Class Hymn.

Music—MAE SILSBY.

Words—ANNIE M. REED.

Up pathways of knowledge together we've toiled,
 By kind patient Teachers oft cheered on our way;
 But now we are leaving our school life behind,
 And Teachers and scholars are parting today.

Though Time's fleeting hours we ne'er can recall,
 To gather and clasp our lost moments again;
 Yet the task we've accomplished remaineth for aye,
 For storing our minds is not labor in vain.

To-night as we part, with the deepest regret
 We turn from these scenes that we all love so well;
 And now as we think of the days that are past,
 We grieve as we linger to utter farewell.

And when o'er life's westerly hill, sunset tints
 Give promise of glory beyond earthly strife;
 At Heaven's fair gate may we gain from our Lord,
 A victor's bright crown, the reward of this life.

Benediction.
