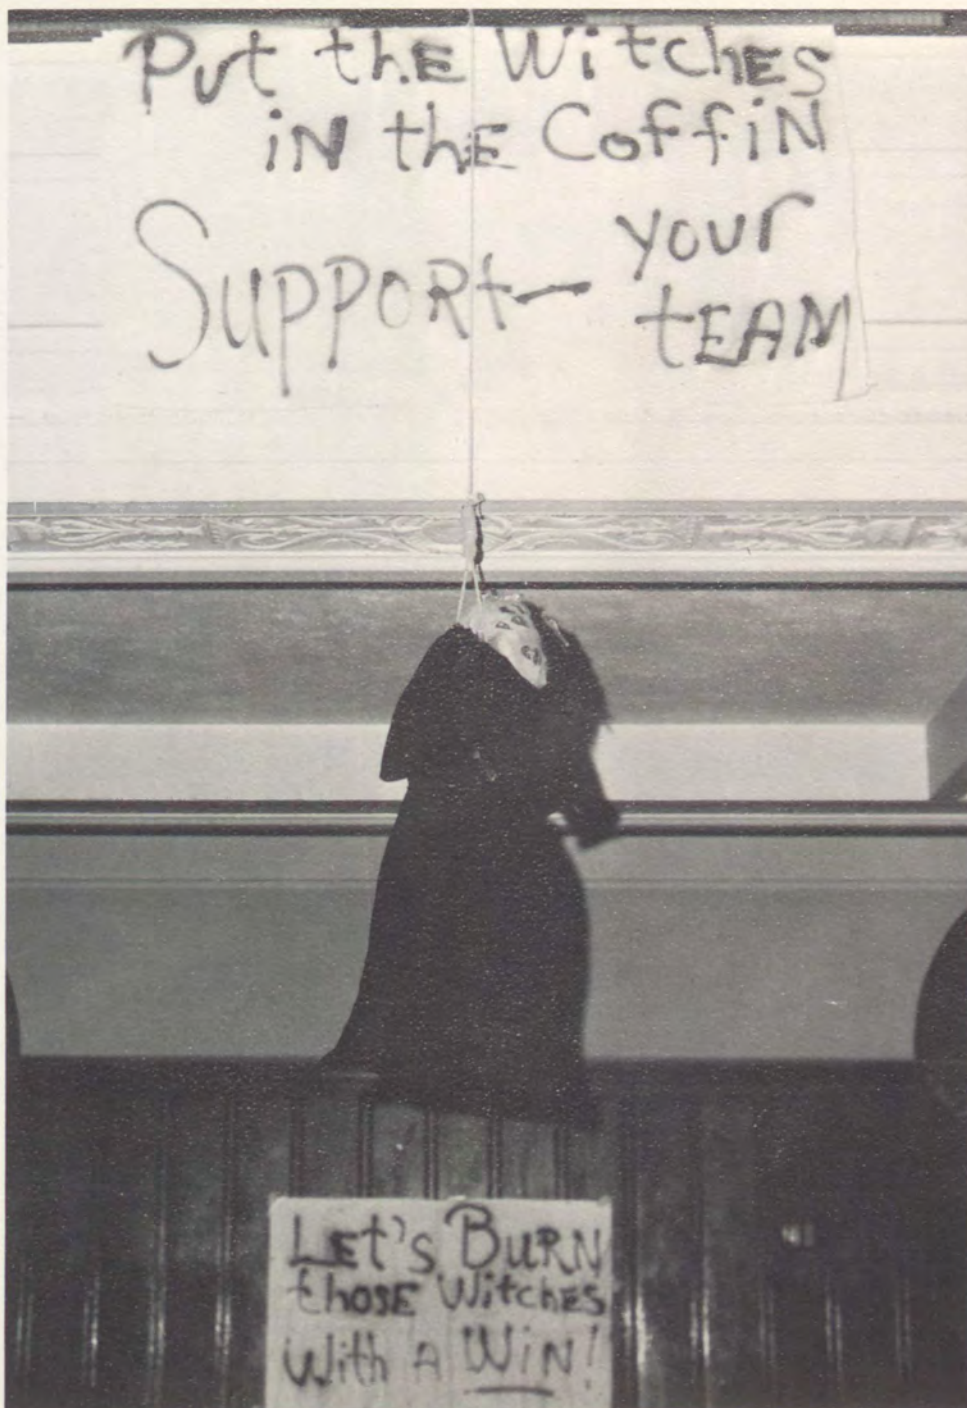

HEUER, 180-pound Crusader end, was a favorite pass receiver and "a wall of rock on defense. He repeatedly came up with the big play both offensively and defensively," remarks Coach Perrone.

THORNE played every minute of every game for Bapst and, according to Perrone, "was the backbone of the offensive line as he continually opened huge holes for his teammates."

SOLDATI was the leading Crusader defensive back. "He intercepted 5 passes, protected the flanks with vicious tackles and is credited with saving many tight games in the past 3 years.

Men For All Seasons

The Story Of A Game

Chapter One

Ed Thorne (captain)

Sports, changing with the season, are a part of every Bapstonian's life. Most evident in every varsity game this year was the spirit of cooperation in every play, in every touchdown. This cooperation made a successful year. As we follow events in the succeeding pages, we tell you a story that takes place both on the field and off the field, for it takes more than a team in action to make a team in victory.

Joe Palmieri, John Reed, and Mike McPhee discuss the game as Ron Soucie and Leo Higgins quench their thirst.

Mixture Of Mind, Muscle, Maturity

Chapter Two

Every game has its tense moments and reactions run high even off the field. John Reed is still at the water cooler watching Gus Ciano as he gets in the clear for a long gain. But games bring penalties sometimes, and Ron Soucie discusses an infraction with the referee. After a play Larry Rioux takes time out to learn from Coach Ken Perrone what to do next. Strategy wins the game!

As long as the penalty is to our advantage we are happy!

Mike Gould rolls out for a short gain against Gardiner.

A crowded bus prepares for departure to another Bapst upset.

Bruce Nye is caught from behind by a Gardiner Tiger.

Those Fearsome Crusaders

New Ways To Win Ball Games Chapter Three

The season, with its thrills and excitement was loyally supported by the students at the away games where Bapst rooters frequently outnumbered the home rooters. Enthusiasm was the keynote, thanks to the efforts of the Key Club in providing bus transportation for all students as they have done in the past.

Jim Ryan prays that the Crusaders will pull out another victory.

And who could forget the tireless achievements of the Cheerleaders who have always provided the stimulus to the fans and the team to keep plodding on even when the going was rough! Jackie Hodgins and Linda Parent don't give up even though the crowd is a small one. It must have been a home game!!!

The Glory Game

Crusaders Are Champs

Chapter Four

Coach Perrone's trophies, symbols of his dedication to his team, glitter in the lights of the Bapst Auditorium.

"Bo" Searway, Bapst's most loyal fan, receives a tribute from the team via Brother Stanislaus.

Guy Boynton, Quarterback Club President, presents plaque to Ed Thorne, best lineman of the year.

Banquet Awards

The Annual Award Banquet, hosted by the John Bapst Quarterback Club, with guest speaker, Nat Crowley, former football coach of Bapst, presented the following awards: Best running back--Gus Ciano; Best lineman--Ed Thorne; Best defensive player--Marshal Soldati; Sportsmanship--Mike McPherson; Loyalty Award--Tim Sullivan; Most improved player--John Reed; Most valuable player--Ron Soucie; Coach of the year--Ken Perrone. Team members showed their appreciation to Coach Perrone through the beautiful football trophy pictured below.

Steen Meryweather receives a tribute from the team by captain Ron Soucie.

The Power and The Glory

Early this year, at a special assembly, Brother Gordon made the formal presentation of the PVC baseball trophy to the team for its outstanding performance in the past spring. The question arises, "Where will we put them all?" (The trophies, that is.)

It's your guess. Who's the runner? Did he make it on time? Who knows?

Brother Gordon, Principal, presents the conference trophy to co-captain Ron Soucie.

Nothing like a friendly exchange of ideas with the umpire.

Our catcher seems to wait in vain for this one. It's as good as gone. Well, there were a few rare occasions like this one.

1965

The Sweet Taste Of Victory After Victory

HIGHLIGHTS

In 1964 Bapst became the only team in the history of the state to win 20 or more games. In 1965 Bapst repeated this with a 21-6 record, while winning their second outright Penobscot Valley Conference title with a 9-1 record. It was also a year that saw Bapst defeat rivals Bangor, Brewer, Orono, and Old Town twice each. Ron Soucie was awarded the Most Valuable Player trophy as he completely re-wrote the John Bapst record book with 4 no-hitters and over 200 strikeouts. Mike Thomas received the Most Improved Player award after taking the batting title and leading the Crusaders in 6 batting departments.

