Only a moment; a moment of strength,
of romance, of glamour — of youth! . . . A flick of sunshine upon a strange shore, the time to remember,
the time for a sigh,
and — good-bye!

The Time of Our Lives

Years from now as we flip through the pages of this yearbook we will be reminded of all the times that we spent here at Bangor High. Times of struggle and achievement, of change and maturity. While we may not have captured each and every memory of our time here, it is our hope that through these select moments that we have chosen, we have been able to stop the clock for a few brief seconds — to pause — and to remember these times . . . The Time of Our Lives.

Dedication: William N. Ames

Anyone who walks into the English suite in lower A will know immediately which desk is Bill Ames. It is a mess, a pile, an absolute disaster area. This is merely to the untrained eye. Those who know him see it is just as busily kept as he himself is. I doubt anyone at Bangor High School can dispute Mr. Ames is in fact the most difficult person in the building to track down, because he is one of the most demanded. Teaching English allows him contact with many students, and he is always willing to stay the extra hour, or go over that second draft, again. Teaching is not only his profession, but his love. He inspires students to gain appreciation of literature with his own contagious love. This is obvious to anyone who has participated in his class or seen him in action. Those who haven't experienced his rendition of Beowulf, are able to see another part of him through their yearbook. Mr. Ames has been its advisor for 8 years, each year getting better and better. His only request is to be sure to include every student and keep deadlines. He gave the encouragement and empowerment.

This book with his support, is our book, the Class of 1995. We would like to dedicate it to him, and thank him for all he's done.

Life profile of William Ames by his wife, Laura Sholtz:

William Nicholas Ames is a Scorpio, born in Hackensack, New Jersey on November 5, 1949. (This was the Chinese year of the OX — attributes: dependable, have very strong ideas.) He graduated near the top of his class from Hackensack High School in 1967. While attending he was active in the Drama Club and was a member of the National Honor Society. He was one of the graduation speakers.

Bill attended Seton Hall University for one year, then transferred to Northeastern University and graduated from there in 1972. He taught in a few states, and was a park ranger in Pennsylvania for awhile. He finally settled in the greater Boston area, sharing living space with other young professionals. (Some people called this communal living.)

Bill's interests have always been in teaching young people, civil rights, travelling, and public speaking.

Bill taught in the Newton Public Schools in Massachusetts for many years before we decided to move to Maine for "the good life" in the fall of 1987. He has been teaching at Bangor High School ever since.

A loving father and husband, Bill has been with his wife for fifteen years, and has two young daughters and a stepson who is an aeronautical engineer in California. In addition to his students at school and family at home, he tends to his cats, chickens, rabbits, and tadpoles — a full menagerie.

His hobbies include travelling around the US and Canada, camping, hiking, snowshoeing, teaching, and eating. He is a vegetarian and sometimes homeopath, and a devout believer in "Early to bed and early to rise . . .". Above all he is an adamant advocate of his students.

As of now, his goals for the future are to publish a book on education reform and to be still hiking with Laura in the West when we're in our eighties.

Time For

Some seniors can be found week to week in the limelight. Others are unsung heroes, striving to achieve in their individual interests and activities. Through their perseverance and dedication they accomplish that which others only dream of. These standout seniors deserve our respect, admiration, and most of all, recognition. Their works represent truly noble qualities, not just of academics and athletics, but of life. These are by no means all the seniors who have done extraordinary things, merely the few we were fortunate enough to know of.

The Class of 1995 proved itself over and over again to be achievers, doers, and believers. These are the select few who represent the whole. In a glimpse, we see the diversity, the accomplishment, and the heart of Bangor High School's Class of 1995.

HOMECOMING 1994

Freaky, man.

Are you ready to "RUMBLE?"

Mark Bower looks nervously over his shoulder for angry S.E.E.D. members, as Bill McDougal uproots a small tree.

Q: Where's Corey Bobb?
A: He's looking for the swimming pool.

Chrissy Bouchea and freshman accomplices proudly conquer their acrophobia.

Sure, this float is sturdy enough to hold up for a round at the Monster Truck Rally!

Junior Class Council

The 1994-1995 Junior Class Council, under the supervision of Coach Morse and Ms. Martin, started off this school year very busy. The Class Council members were kept occupied during the fall with plans for a dance and preparing for Homecoming. Also this year we held a successful bottle drive and a car wash which helped us on the road to graduation. We look forward to our senior year and all it has to bring. ...

Student Council

The 1994-1995 student council has enjoyed a very productive and active year. Following the council elections in the fall, we held a successful homecoming week. The homecoming dance and numerous other fund raisers allowed the student council to be involved with various projects.

The council sent forty-four representatives to a leadership conference at Brewer High School and sponsored seven to attend the regional convention at Old Town High School. The student council prided itself on its participation with various school projects such as the mock election in November. Involvement in school functions is an integral part of student council. We were able to make a donation to benefit the senior section of the yearbook, sponsor a boy and a girl to attend Boy's and Girl's State, helped with funds for close-up, sponsored the fourth annual faculty breakfast, and ushered at the academic awards night. As a result of our hard work and fund raising we presented a scholarship to a graduating senior.

