We, the Seniors of 1987, hereby dedicate the 1987 Crusader Yearbook to Mr. James Nahra and to Mr. Harlow Floyd for all the help and encouragement that they have provided us during the past four years.

Both Mr. Nahra and Mr. Floyd should be commended for their longevity in a field that is particularly well known for burnout.

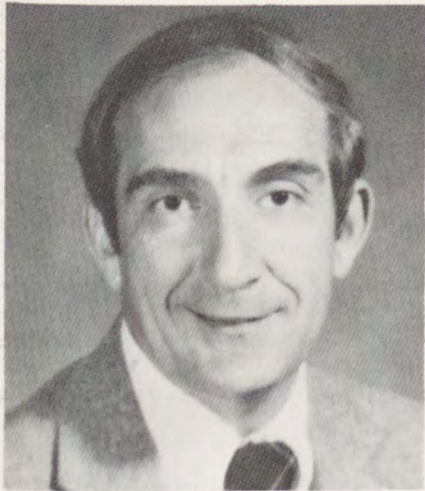

Mr. Nahra has been at John Bapst since 1972 and since then he has led the students of John Bapst to the victory of their graduation, by helping them raise funds, and by telling them of his personal trials as a student.

Mr. Floyd has been at John Bapst since 1962 and he has always been known as an extremely honest and courageous teacher.

It is rare these days when most of the world's mystery has been lost that one man could enchant a group of students and it seems almost impossible that two men would be able to achieve this goal, yet both Mr. Nahra and Mr. Floyd have seemed to enchant us all at one time or another with knowledge that comes not only from the text but also from life.

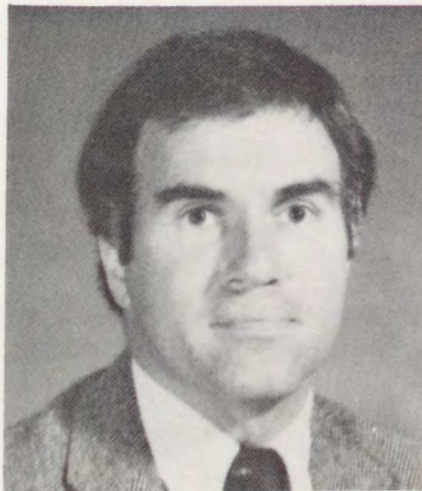

THANK YOU

For everyone who makes it,
There's a million who get left behind.
The only way to make it out alive
Is to never give an inch.
When you're living your life under fire,
Never give an inch.
Never lose sight of your one desire,
Never give an inch
Take it straight to the end,
Even if it hurts, even if you bleed,
Even if you're down on your knees,
Never give an inch.
Some go for desperate measures,
They're under the gun.
Some go for desperate measures,
They're under the gun.
I go for grace under pressure,
Standing my ground whenever it comes.

CLASS WILLS

KRISTIN MAUNZ: I leave patience and good luck in the future to Heather Hews.

TODD SEKERA: I leave thinking of how many times the members of the John Bapst Faculty will be saying, "Another Sekera."

CHRIS BUSHWAY: I leave bruised from my experience at Scott's house.

KAREN PRENDERGAST: I leave one WHO CARES and three punches in the arm to Mr. Miragliuolo.

JAMES LARGAY: I leave here with a diploma and a fresh outlook on college, second I leave all my partying duties to my cousin Tom, Rich, and Joey, I know that they can handle the responsibility.

RON BANKS: I leave control of the office to the Atwoods . . . GOOD LUCK.

KYLE SPRUCE: I leave Al Tripp with a diploma and a cup of school coffee.

BRIAN LAWTON: I leave my house key, my refrigerator, and my official Nerf basketball set to Scott Phelps.

THAD DOLLEY: I leave my shooting percentage to Scott Phelps.

HEIDI PORTER: I leave all my hairspray to the Junior Girls.

JAY HENDERSON: I leave my school spirit to anyone that wants 6 hours of detention for showing it.

MICHELE SMITH: I leave Matt Clark the kiss that he has been trying to steal all year.

JOEL BRAGDON: I leave my stub to Samantha Stubbs.

BARBARA AUSTIN: I leave my analytical essay to Mr. Nahra.

STEVE FAHSEL: I leave Sean "Larry" McGarr my wristbands, my basketball talent, and my attitude. I also leave my patience with the soccer coach's words.

MARTY CUSHING: I leave my free-throw percentage to Matt Clark.

BARBARA DOYLE & HEIDI SEELEY: We leave our chemistry lab techniques to next year's chemistry class.

ROBBIE LUNT: I leave my basketball ability to anyone who wants to sit on the bench next year.

SCOTT SEELEY: I leave my algebra skills to Sue Magnant.

JOHN ASHMAN: I leave my awesome ability to do homework to anyone who wants it.

MARK WIRTA: I leave my extensive four year pen and pencil collection to all unprepared Freshmen.

RICHARD BURCHILL: I leave my superior quarterback talents to Carl Wilson.

MARK COLVIN: I leave one Egg McMuffin and my center field position to Dave Hemingway.

LESLEY GILLIS: I leave the stage, to Terrie Nichols, with the stipulation that she use it.

SHAWN CAMPBELL: I leave nothin' to nobody 'cause I want it all.