Coach Ken Perrone received the Most Outstanding Coaching Award of Eastern Maine. Judges were Owen Osborne of the Bangor Daily News, George Hale, sports announcer of WABI, and Ted Curtis, athletic director of the University of Maine.

Cindermen Clinch Title For 1965-1966

The spring of 1965 brought yet another signal honor to the school in the winning of the P.V.C. championship for the first time in the history of the school. Under the supervision of Coaches Thaxter Trafton and Bob Gaboury, assisted by Brother Stanislaus, the Crusaders swept to an overall victory in the Conference with a record of six wins and one loss. Team effort, a trademark of Bapst teams, was reflected in still another sport.

The 1965-66 John Bapst CRUSADERS at mid-season were ranked number 19 in Eastern Maine. What took place next will be remembered for many years by loyal John Bapst fans. The Crusaders won six of their last eight games, ended Stearns High School's 81-game winning streak, and made the Eastern Maine Schoolboy Tournament Finals, losing only to Cony in the end. Words cannot describe this tremendous finish made by the Varsity Crusaders under the able guidance of Mr. Ron Geagan. Both coach and team are to be congratulated for their unbelievable effort.

"Well, Dad, it's this way," says coach Ron Geagan to his proud parent. Or, as Bob Kelleter of the Bangor Daily News put it: It just had to happen sometime, but would you believe. . .? John Bapst High School slipping in the back door virtually unnoticed and then pushing stunned Stearns High School out the front door in view of everyone. Undefeated Stearns--the Eastern Maine Class LL Champion for the past three seasons, state champs for the last two--erased from the picture in a shocking upset. Unheralded John Bapst--seeded last with a mediocre 8-12 record--with brilliant Ron Soucie at the controls--knocked Stearns right out of the Double-L tourney with a 72-64 jaw buster.

In Orbit

Team reaction is high as eighth-seeded John Bapst took to the hometown floor with what most basketball observers figured was only a prayer, but once Soucie took charge in the fourth quarter, it was the Minutemen who were on their knees... Soucie netted 17 of his 29 points in the final period... Bob Bolduc tossed in 21 points for Bapst and Russ Farrar added 16, including five key baskets on bunnies when the bewildered Minutemen from Millinocket were left far up court. It was a three-man show in the score book, but that certainly wasn't true under the backboards. Both Ed Thorne and John Heuer took--and gave--their share of bruises and Thorne hauled down 19 rebounds...

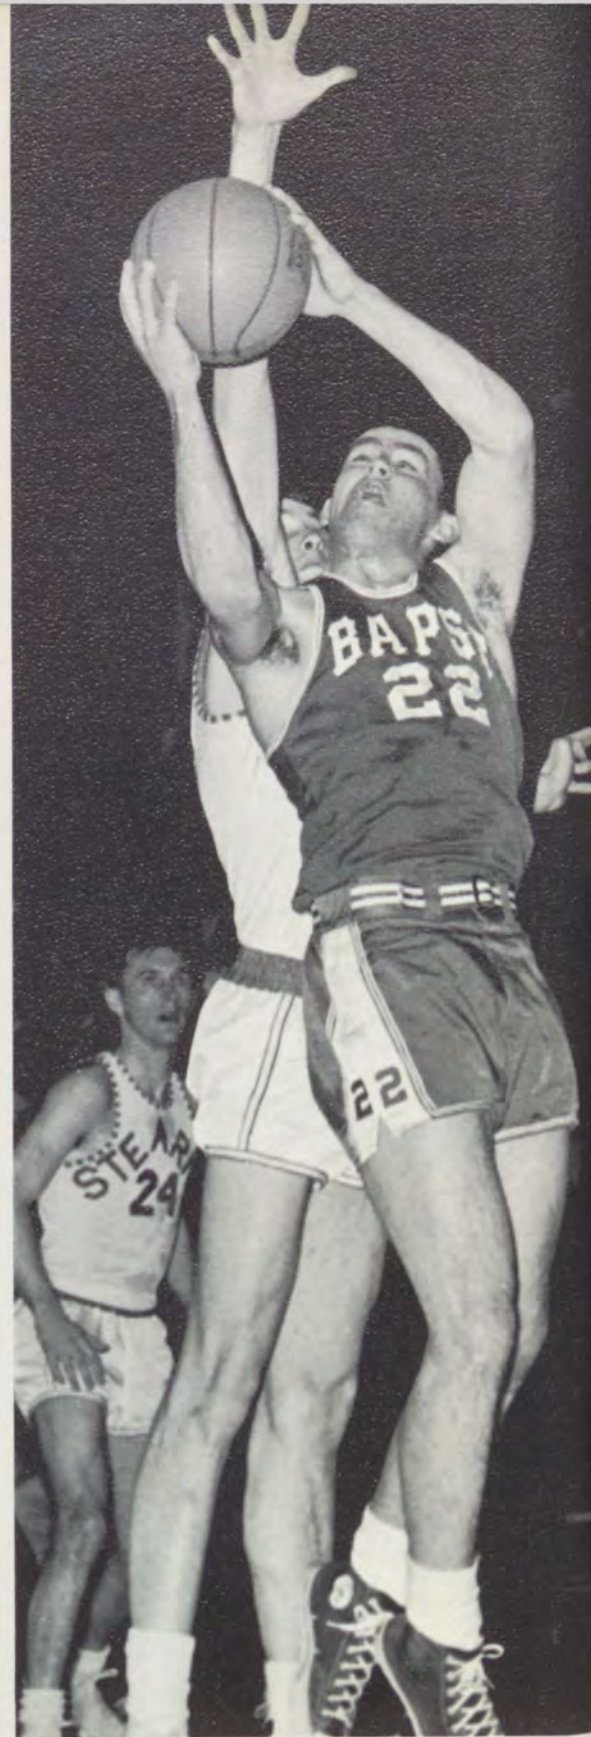

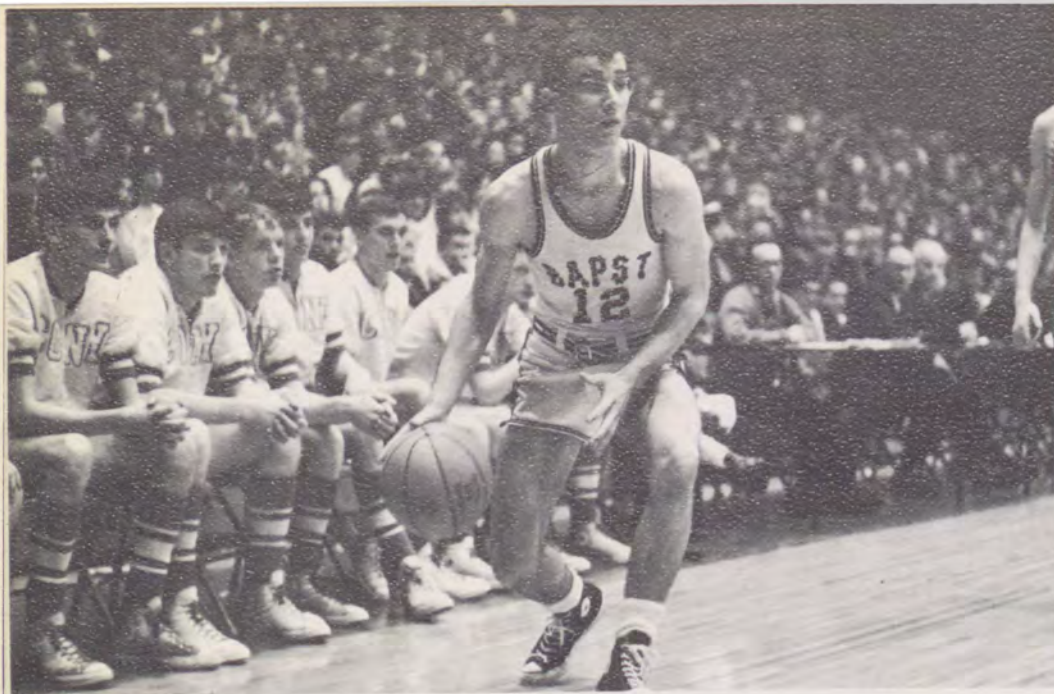

Geagan's knockout artists, crawling into the eastern tournament on a scratchy 8-12 mark, arrived there after toppling Stearns and Lawrence, the No. 1 and 4 rankers in the final eastern lineup...

“My Pumpkins Did It Again For Us.”

Coach Geagan and Captain Ron Soucie receive plaque as runner-up team in the State LL Finals against Cony.