The 1994-1995 student council prides itself on a wonderful year. We lent a great amount of support to other clubs and organizations at Bangor High School. As the senior council members bid farewell, we wish the councils to come continued success.

Key Club

Key Club began the year with well over 100 members. Eager to work in the community, in the fall members participated in fund raising efforts for the Shaw House, MPBN, and the Kiwanis Club luncheon. They also helped area children carve Halloween pumpkins, distributed health information for St. Joseph's hospital, shopped for Thanksgiving food baskets, and took area children Christmas shopping. Spring semester brought several spring fairs that called on Key Club to pitch in as did the drama club at the regional One Act competition. The year ended with a fun trip to Springfield, Massachusetts and the induction of new officers.

National Honor Society

The National Honor Society, a national organization recognizing student academic achievement, had a successful year promoting service and leadership, providing peer tutors, and selling lollipops. Members are chosen by the school faculty, and all sophomores, juniors, and seniors with a 3.0 grade point average or higher are eligible for election. Membership is an honor as well as an obligation. This year's officers were Kristen Johnston (President), Emily Bragg (Vice President), Anju Rozario (Secretary), Christine Bragg (Treasurer), and Dan Reid (Parliamentarian).

SEED activities this year included fall and spring clean-ups of the school grounds and in the city. We also expanded our recycling program within the school. We were fortunate to sponsor guest speakers, highlighted by Thai environmentalist Tuenjai Deetes. A five hundred dollar donation from Wal-Mart's "green fund" helped us to develop recycling programs, purchase materials for bat boxes, and explore areas ranging from composting to energy conservation to organic farming.

The Envirothon competition is a statewide contest testing the group's knowledge of the environment — from general topics such as the ecosystem to specific areas including forestry, oceanography, and other environmental concerns. The students represented BHS well in the state competition and hope to come back next year to participate again.

AFS

Officers: Louise Mallory, Caroline Perryman, Sarah Glenville, Christina Mallett

AFS is an international organizational that promotes intercultural learning through worldwide exchanges. In the AFS club students meet new people from countries around the world as well as from their own community.

In the AFS club this year, members were involved in educational, fund-raising, and fellowship activities. There were "country presentations" on Ecuador, Paraguay, Germany, Switzerland and Japan. Also during the year, AFS members organized a welcome pizza party, a Halloween get-together, a Christmas party, and a number of fund-raising activities including a bottle drive and a spaghetti dinner. Many club members also participated in a day exchange with Orono High School.

LEADER

This past summer, Boys State, a week long government seminar, was held at Maine Maritime Academy in Castine. Delegates spent the week learning about the workings of government on the local, state, and national levels, and were a part of a mock government. The BHS delegates grasped every opportunity to involve themselves and came away from the week with a new understanding of our governmental system.

Girls State, a week long government seminar, was held at Husson college this past summer and included among its delegates five BHS students. During the week, the students were involved in a mock government which held town meetings, passed bills, and involved themselves in a number of heated political discussions. The girls came away from the experience with a new appreciation and knowledge of our governmental system.

Odyssey of the Mind

OM is a competition of both knowledge and skill among teams consisting of students at the elementary, middle school, and high school levels. Students select a long term problem to solve and present their solutions in a given amount of time to a panel of judges during the competition. Winning teams pass on from city level competition to regional, state and national levels.

Debate

The Debate Team had an exceptional year, competing successfully in eight tournaments that were held all over the state. Led by Captain Jenn Malmstrom, the relatively young team consisting of mostly sophomores and freshmen competed in both Lincoln-Douglas and Policy style debates. In addition to the two traditional styles of debate, the Debate Team sent several students to the Maine Student Congress. The Student Congress is a mock parliament/U.S. Senate which gives students the opportunity to pass and dissolve laws that affect Maine and the nation.

Speech

The Speech Team gained many new members this year, as well as a new coach. They have been very successful and, though few in number, they have been large in impact. With seniors Lyz Teixeira and Chris Winstead leaving, the team will be in good hands as Cat Anderson, Serena Andrews, Amy Freidenberg and Amy Stubbs continue next year.

Latin Club

Latin Club members participated in Maine Junior Classical League where they earned recognition through academic competition on with other schools in the state. To add to our funds to cover convention costs and to initiate a scholarship there were several money raisers: leaf raking, a classical dinner open to the public and a Latin T-shirt sale. Through various activities members strive to share and spread their common interest in the Classics.

Math Team

Officers: Dave Cote, Ian Swett, Jerry Hess, Marie Blanke

The Math Team is a member of a state-wide organization which promotes mathematical study and competition. The team enters five regional meets and one state meet. At each meet there are five topics on which the students are to concentrate. This provides an opportunity for each student to look at topics in math, such as triangles, which he/she has studied in more than one course. The meets also provide an opportunity for students to enjoy competing against each other.