MARY EACMEN: I leave my worm eating ability to anyone who doesn't bring a bag lunch.

MELISSA GLIDDEN: I leave my "honor" grades in history to Charles "dana" Seeley.

DAVID NIZNIK & ROBBIE MONBERG & KEVIN BURNS: We leave 100% of our blue chip stock in Revlon Hair Care Products, in hope that they never have to worry where their next can of hairspray is coming from to Tara Roberts and Jeny McKlusky.

MIKE SAMIYA: I leave my awesome Firebird to Mike McManus so he can drive something other than a FORD.

MIKE DAVIS: I leave my brand-new YAMAHA electric bass to NOBODY.

KIM PLACELLA: I leave my leftover tanning bed visits to Mrs. Sprague.

GEOFF PERKINS: I should have left Honors Chemistry earlier to maintain a respectable G.P.A.

AINGEAL MCLAUGHLIN: I leave one huge scarf to Dede Dolley.

DAN MINER: I leave everything I never had to everyone who doesn't want it — the rest is up for grabs.

KIMBERLY MUNSON: I leave Mr. Nahra's "funny" anecdotes to anyone else who wants to listen to them.

SUE VEROW: I leave a shoe to put in her mouth, a ticket on The bus, and a lot of luck to Michele Verill.

SUE HACKETT: I leave my ability to run the clock in a soccer game to Kim Bloomer.

JIM MOORHEAD: I leave all my ability to drive a car load of people to the soccer field without scaring them to death to Sandy Choquet.

DARLENE SIBLEY: I leave my U.S. History II techniques to the Junior class.
 BONNIE HARKINS: I leave what I have the most to Tara Roberts, because hers have severe damage..
 KRISTIN MAUNZ & JENNIFER LOESCHER: We leave a Jonie's Butterfly and a ripe cucumber to anyone in Mr. Schaab's chemistry class, the Eagles' tape, the whipped cream and the lime Dacquiris back at NOSAM.
 SCOTT OLIVER: I leave the Rock Band; also I leave my sense of humor to Mrs. Waring for when she needs it most.
 BRYAN SEELEY: I leave my "B" average in history to Dana Seeley.
 CINDY WALKER: I leave Mr. Floyd a picture of my Mercedes.
 KIMBERLY OLIVER: I leave Advanced Math to anyone who can stay awake through it.
 SEAN WEBER & CHRISTY ELLIS: We leave the mess in the Resource Room to anyone who wants to attempt reorganizing the whole room.
 ROB CIMBOLLEK: I leave my "Birds and the Bees" Philosophy to Nick Chiappone.
 JULIE GUYETTE: I would leave something to somebody but there's no one left.

Do You Know
What's Wrong In The Solution?

An Arabian legend relates that an old Sheik, upon his death, left all his earthly goods to his three sons, under the condition that one-half should go to the eldest, one-third to the next, and one-ninth to the youngest. Among the Sheik's possessions were 17 fine horses, and the three sons were at a loss as to how to divide these animals among them. One day a wise man rode into town, and, in return for a night's shelter, agreed to solve the problem. Adding his own horse to the others, making 18 in all, he had no trouble distributing the animals according to the terms of the will: of the 18 horses, the eldest son received 9, the second son received 6, and the youngest received 2. When this division was completed, it was found that the wise man's horse was left over; so he took it back and rode off leaving everyone satisfied with so simple a solution.

AFTER GRADUATION - Try Making 150 Tons of Metal Go 500 MPH at 30,000 Feet!

YOUR HOMETOWN AIR FORCE

The Air National Guard is serving in a tradition which began in Massachusetts Colony in 1636 - the tradition of the Civil Soldier, armed and ready to protect his community - whatever the threat!

Three hundred fifty years later, we stand ready to assist in the defense of the United States, as well as continuing to serve the home community and state. The Maine Air National Guard is truly the "Hometown Air Force".

Guarding America's Skies

As a vital part of the Strategic Air Command (SAC), the Maine Air Guard provides direct air-to-air refueling for military aircraft, worldwide. Our personnel and equipment must be "ready to go" on a moment's notice - there's no room up there for "second best"!

Community Support

At home, in peacetime, the Maine Air Guard trains - in skills vital to the national defense, but usually valuable to the community, as well. And unlike most civilian employers, - we don't require experience, we provide it - and the training necessary to get it!

Training and Education

They're our "middle names". In addition to covering the cost of your official travel, room and board, and "tuition and books" while you go to Basic Training and our Technical School, we'll pay you while you do it! When you get home, we can help you continue your education, if you qualify, with things like college credit for your military training, federal student loan programs, loan repayment programs, and the new Guard/Reserve G.I. Bill!

"What Do You Want From ME?"

Well, first you've got to qualify - mentally, physically, and morally. You've got to be 18 years old (or 17, with your parents' consent), and a high school graduate (or within nine months of graduation). Then we have to match your qualifications with our vacancies. When you leave for training, you'll be gone from the State of Maine for three months - maybe more. But you'll come home dressed in blue, proud of your accomplishments, and rarin' to go!

You'll participate with us one week-end a month, and fifteen days during the year. We'll pay you, and provide you with quite a benefits package, to boot!

THINK YOU CAN QUALIFY?

Call us and find out!

WE GUARD AMERICA'S SKIES!