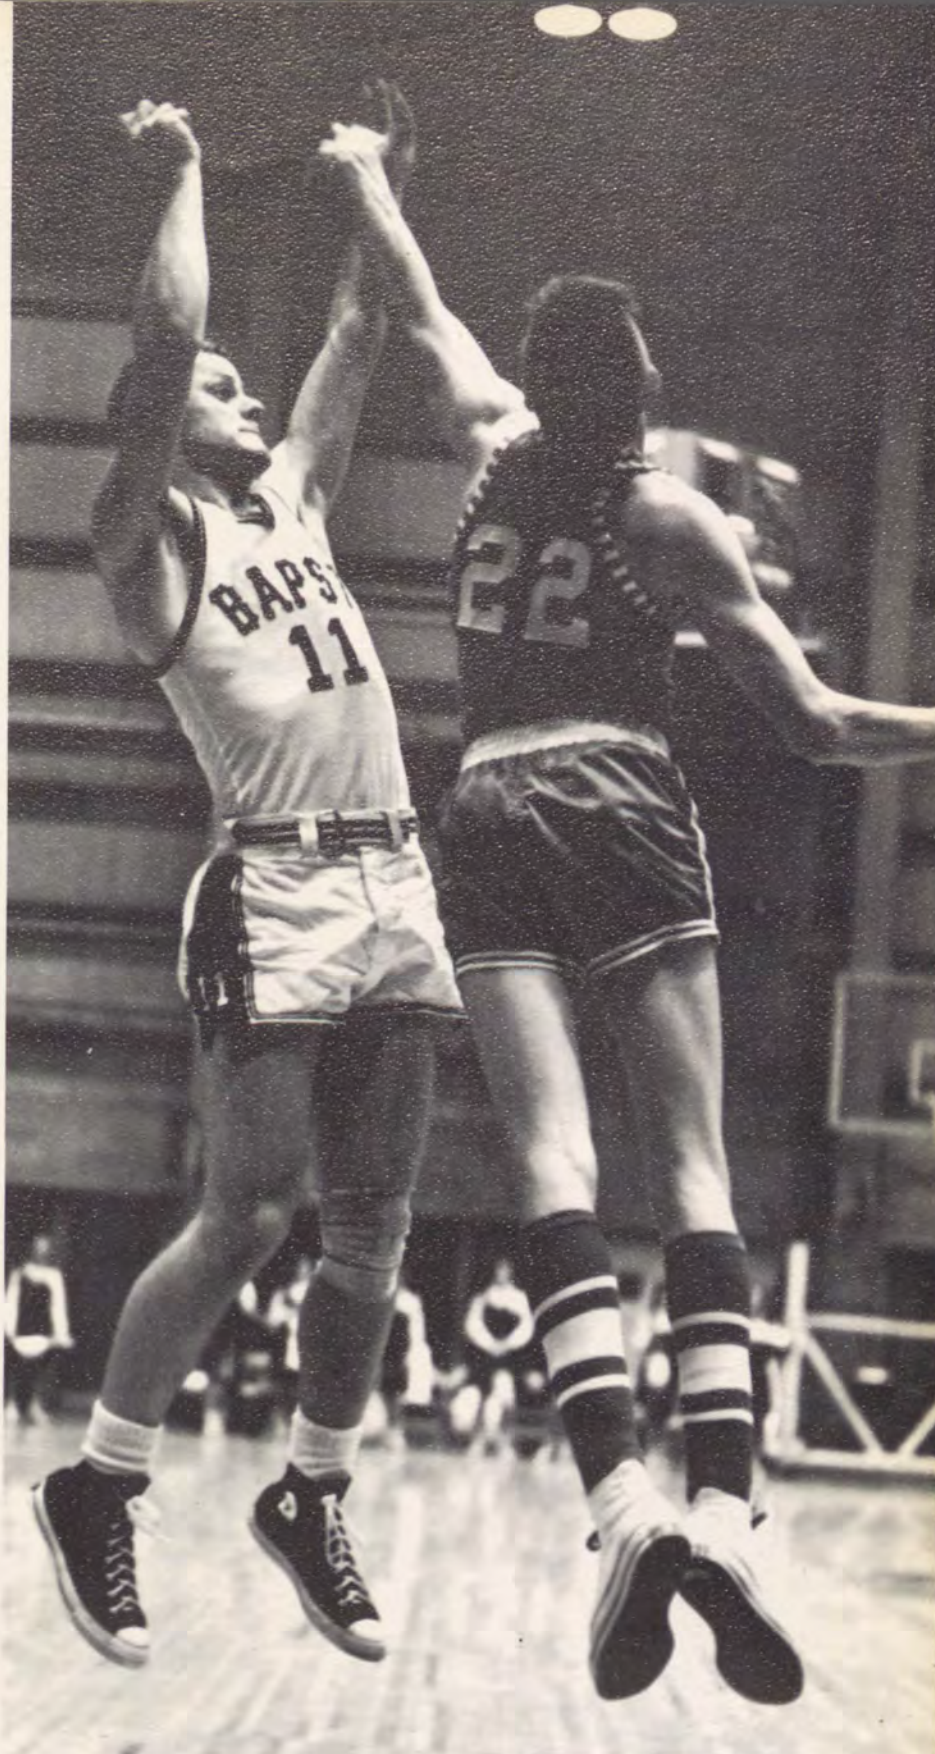

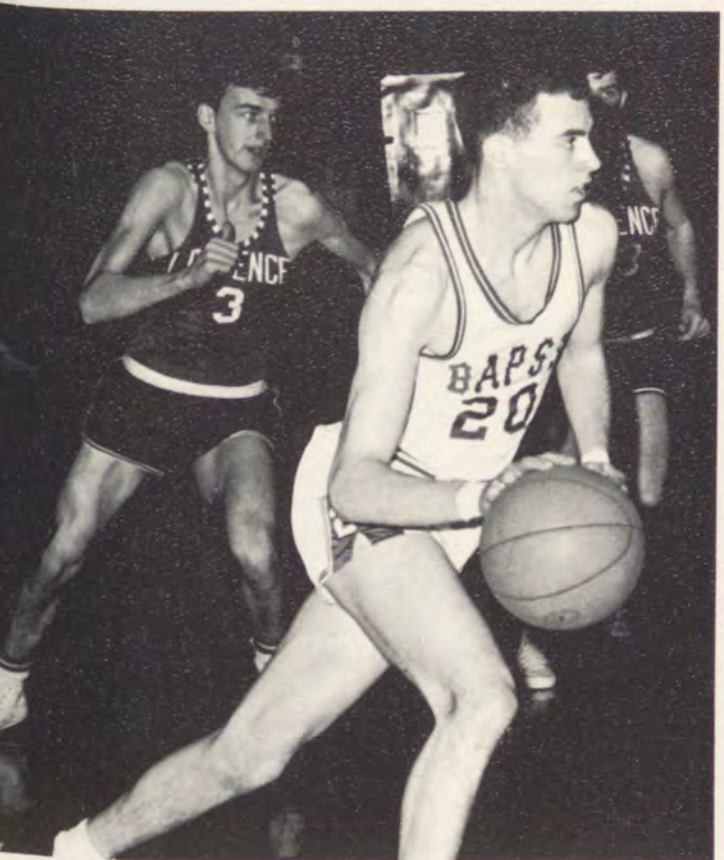

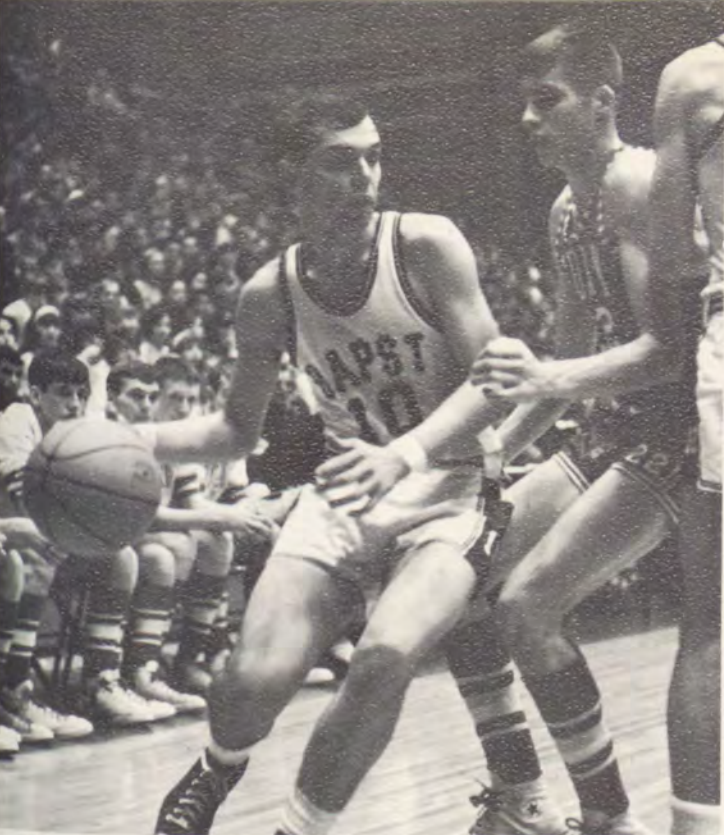

He hesitated very little in replying, "Yes, I guess you'd have to say it releases a lot of pressure." This was the reaction of Stearns' Coach George Wentworth as he stood at courtside watching John Bapst fans mob their players and coach. Many times in the past four years he had had the same thing happen to him--swarms of fans happy over a Stearns victory, so he knew well the elation that goes with victory. "Those John Bapst boys played a fine game and deserved to win," he added. "I knew it would happen sometime but not just when."