In the last five years, the team has done so well that it has been asked to go to the New England Invitational Math Competition near Boston. Before and after this meet team members have enjoyed the Boston area. The practices after school, at Governor's and at Pat's paid off.

Lit House

Lit House, a literary magazine created, written, and illustrated by students of BHS, had a strong and successful ninth publication. The magazine houses original and creative works, in various genre, by the current BHS student body. The Lit House accepts submissions all year, and the pieces are selected and edited by advisor Dianna Christakos' Creative Writing class. This year's editor was Christina Query. Illustrations for the magazine are provided by the BHS Art classes.

Ram-Page!

The Ram-Page! is a Bangor High School student newspaper which combines articles from the Journalism Club as well as the Journalism class. The Ram-Page! is published four times a year and is now in its sixth year of publication. It has brought national and school news to the BHS student body. This year's class guided by Mrs. Drisko and Ms. Bellow, is using Pagemaker which is a computer program that students use to design and lay out each page of the paper. BHS is one of the first schools to try out this new technique. This new process will cut down on the long hours that the students previously spent after school working on the paper. This year's editor-in-chief is Erika Illingworth.

Art Club

The purpose of the Art Club is to provide a place and time for motivated students to work on independent and group art projects. The primary goal is studio enrichment for students. Students in the Art Club have worked on murals, class assignments, independent projects, and have also participated in some special art activities. Some of the activities included were Fimo jewelry, paste paper, tie-dyed paper, and marbled paper.

The Art Club held a poster sale in November. The club members helped to paint a backdrop for a high school theater production. The Art Club members contributed art work to several local exhibits and also organized a student art exhibit and sale. Every year the Bangor High School Art Club provides awards for graduating seniors who are continuing their art education in college.

Drama Club

This year, the Drama Club's second year of operation, there were many exciting productions, fundraisers, and events the Club was involved in. The musical, "The Unsinkable Molly Brown", was a huge success when it was performed in December, and was fun for all involved. The One-Act was a success and BHS did very well in competition. The Spring Dinner Theatre was fantastic fun and raised a lot of money for the Drama club's Second Annual Awards Banquet. All of the candy sales and wreath sales raised lots of money for the Club, and many thanks to all who supported The Drama Club this year.

Congratulations, Seniors!

Your New Journey begins
today.

The faculty and staffs of Bangor High

Kristen and Anju: You two have been the lifeline of our book. Without your fantastic pictures the book would not have been possible. Thanks for putting up with all of our stress-induced fits around deadline time!

John and Owen: Thanks for all of the wit and sarcasm that kept us going and kept us sane.

Jen and Jenn: Your contribution to the book was mundane and grueling, but one of the most vital.

Brett: Thanks for all of your hard work, time, and effort, especially with the senior pages. And thanks for keeping us all informed on the latest gossip.

Chuck: Thanks for all of your great artwork in such short-notice, for putting up without constant harassment, and for keeping Jon in line.

Travis: Thanks for digging up all of our sports pictures, records, and summaries.

Hollie: Thanks for all of your work on the ad pages.

Liz, Kari, and Sara: Thanks for all of the extra work that you all put in without our even having to ask. Your underclassmen pages were great. We wish you the best of luck with the book next year. Just a suggestion: acquire a taste for coffee and put a sofa in the yearbook room. — you won't be leaving often.

Tim and Jess: Thanks for your short-notice photography work. Your pictures saved us more than once!

Our letter crew: Thanks for all of your hard work, time, and envelope licking. We appreciated it more than you could know.

Christina Query: You made our swimming pages possible.

Mr. Ames: You made this book 10 months of your life, dedicating yourself to help us anyway humanly (and inhumanly) possible. And although you're not an easy person to track down in the building, whenever we really needed you, you were there. Thanks for all that you've done for us, both with the book, and with our hectic lives — for being not only our advisor, but our mentor, and for entrusting us with your utmost faith in our abilities.

To the Class of 1995: It is our hope that years from now you will be able to look back at this yearbook and remember the time you spent at Bangor High School as the Time of Our Lives.

*Best Wishes,
Meaghan Hannan and Liza Watts*

As yearbook editors it has been our privilege to create a type of time capsule for the school — a collection of the activities of the many different types of students who roam the halls of BHS. While we may not have recorded all that we have experienced over the past four years, we hope that you will look back on the 1995 Oracle in years to come and be reminded of all of the times that we have shared here at Bangor High . . . The Time of Our Lives.

A Special
Thank You . . .
Your Special Efforts .
Brought This Book
Into Being

Meaghan, Liza, Jon, Anju, Jen, Jennifer, Travis, Chuck, Kristen, and Brett . . . We wish you the best in your travels through life:

ADDITIONAL PATRONS

You have earned our most heartfelt appreciation!

Thank you!
