And the winner is . .

In only his second year as a teacher at John Bapst, he is an adviser for the Video Society, the "Crusader", and the Environmental Action Club. He is now preparing to direct his second school musical; his first, "My Fair Lady", was a big success. He has been an assistant coach for Cross Country and a distance coach for Spring Track since 1991, a year before he became a full-fledged teacher. He can be found at almost all sporting events and his relationship with students goes much further than the typical teacher/student relationship. He is an energetic teacher and he infuses his classes with his enthusiasm for the subject and learning in general. He is also a die-hard SEINFELD fan. Not that there's anything wrong with that. Thanks, Mr. Hews. You do make a difference.

Editor's Note

The distribution of this book marks the end of an era. As we prepare for our departure from John Baptist Memorial High School we can use this book to help remind us of the memories that will last a lifetime. For the past four years, together we have sat through classes, crammed for tests, listened during assemblies, chanted during pep rallies, and taken part in extracurricular activities. As you leave high school try to remember the good times, not the bad. Do not forget all the friends we have made, and all the times we have spent together.

We all share something very important in common, and on June 5, 1994, as we go our separate ways, these experiences will bind us. Hopefully this book, filled with faces, will keep alive the past four years, and we will realize how important to us they have been.

It has been a long four years but it is hard to believe they are already over. We would like to thank all of our teachers for the incredible amount of time and effort they have given to us, but more importantly classmates who have made the past four years so great. We have worked hard to try to create a book which you would enjoy, and hope we have succeeded. Best of luck to all our classmates, and may everyone succeed to the best of their ability. It's been real!

A close-up photograph of a stone corner, likely part of a building's foundation or a monument. The stone is light-colored with some weathering and discoloration. A Latin inscription is carved into the stone, reading "ANNO DOMINI" on the first line and "MCMXXVII" on the second line. The text is slightly faded and the stone has a rough texture.

A TOUCH OF LOVE

You were six months old and full of fun
With a blink of my eye, you were suddenly one.
There were so many things we were going to do,
But I turned my head and you turned two.
At two you were very dependent on me,
But independence took over when you turned three.
Your third birthday, another year I tried to ignore,
But when I lit the candles, there weren't three, but four.
Four was the year that you really strived.
Why, look at you now, you're already five.
Now you are ready for books and for rules.
This is the year that you go to school.
The big day came, you were anxious to go.
We walked to the bus, going oh, so slow.
As you climbed aboard and waved goodbye,
I felt a lump in my throat and tears stung my eyes.
Time goes so fast, it's hard to believe
That just yesterday you were home here with me.
And tomorrow when the bus brings you home
and you jump to the ground,
You'll be wearing your cap and graduation gown.
So I'm holding to these moments as hard as I can,
Because the next time I look, I'll be seeing a man.

By Cindy Zelinski

Mark, I'll Love You Forever, Mom

GRANDSONS

Pockets filled with this and that,
A cuff all frayed and torn,
A pair of faded blue jeans;
Shoes that are scuffed and worn.

Riding bikes and whistling,
Fishing with a pole,
It takes all these and other things,
To make a boy feel whole.

Football, basketball and camping
Hikes round out their days,
They're growing up and you can see,
Them change in many ways.

Then one day they tower,
A head taller than you;
Suddenly the boy is gone,
And a man walks into view.

Congratulations, Mark