After losing to Stearns twice the upset was ripe and ready for picking by John Bapst but was the personnel there that was needed to turn the trick? Ron Geagan thought so, believed he had found gaps in the Blue defense that could do it. The next thing was to convince his players it could be done. That he did is now history; the major upset in a decade of Maine basketball. For the Stearns Minutemen it was a fabulous record they could offer, one that possibly will never be equalled, and fans have a right to be proud of Coach Wentworth as well as his players over the years.

(Adapted from: SPEAKING OF SPORTS by Owen Osborne)

For Geagan it was a different story. He stepped into the varsity post just before the season opened. He didn't have a man over six feet so it meant a winter of hard work but what he wanted most was hustle to add to his style of ball. The Crusaders took their lumps during the indoctrination and finished with a flurry that gained the tournament just by the sole of their sneakers.

Tourney action above: The action is here: the bruises, the fast pace, the unbelievable at the right time, the hustle, the mad scramble, the joy, the agony, the pain, the surge of victory, all are here, all tell the story of a team, not of an individual, but of individuals, a team, a team that went on to play and win and lose as a team.

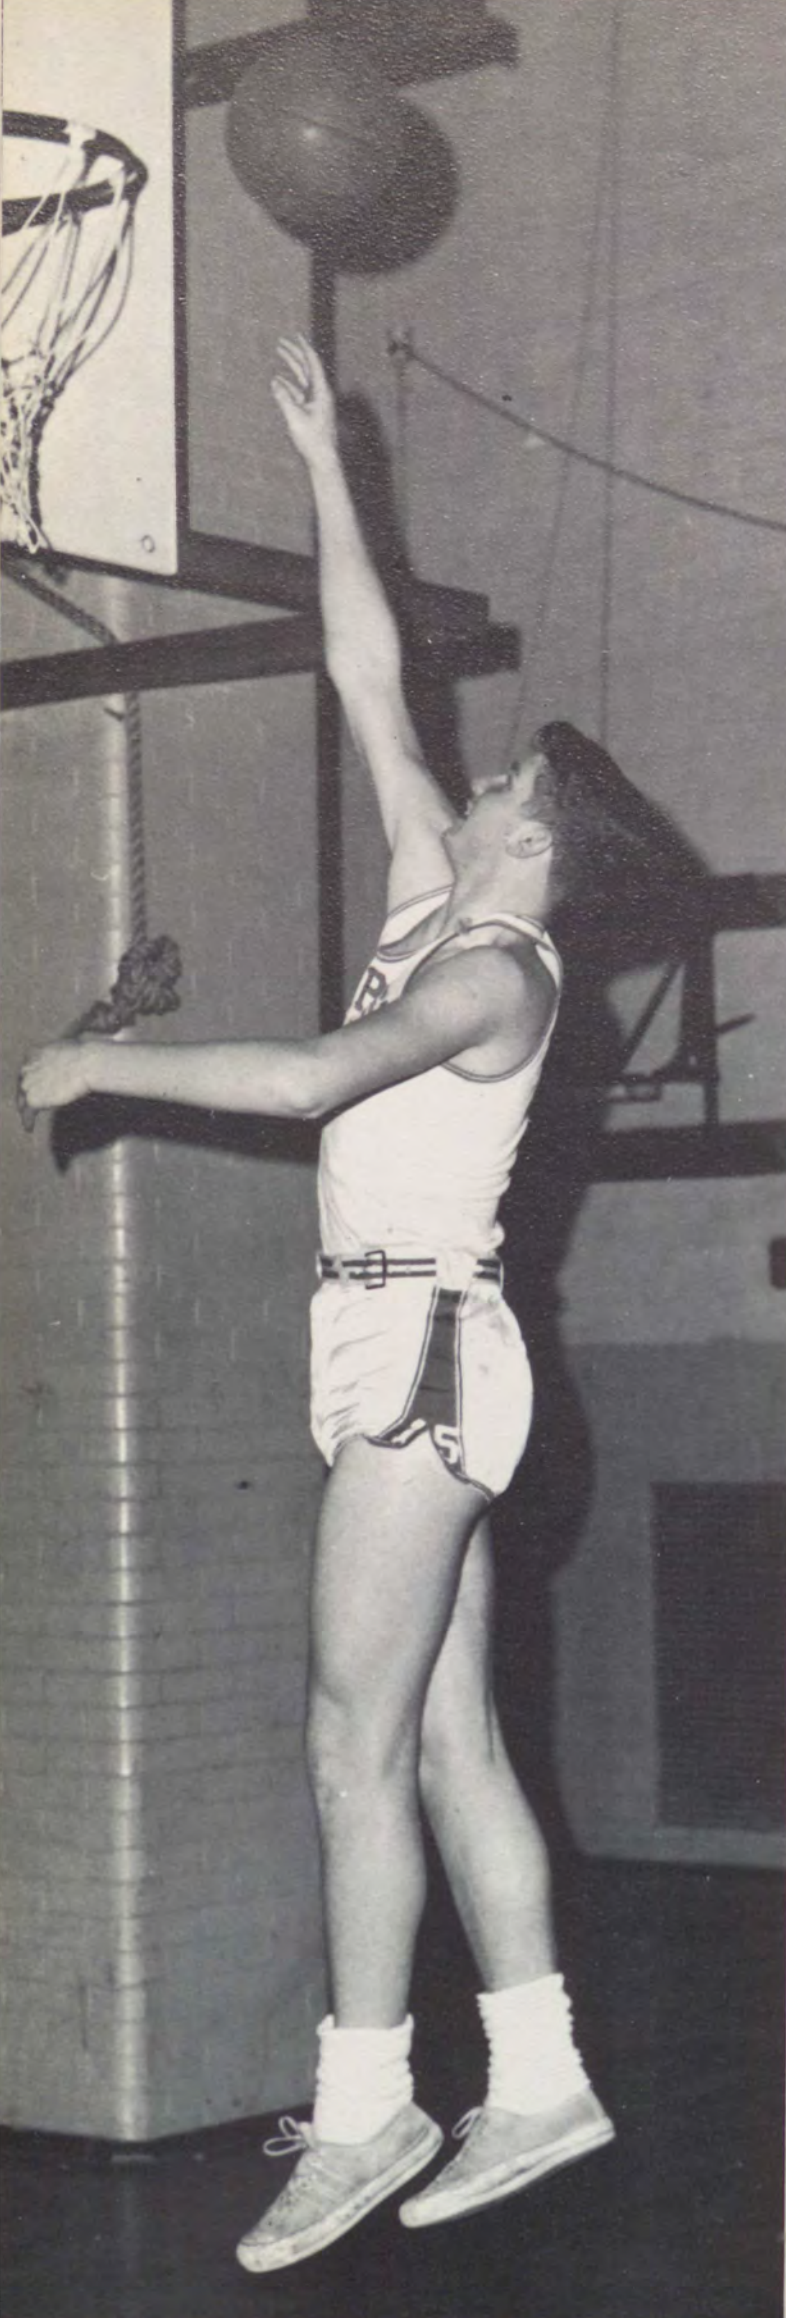

Taut Moments Intensify Action

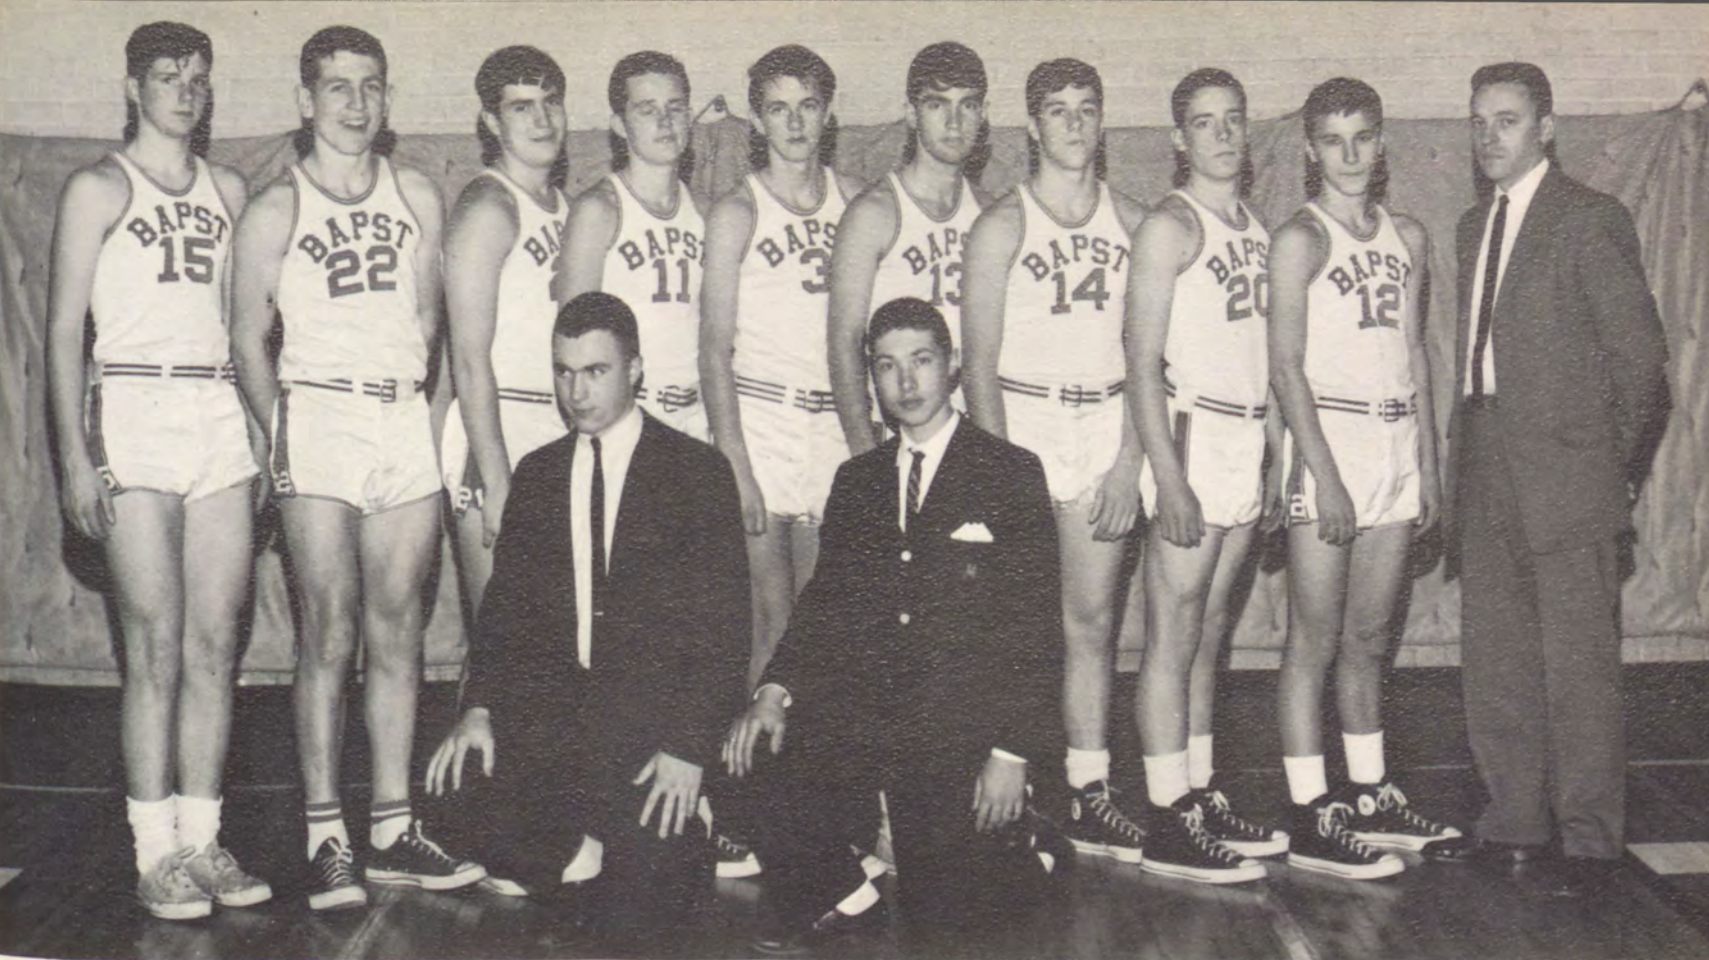

Courtly Capers

The 1965 edition of the CRUSADER JV's, although not over the .500 mark in the win-loss column, uncovered many promising prospects for the future. Charlie Greer, Henry Sockbeson, and Richard Bryce, could turn into one of the strongest rebounding combinations ever seen at Bapst. Jonathan "The Shot" Beausang ended the season with a fine 18-point performance against the Morse JV's. John Richard could become one of the most feared defensive men in the area. Claude Rioux and Sam Estey both showed tremendous potential as future backcourt men. With these boys, and others, we all hope that the John Bapst fans can look forward to a promising continuance of success in the wake of this year's Tournament-minded, upset-minded varsity players.

Frosh Cut Capers

The John Bapst Freshman Basketball team had what would appropriately be called a season filled with "ups" and "downs." Although the team had a 5-5 record in the league, three of these losses were by only two points. Ellsworth, the league champion, was handed its only defeat of the year at the hands of the Frosh CRUSADERS who defeated every other team in the league with the exception of Bucksport. Although their overall record was 6-8, the Freshmen outscored their opponents 759-696, a 4.5 points per game average. Hence, we see that the win-loss record does not truly indicate the talent and potential of these Freshman ballplayers. Leading the team in scoring was captain Jon Beausang who scored 196 points over the season with a 14.0 average per game. Henry Sockbeson, Dick Bryce, and Mike McAllister had a 9.2, 8.0, and 9.2 averages respectively. The team's leading rebounder was Henry Sockbeson with a 14.4 average. Henry was followed by Dick Bryce (9.9) and Jon Beausang (8.7). Jerry Nadeau and Mike McAllister led the attack from the floor. Greg Parent, a strong rebounder, and Peter Martin, a hustling guard, also saw a lot of action for the young Crusaders. Rounding out the squad were forwards Tino DiSalvatore, Paul Poisson, and Mike McKinnon; guards Dick McDonald, Charlie Dionne, and Phil Veilleux. Bapst fans can look forward with enthusiasm to future years of success.

Lost In Space

Do It Again - Do It Again

"Give a cheer, give a cheer, for the girls who lead the cheers, for without them we never would cry--onward Crusaders." A game without fans cheering on a team is but half a game. Who can deny the thrill of knowing that he is being rooted on by his fellow students? It's a sad commentary, as the cliché goes, on a school when its spirit dies, a spirit that must live in every phase of its activity--these girls help keep it alive!

We Like It - We Like It

We liked the cheers during the season, for it was those cheers that kept the rally on and who can say where we might have been without that extra encouragement? Under the very capable direction of Pam McManus and Janice Thibodeau, the Cheerleaders, Varsity and Junior Varsity, are to be commended for their outstanding performances at every game. Varsity cheerleaders pictured below are: Kneeling: Paula Sheehan, Linda Parent, Jackie Hodgins, Frances Hurley; Standing: Pam McManus (capt.), Anne Dougherty, Sue Field, Sandy Smaha, Carol MacDonald.

Socials

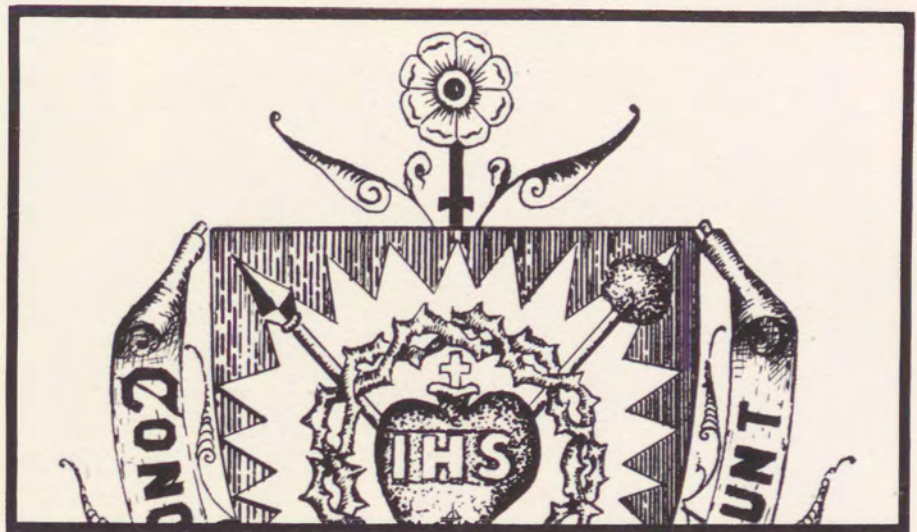

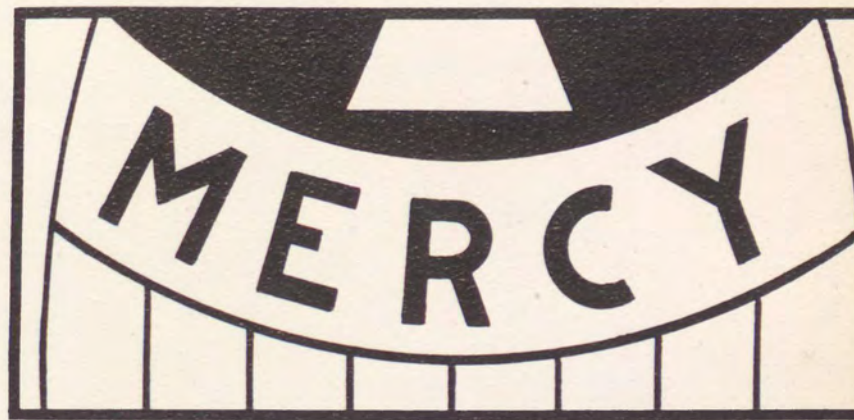

There comes a day in every young man's life when we he makes his first discovery of girls, Girls, that is, as something other than the objects of teasing and bullying, as something other than the fascination of sissies, as something other than protective mothers, demanding teachers and nasty little sisters. On this day a young man discovers girls as something dainty and sweet, attractive and feminine, as a mystery which invites exploration. For youth, growing is learning. To grow means to discover new worlds. It means to love all others, to help them grow with you, to reproduce Christ in yourself. To grow is to become like Christ.

AMBROSE

No, fellas, it's not an extraction. Great Scott!! She's A. Dragon on a lemon! That's a new twist, isn't it?

Don can't figure out why so much Fe (u?) ssenden at a simple thing like this. We always thought he was a big wheel from the way he always spoke about himself.

Each year our freshmen are eagerly (who's eager?) treated to a treatment by the newly-initiated status-seekers, the sophomores. And each year brings King Inanity to the scene, to reign for another wild, wild, wild-a-go-go evening. Somehow or other, though, we feel that, looking back at this year's madness, that there probably weren't too many survivors from among the Bapst neophytes. So, wha' hoppins next? Jerry Nadeau seems to feel that he should walk into things with his eyes open the next time. Sophs never could be trusted!

Capricious Capers Cap Clowning

This is the first time we saw the moon orbiting around two people. Oops! that's no moon! It's an egg in a state of suspension. What's the trick, Bill?

Frolics, Fun and Foolishness

It couldn't have been that bad, after all, for the freshmen seem to be enjoying the fun. Bruce Goode has that stunned look, though. Hasn't he been on stage yet?

Sorry, they're not contestants from "To Tell The Truth" but which twin has the Tony? Whoever the lady is, she'll Rioux the day she wore heels.

The Key To Success Is A

Sweetheart! From modest beginnings just a few years ago, the annual Key Club Sweetheart Dance now takes on the proportions of a national contest, excitement so keen before the announcement is made by this year's Key Club President, Richard Myshraill. Small wonder that as time passes the trappings of such an affair become more elaborate. Who will be able to compete with such a dance in a few more short years, we wonder?

Such enthusiasm for the Sweetheart Dance is but another exemplification of the spirit that has enhanced the Key Club in its short history at John Bapst, and deservedly so. This is their way of letting people know that Key Clubbing is not all work, but that it shares in the joys and thrills of everyday life in addition to contributing to the welfare of the local community in which it is nourished and from which it receives the encouragement needed to carry on its record of SERVICE.

This year saw Jackie Hodgins, a junior, elected Sweetheart. She is accompanied by her beau for the evening, Bob Bolduc. Sophomore candidate, Cookie Rideout, is led down the student-lined aisle by Key Clubber Louis Dougherty. And behind the scenes we find Key Clubbers still at work as Bob Barry and Len Miragliuolo keep pedaling Pepsis to soda-starved customers.

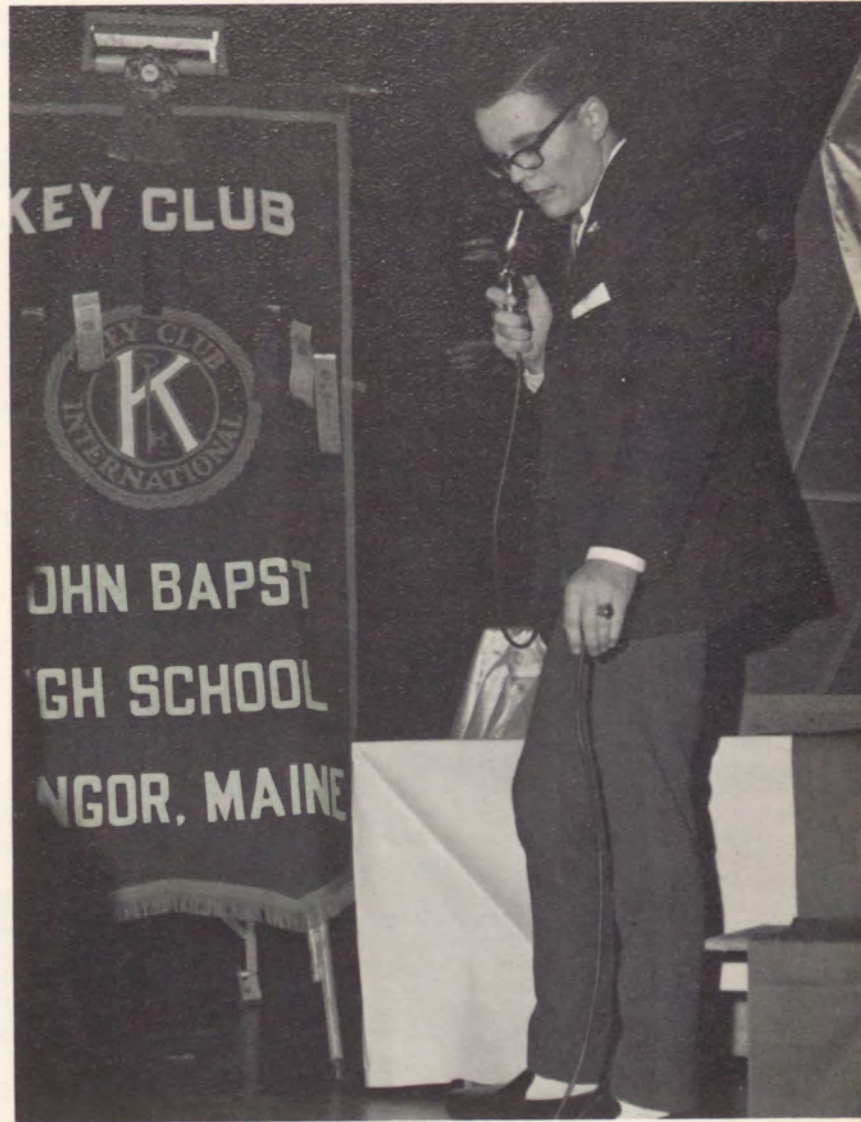

Oooooops! Right couple, wrong dance! Garn! How'd they get on this page anyway! But nothing seems to bother Jim Corey and Brenda Verceles as they trip the light fantastic.

Donna McInnis finds a sturdy partner in Tim Marcoulier. Donna was 1964's Sweetheart.

The Ole Master hisself, Dick Myshrall, can't decide whether or not to allow the Key Club Sweetheart Candidates to come on the stage. We're sure, however, that he'll relent---eventually.

Sweetheart Each Year

As usual, the Bapst auditorium was resplendent with decorations laboriously crafted by the Dance Committee under the aegis of Brother Andrew Joseph. The Thanksgiving metamorphosis outshone any that Ovid could relate.

What! Damsels waiting for the their Knights! Impossible! Could two such lovely ladies have been abandoned by their escorts? It's a mystery. Why, they wouldn't even tell us their names.

A Lot Of Gobbledy-Gook (A New Dance Craze?)

Bill Macdonald and Carol MacDonald really aren't a brother and sister act; no Marge and Gower Champion either.

Bob Sutkus and Sandy Smaha check the steps for the latest dance, "The Bird" from an expert.

Jimmy Hawes and his orchestra provided us with some of the old favorites of a time gone by. But best of all, the drinks were free!!!

Mike Gould didn't have to flip a-coin to figure out his date.

While James McKinnon keeps his eye on a jealous bird or two.

All is sweetness and light for these couples!

John Quigley seems to be developing an interest in the Eskimo method of kissing--a real nose to nose talk!

Waltzing In A Winter Wonderland

With the arrival of the winter season and the Christmas holidays, came the annual Snowball Prom. The night was aglow with the decorations so aptly chosen by the Dance Committee as we danced to the song of Nat Diamond and his orchestra. With the passing of the Prom we realized a goal had been reached in our school year. We were at the half-way mark, some of us for the last time at John Bapst. As the strains of the final number played to our ears, we recollected the many happy moments that had been ours in the halls of this auditorium.

Surely Thou Jest(er)est

Mr. and Mrs. Pooler keep a sharp eye out for the "sport coats and ties" as they enter the auditorium.

We took the treat instead of the treatment with the Jesters this year. And we'd rather fight than switch, as the saying goes. This year saw perhaps the greatest attendance at the CYO dances. This is but one of the many facets of the CYO program, under the direction of "Rock" Pooler, which tries to reach a helping hand to all the local teenagers, developing them socially, physically, and morally. Jim Cochrane, our own "Rumpus" man, was the ever-present disc jockey with the right songs for the right moment.

Ring Out The Old Ring In The New

Nat Diamond and his orchestra provided just the right touch to the Senior Prom of 1965 with its theme of Bapst memories through symbols of various designs, recalling in particular the class ring design by a beautifully constructed giant replica of the ring design. With the Senior Prom came an end to the old, in one sense, and a beginning of the new as we doffed our high school airs a few short weeks later to enter upon a new life as young adults in a painfully growing world to which we must learn to adjust ourselves.

All was not lost on the photographer as our pictures betray. In the upper left John Darling and Debbie Dauphinee beam the happiness reflected in the faces of all that evening, while Joe Coffin and Kathy Rogan (above) pose inside the ring. Not to be outdone, Tom Chase and Kathy Murray look at the ring from the other side. Meanwhile, Dan Sargent and Marie Bouchard admire the exterior construction of the ring as they pause in the evening's festivities to show their appreciation for a job well done by the Dance Committee.

The Grand March. As each couple passes through the ring, a rose is handed to the young man's partner by the chaperones.

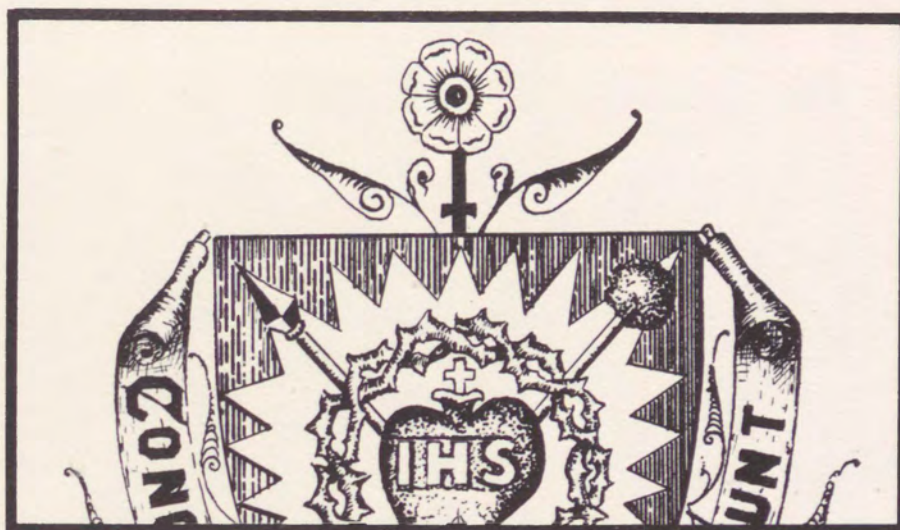

Activities

What ideal of man must you prepare for the future? We will find that ideal fundamentally designed in the perfect Christian. By the perfect Christian we mean the Christian of today, child of his own era, knowing and cultivating all the advances made by science and technical skill; a citizen and not something apart from the life led in his own country today. The world will have nothing to regret if an ever-increasing number of these Christians is placed in all sectors of public and private life...Teachers must direct the minds of their disciples to discover the inexhaustible strength of Christianity for the improvement and renewal of peoples.

The Talent Spotlight

At John Bapst, students learn that they have talents which have long lain dormant. Before anyone can take his place in a society which demands exacting specialization, he must learn to use these talents confidently and effectively. The various committees, clubs, and societies develop leaders who will carry with them into the world what they have learned here at John Bapst.

Art Club

Thanks to the Art Club the halls of Bapst have been flooded with posters keeping students aware of latest events. Anne Desjardins, Sister Flavia, and C. Flannigan inspect another artist's work and give their studied opinion of its worth.

1966 Crusader New Ideas

Without a doubt, the unsung activities frequently require the most work and devotion. The CRUSADER has managed to capture the devotion of few students at Bapst, yet each year sees an improvement at the hands of the few who do contribute their time and efforts. On the opposite page, Lorraine Therrien, Judy Shaboski, Len Miragliuolo, Sharon Averill, and Bob Wakely ponder over their next choice of pictures as they prepare new layouts, Scott Connolly and Mary Deschaine are likewise busy in attempting to meet their deadline. Stephen Caron, Tom Tilton, and Margaret Clancey seem not to approve of their latest chef-d'oeuvre. Looking at the staff at work can you wonder that anything gets done at all??? Len Miragliuolo is sure that there's something wrong with this new alphabet of 26 letters, and Judy Shaboski tries to scratch a fertile idea for her next assignment.

"Calling Sir Boss, Calling Sir Boss," Elaine panics at the "switchboard."

Medieval Madcaps

A CONNECTICUT YANKEE IN KING ARTHUR'S COURT, presented on November 18-19 was another outstanding BROADWAY success. Thanks to the talents of the students involved better productions are presented each year to the public. This comedy could not have been produced without the capable assistance of: Stage hands--Robert Barry, Peter Martin, Gerald Shaw, Bob Sutkus; Scenery--Bob Field, Bob Barry, Mr. Paul Martin; Prompter--Kathy Moore; Makeup--Donna McInnis, Joanne Cashman, Roberta Dubay, Sandy Smaha; Ushers--John Bapst Key Club.

strength overpowered his blackest of magic."

Dick Myshrall and Mike O'Brien check the dance committee's storehouse of wares as preparations get under way for another gala evening of entertainment.

Valuable Lessons For Growing Up

The first semester was a hectic one. Like all schools, we had our share of dances, football games, and whatever else goes to make up the social rounds of every busy teenager. But we had our serious moments too. We did participate in Civics Club discussions and projects, we did work hard at being good Sodalists, in carrying out our Christian obligations a little better than average, if possible. We were thrilled too and encouraged in our work as we realized that in each of these activities we were not only giving of ourselves but, what is more, we were receiving rewards in return far outweighing the efforts expended.

Sodality Officers: Jim Corey, Sister Mary Jeanne (moderator), Brother Hart (moderator), Margaret Clancey, Dick Myshrahl, Judy Collins, Ruth Fitzpatrick, Barbara Parent, Dan Sargent, Mike Barry.

Father Archambault was a welcome visitor to our Sodality meetings.

Civics Club Officers: Sandy Smaha, Doreen Brissette, Miss Lavin (moderator), Josephine Leeman, Marie Bouchard.

Decorating and dancing and collecting food aren't the only activities we engage. But this is collecting of another color!

The Hills Are Alive With The Sound Of Music

The John Baptist Glee Club had its busiest year in feasting its audiences with the strains of melodies old and new. Frequent appearances for various clubs and organizations were among its varied activities. Of foremost importance was the very excellent work done by the Glee Club at the Sisters of Mercy Centennial Mass and in the special post-prandial concert rendered by a select group of choristers to those attending the Sisters' banquet. Many thanks to Sister Mary Pius for her kindness and direction in forming such a unique organization in our school.

Students of the newspaper staff scan the pages of the BANGOR DAILY NEWS to see if they have scooped the BAPSTONIAN in its newsnote of the year--the joint activities now being formed at Bapst. These are just a few of the select corps of workers who provide the students with the late-st in school news: Roberta Dubay, Nancy Boyle, Mary Deschaine, Mike Morse, Carole MacDonald, Dick Myshrall, Bill Macdonald. Leadership is a quality we all recognize in those students who participated in Boys' State and Girls' State during the past summer. At a special assembly, Anne Dougherty, Pam Hopkins, Maureen Cochrane, Lynn Chute, Dick Myshrall, Bob Field, Gerard Desjardins, and Gerald Shaw, recounted their experiences at Dirigo.

Latin Scholars Venerunt Viderunt Vicerunt / Literary Adventurers

Sister Luanus can be proud of her Latin scholars as they display the trophy won by them in the Auxilium Latinum examination held each Spring. It's not really a man's world; even the Romans found that out. In addition to the pursuit of the Classics, students find new avenues of expression opening for them in the formation of the Literary Club, with the direction of Miss Lavin. Boys and girls are members of this unique organization which seeks to dispel the notion that thinking is for a select few. Weekly meetings and discussions enhance the prestige of this club and that of the school. With Miss Lavin are the Club officers: Paula Sheehan, Mary Downes, Ann Pattison, Norma Violette.

We all need some nourishment to carry on activities!

Supercalifragilisticexpialidocious

On February 20, 1966, the annual Science Fair was held in the John Bapsta auditorium. As usual, entries were quite numerous and so varied that decisions were difficult to make when the time came to judge the winners. All students who participate in such an activity which yields little publicity in proportion to the time that must be injected into the preparation of each project are to be commended because they have ALL won a prize in the knowledge gained through research.

Anne Desjardins feels her accomplishments are likewise worthy of recognition, and they are! Pierre Dumont (top picture) a budding biologist, leaves no room for doubt as to his ability.

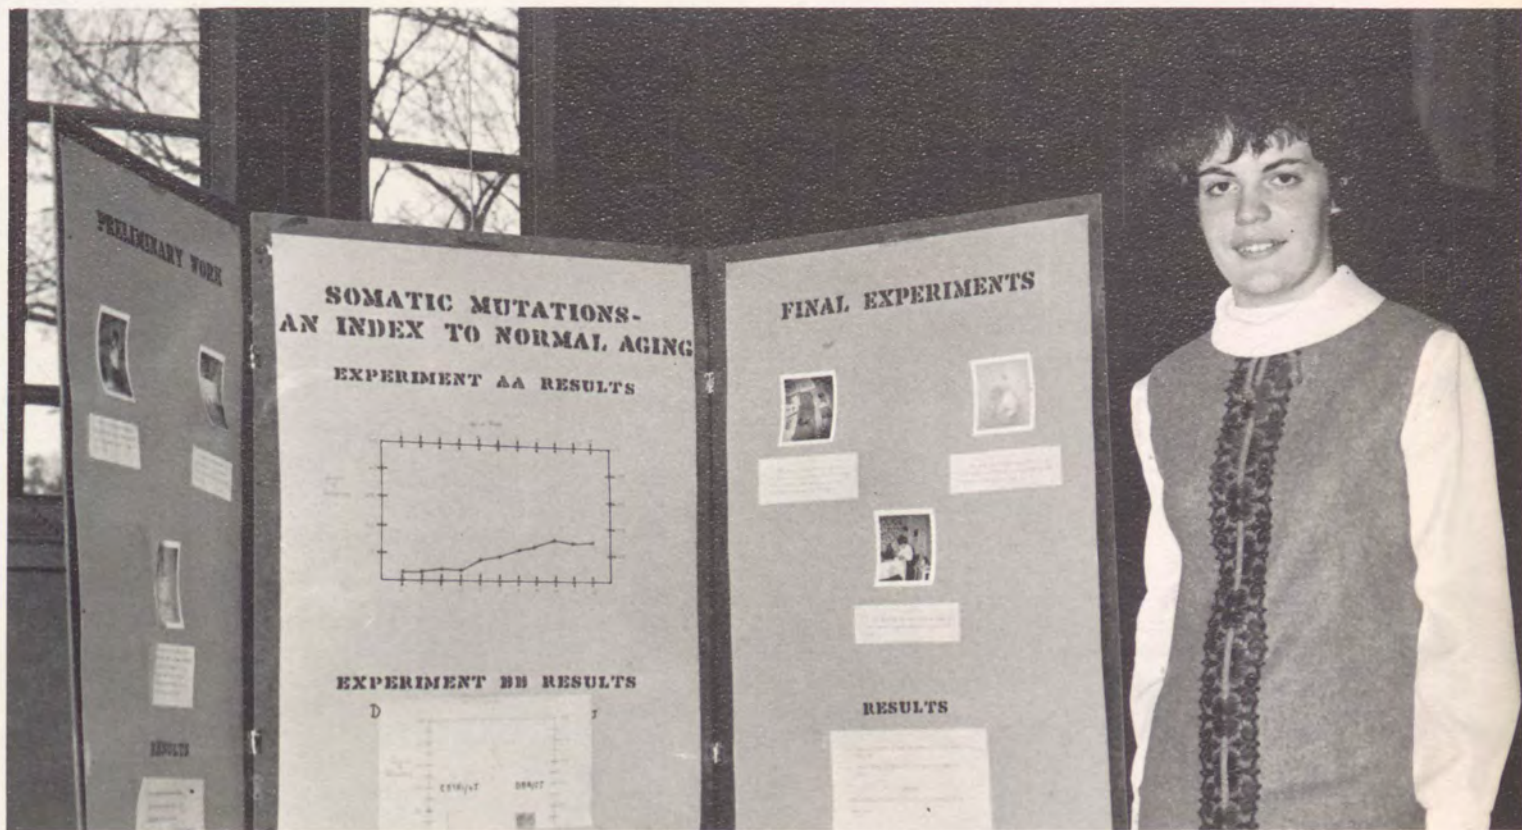

Steve Eslin's project earns a medal of recognition.

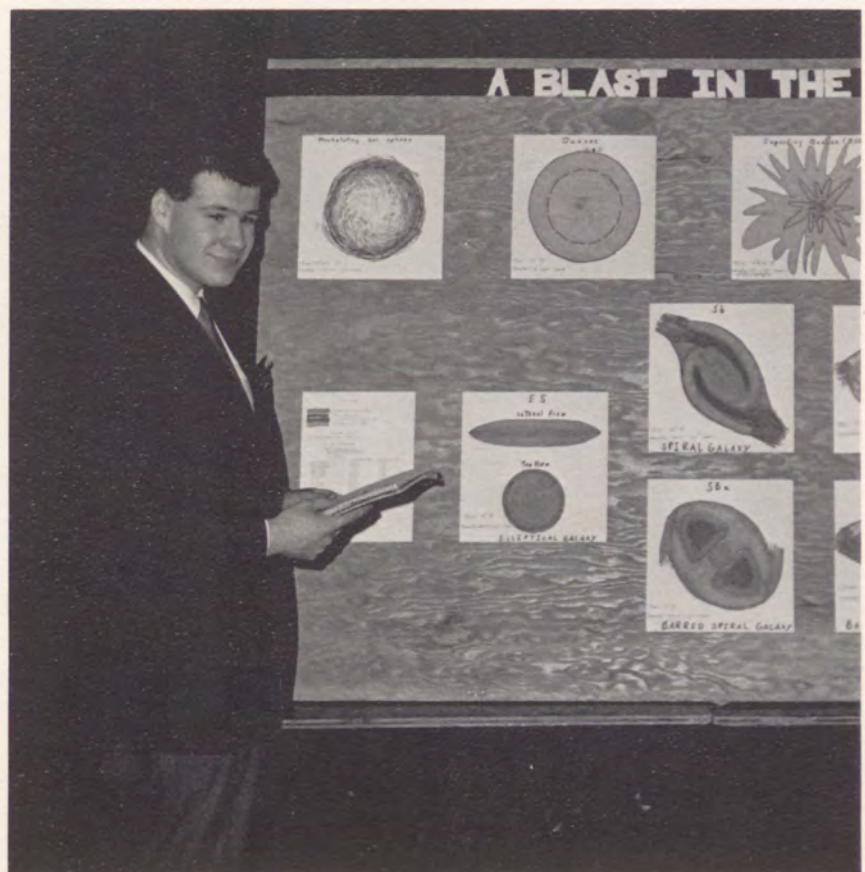

The Scientific Approach

Whoever said, "Science is a cemetery of dead ideas," was certainly correct, as we can judge. So quickly do new ideas come into the scientist's view that what was once considered new soon becomes relegated to the attic of outworn ideas.

Advances in science cannot be made without people willing to investigate the phenomena of life. Through science fairs we hope to make some small contribution to the field of science by encouraging investigation into the world of ideas.

Bob Wakely receives a medal for his work in chemistry.

Nancy Boyle (top picture) demonstrates the caliber of work that has earned her a high place in the scholastic records of John Bapst, while Gerard Desjardins continues to expound on his theory of the world about us, another winning exhibit.

The Time Has Come When We Must Go

The final song,
The final speech,
The final game,
The final test,
The first, yet final Prom,
But not the final smile,
We hope, that has traced
Memories of our years
At John Bapst.

To our Principals and Teachers who have guided us with their lives and love,
To all who have given of themselves that we may receive the fruits of a Catholic education,
We say thank you.

The quality of mercy is not strained,
It droppeth as the gentle rain from heaven
Upon the place beneath. It is twice bless'd:
It blesseth him that gives and him that takes.
'Tis mightiest in the mightiest: it becomes
The throned monarch better than his crown:...
But mercy is above this sceptred sway,
It is enthroned in the hearts of kings,
It is an attribute of God Himself;
And earthly power doth then show likest God's
When mercy seasons justice....
We do pray for mercy,
And that same prayer doth teach us all to render
The deeds of mercy.

SHAKESPEARE:
